CONGRESS QUIET, SEETHES IN DEEPS

Apparently Harmonious Opening of Session Conceals Many Hands Itching to Muss Up Machinery.

BATTLE TOCSIN TODAY.

Reading of Taft's Message Will Be Trumpet Call to Insurgents to Go Into Action for Blood.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Peering fearfully into the political future, congress started at noon today upon its way. With fine disregard for superstition, the senate sat in session for thirteen minutes. The house occupied forty minutes in the consideration of perfunctory matters, and then adjourned.

There was nothing interesting in the assembling in its first regular session of the greatest legislative body in the world. In the senate everything was cut and dried. In the house Mr. Cannon received a burst of applause from his supporters upon the floor, and none from the insurgents and Democrats, and none from the galleries. He had no difficulty in quelling the greeting. It stopped at the first blow of his gavel.

And while the routine was running its usual course with no signs of friction there were men on the floors of the two houses who had their pockets filled with sand ready to drop it at an opportune moment into the machinery that apparently was moving so noiselessly.

And at the White house there were conferences in progress between the president and members of the old guard of the senate and house as to the program of legislation which would be faced, and which would serve the Republican party as the basis for an appeal to the people for continuance in power.

What the Program Contemplates.

That program still is in a tentative form. So far as can be learned, however, it contemplates:

Interstate commerce legislation.

Postal savings bank legislation.

Reorganization of certain administrative departments of the government.

Economy in expenditures.

Anti-injunction legislation.

Reform of the judiciary.

Conservation of the natural resources of the country and modified development of waterways.

Enact legislation along the above lines, not radical, mind you, but sane and in the interest of the people and property, the president has been assured, and the party's success next fall is certain.

The insurgent faction is not so sure. They believe in the above. But, they ask, how far will the legislation contemplated go? And they want also, and they are pestiferous about it:

Abolition of Aldrichism and Cannonism, which means the removal of the party from the men at present controlling it.

Reform in the rules of the house of representatives.

Trust Legislation Wanted Now.

And then there are regular Republicans as well as insurgents who do not purpose to wait for the Supreme court to hand down decisions in the tobacco and Standard Oil trust cases before framing legislation to deal with combinations of capital and labor. They want this legislation now.

The president has announced his intention to do his part toward securing adequate legislation. His annual message will be read in the two houses tomorrow. It will be followed by other messages, which will relate to interstate commerce, conservation, and modifications of the anti-trust law.

One in reference to the railroad rate question is now in course of preparation. It was discussed at a long conference this afternoon between the president, Attorney General Wickersham, and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel. It had been expected by the administration that the Supreme court would hand down today a decision in what are known as the Willamette rate cases, and that this decision would establish various principles in connection with interstate traffic which would guide the chief executive in his recommendations in reference to changes to be made in the law. But the Supreme court merely remanded the cases to the lower courts with directions to proceed with their determination in conformity with law. At least a year will roll around before these cases again reach the Supreme court.

Taft Hoped Court Would Act.

So the president has to act without further light from the highest judicial tribunal in the land. It is said he regrets this fact because, had the decision been rendered it might have operated to force the conservatives to make a longer step forward and the insurgents to refrain from insisting upon the radical action they contemplate. Now he intends to carry out the suggestions he outlined in his speech at Des Moines in October that Attorney General Wickersham explained later at Kansas City.

He knows there will be opposition. His commerce court will be attacked. His proposition in reference to governmental supervision of future issues of stocks and bonds does not go far enough for the insurgents. Senator Cummins of Iowa is quoted tonight as voicing dissent to the president's plan. He intends to introduce a comprehensive bill conferring upon the interstate commerce commission power to make and publish freight rates which shall be binding on all interstate carriers. He has prepared a clause in relation to supervision of issues of stocks and bonds which he declares really supervises. Senator Dolliver of Iowa also has a bill. There are others equally armed.

No Attack on Taft Personally.

That there will be an attack upon the administration bill is evident. But the president personally will not be assailed. The insurgents will refrain from any such tactics.

There will be no change in the standpat leadership in the house. In the senate something of the kind is promised. Senator Aldrich will retire from the limelight, and Senator Hale of Maine will take his place. The change is one of degre and not of kind. Mr. Hale is as ardent a standpatter as any one in the two houses. He feels, however, that as most of the matters which will come up to session must be considered by committees of which he is either chairman or a member, he ought to have control of them.

CITY THE WORKER; OTHERS GET TAXES

Mayor in Message to Council Urges "More Duties for the Park Commissioners."

FEES NOW PAY DEFICIT.

Busse Shows Municipality Performs 80 Per Cent of the Duties and Draws 28 Per Cent of Revenue.

Mayor Busse told the council and through it the people of Chicago last night that the city does not receive a fair share of the taxes assessed on property within the city limits.

In a special communication to the council recommending that the municipal government unload the burden and expense of maintaining the small parks, playgrounds, and bathing beaches upon the park commissions, he called attention to the fact that the city gets only 28 per cent of the taxes collected and does about 80 per cent of the work that the public ever sees or hears about.

The amount of taxes received by the city to pay its running expenses in 1908 was over $600,000 less than the actual cost of maintaining the police and fire departments alone, and the other $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 which must be spent for lighting the city, cleaning and repairing the streets, and maintenance of other departments, comes from license fees, not a dollar of which comes directly from the taxpayer.

Gives Facts to Citizens.

Mayor Busse believes that the average citizen does not understand where the taxes go, and he explains it as follows:

"The average citizen thinks that practically all of his tax money is spent by the 'city hall.' He thinks so, probably, because the functions and activities of the 'city hall' are closer to him, are more directly under his personal observation, than are the functions and activities of the other governmental agencies which receive and spend a share of his tax money. Whenever his taxes are increased he roars in wrath against 'extravagance in the city hall' and against 'a constantly growing tax bill with nothing to show for it.' And his misunderstanding of the facts is encouraged by persons and agencies that ought to know better.

"In other words, the city receives about 28 per cent of the taxes which the people pay; it does about 80 per cent of all the work that the public ever sees or hears about, and it has to stand fully 99.99 per cent of the criticisms and complaints of how the tax money is expended.

Shows the City's Share.

"Out of every $100 of taxes levied and collected within the city limits this year the city receives only $28.086. The remainder is divided as follows:

To the schools	$33.9606
To the state	6.5336
To the county	10.5861
To the sanitary district	8.8877
To the parks	11.3711
Miscellaneous	.5754
Total	$71.9135

"As a matter of cold fact, the city does not receive enough of the people's tax money to pay the ordinary running expenses of the police and fire departments, to say nothing of the $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 that must be spent on street lighting, health department, public works, finance department, board of local improvements, election commissioners, and other departmental works.

"In 1908 the city's share of taxes for all corporate purposes—for paying the running expenses of the city—was only $8,062,957.89.

"In that same year the ordinary running expenses of the police and fire departments, not counting construction and permanent improvements, was $5,704,012.46 for the police and $2,077,106.69 for the fire department, or a total of $8,681,119.51.

License Fees Pay Difference.

"Therefore, ordinary maintenance of the police and fire departments in 1908 cost $618,161.26 more than the city received from taxes, leaving that deficiency and all other municipal expense to be paid out of receipts from licenses, etc., not a dollar of which came directly from the taxpayers.

"This is a good time and place to remind the taxpayer of one other vital fact in local finance—namely; the increase in his tax bills in recent years has not been due to 'extravagance in the city hall' and the increased taxes he has paid have not gone into the city treasury.

"In a city the size of Chicago the revenue for support of the city government should increase certainly in proportion to the increase of population and there is ground for saying it should increase in greater proportion. One will see the truth of this if he will but pause a moment to consider the increased expenditure necessitated—the absolutely new demands created—by the congested population of a very large city as compared with a small city. Now consider our experience.

All But City Show Gain.

"The city of Chicago is the only taxing body, with tax levying powers within the city limits, whose revenue from taxation has not increased in proportion to the increase in population.

"The revenue of every other taxing body that makes a levy in Chicago has increased from 5 per cent to 344 per cent more than population has increased.

"For the purposes of this comparison I have taken the fourteen year period from 1895 to 1908, inclusive, because all the statistics are complete for those years. During this 1895-1908 period the population of Chicago has increased 58 per cent. During the same period the city's receipts from taxation have increased only 52 per cent. During the same period the other taxing bodies have enjoyed an increase in revenue from taxation within the city limits as follows:

Schools	63 per cent
State	80 per cent
County	100 per cent
Lincoln park board	137 per cent
West park board	148 per cent
South park board	344 per cent

District's Receipts Drop.

"The sanitary district's receipts must be considered a little differently. From 1895 to 188 its receipts from taxation varied but little. In 1900, the year the water was turned into the completed channel, its receipts dropped, by operation of the state law, to a point 62 per cent below the 1895 level.

"During 1903, 1904, and 1905 the sanitary

PHENIX HEAD SHY MILLION?

George P. Sheldon Charged with Gross Irregularities.

JEROME MAY PROSECUTE.

Insurance Directors Also Blamed; Gray New President.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The directors of the Phenix Insurance company, a $1,500,000 Brooklyn fire insurance concern with offices in Manhattan, removed from office today, at the instance of the insurance department, George P. Sheldon, who had been president of the company for twenty-five years.

The department believes the company has lost a million of its $13,000,000 surplus under his management, and accuses him of speculating with the funds of the company, maintaining a speculative margin in its name, putting up its assets as collateral, drawing on its account in the brokerage office, and converting the proceeds of the draft to his own use.

Sheldon has been sick at his home in Greenwich, Conn., for several months, and his condition now is said to be dangerous. He is suffering from myocarditis—an inflammation of the muscular tissues of the heart.

The company is accused of making false reports to the department for the last ten years and of lending its money, in violation of the law, to President Sheldon and Secretary Charles F. Koster.

Supt. W. H. Hotchkiss of the insurance department has called District Attorney Jerome's attention to the case.

Gray Is New President.

The directors chose today as president in place of Sheldon, E. W. T. Gray, who has been auditor of the Continental Insurance company, and elected Henry Evans, president of the Continental, a director of the Phenix, and chairman of the executive committee of the board.

Supt. Hotchkiss says no evidence has been discovered that the securities of the Phenix are not now intact, although some of them were not in the company's vaults when the examination began in October, and no evidence has been found that the assets have been so depleted that the public which holds its policies need be much concerned.

Whether or not the capital is impaired has not yet been determined. The stock is $50 par. The last quotation was $250 bid, $270 asked.

The directors who permitted Sheldon to run the company are held by the department to be equally responsible to the public. The present directors are: George Ingraham, vice president; Charles F. Koster, secretary, who is accused of borrowing money from the company; John Cartledge, E. C. Converse, B. J. Greenhut, George H. Harden, Frank J. Logan, and William J. Logan.

Loaned Cash to Officials.

It also appears that the company used to loan money to insurance officials. Supt. "Jim" Pierce borrowed $39,500, some of which was not repaid until after his death; Chief Examiner Isaac Vanderpoel borrowed $100,000; Deputy Superintendent Robert H. Hunter, $60,000, and Third Deputy Superintendent William H. Buckley, $61,000. The loan to Hunter still shows $18,000 loss. Mr. Hotchkiss comments that for twenty-two years, and in all the time these men were in office, the company was not examined by the department.

Mr. Hotchkiss gave out a statement today saying that the examination of the company, begun by his department early in October, "has shown the existence of such conditions as seem to require action by the criminal authorities as well as a general statement to the public preliminary to the regular official report."

The Statement's Charges.

The statement says in part:

"Facts developed by the examination might be stated to demonstrate the statement that the Phenix Insurance company, in its financial operations, was really George P. Sheldon, and that the directors of the company seemingly never have objected to his operations or properly exercised their functions in this respect.

"Discoveries made thus far warrant the following statements:

"First—That each of the annual reports made to the New York insurance department during at least the last ten years, and probably for a longer period, is false in more than one particular.

"Second—That the assets of the company, which President Sheldon did not wish to report, because of their questionable value, in particular certain assets which he originally sold to the company, have year by year at annual statement time—that is, Dec. 31—passed through what were designated by one of the directors as 'wash sales,' with the result that instead of such securities being reported as assets other securities of approximately the same value as the questionable securities have appeared therein.

"Third—That, acting under the authority of a resolution, the above mentioned President Sheldon has for years maintained in at least one brokerage house a speculative margin account in the name of the company, using the assets of the company as collateral to his operations in such account.

Used Drafts for Himself.

"Fourth—That drafts on such brokerage account, drawn by him as president, have been converted to his own personal use, the aggregate of such drafts being a considerable amount.

"Fifth—That section 16 of the insurance law has been violated by reason of the fact that loans have been made by this company since the amendatory act of 1906 to both President Sheldon and Secretary Koster. The aggregate of such loans to President Sheldon during the period is upward of $136,000, and to Koster $7,500.

"Sixth—That President Sheldon also for some years has overdrawn his salary account, and that the same is now paid to Oct. 1, 1910.

"Seventh—That while the investigation of some of Sheldon's operations is by no means completed, the developments thus far reveal conditions which in the judgment of the department should have put the financial institutions and brokerage houses in which he operated on inquiry, and may make it possible for the company to recoup some of its losses through such operations.

"From information now in hand the department believes that a charge of $1,000,000 will be sufficient to balance the losses due to the transactions and operations above outlined. If so there still will be, on the basis of the annual statement of Dec. 31 last, a surplus to policy holders of $1,500,000."

WOULD HE GET SPANKED THEN?

Baby May Be Adopted by Grandparents, Which Would Make Him Own Father's Brother.

If Joseph Waldo Dux Jr., 7 months old, is adopted by his grandfather he will legally become his own father's brother.

A petition was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by Joseph Dux, an architectural sculptor, of 2208 Campbell Park and his wife, grandparents of the child. They ask leave to adopt him as their own because of their love and affection for him.

The boy's father, who would become his son's legal brother, lives at 2208 Campbell Park also. The boy's mother is dead.

VASSAR GIRL KILLS HERSELF

Body of Pastor's Daughter Is Found in Cistern Near Home.

ILL HEALTH WAS CAUSE.

Death Occurs While Many Seek Young Woman Who Disappeared.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—With the finding of the body of Miss Marguerite Douerty, a Vassar student, in a cistern holding twelve feet of water in her father's yard, at Hughsonville, today, the mystery that had stirred the whole region was cleared up.

Miss Douerty, who was the daughter of the Rev. William H. Douerty, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Hughsonville, left her home early Sunday afternoon, telling her mother she was going for a walk. She wore a sweater and no hat. When she did not return in two hours, her father sent out an alarm and all sorts of fears seized the people of the hamlet. Nearly everybody in the place turned out to search for her.

Along the streams, over the fields, and through the woods and swamps the search was kept up all night and today. Bloodhounds traced the girl to a place in Fishkill road, about two miles from her home. They lost the trail and it was found she had retraced her steps carefully back to her home. Mrs. James Smith, who lived by the road where the girl stopped, says she saw her standing in the road on Sunday afternoon, as if pondering where to go next.

Body Found by Detective.

This afternoon Detective James Young of this city, after searching since Sunday, was about to give up the work. The Rev. Mr. Douerty begged him to continue.

The detective mentioned the cistern, but the girl's father said he already had looked into it and felt sure she was not there. The house was searched from top to bottom and with the almost distracted father still declaring she could not be in the cistern, the detective insisted upon another investigation. Putting down a pole he found the body on the bottom.

The clergyman and his wife were made almost insane by the discovery. They admitted that of late the girl had not been well, and that considerable concern had been felt for her, although it was expected that nothing serious would happen.

The story that Miss Douerty had been compelled to leave Vassar college because of nervous prostration brought on by overwork was vigorously denied at Vassar today. Miss Douerty entered Vassar last June and remained until October, when her father took her home.

Left School When Homesick.

Dr. Elizabeth Thalberg, the physician at the college, said today:

"Miss Douerty was simply homesick and nothing more, so far as anybody here could tell. That was all she complained of. She had no trouble with her studies in any way and her work had nothing whatever to do with her leaving. She did not live on the campus at all, but boarded with a private family on College avenue. It is no new thing for a girl to become homesick and want to go home so badly that her parents take her away."

Miss Douerty was attractive both in person and intellect. She was a favorite with her friends. Although just past 18, she passed for a girl of 16, she was so petite and youthful. She looked forward to her college career and it was expected by all of her friends that she would return after she recovered."

DENEEN, IN CALL, ASKS MUSEUM SITE

Governor in Summoning Special Session Urges Submerged Land Grant to End Dispute.

WORK AHEAD; 24 ACTS.

Message Tackles Primary, Waterway, Mine Bill, Employers' Liability, Subway, and Harbor.

Gov. Deneen has ordered out the Forty-sixth general assembly of Illinois for duty. He issued the official call last night for the members to assemble at Springfield Dec. 14—next Tuesday. He submits twenty-four separate and distinct propositions to them.

Of great local interest is proposition No. 22, which in brief is an official suggestion by the governor of a definite plan to sever the Gordian knot in the Field museum case. Favorable action will mean the discomfiture of A. Montgomery Ward, when everlasting victory appeared in his grasp.

Gov. Deneen proposes that the museum be granted title to sufficient of the submerged lands of Lake Michigan adjacent to the city of Chicago "upon which to construct and maintain a museum of natural history."

If the legislature acts favorably upon the proposal it would be possible to build the museum within the time limit specified by the will of Marshall Field, on land lying between Randolph street and Park row, the boundaries of Grant park.

Takes Up Big Questions.

In addition to the plan disposing of the museum question, the governor demands legislation from the general assembly which will furnish among other things:

A primary law.

A deep waterway act.

A commission form of government.

A protection of the coal mines.

A chance for a Chicago subway.

A Chicago harbor plan.

Investigation of the express companies doing business in Illinois.

By the governor's call for subway legislation renewed impetus is given Chicago's plans for underground transportation.

Failure of the charter legislation and of a series of bills which were heartily indorsed by the Chicago municipal administration at the regular session put a terrific damper upon subway building.

The way now opens for a fresh start in the fight at Springfield for such legislation as is held to be necessary before any steps can be taken whatever.

In the message which he will transmit to the legislature the governor, for practical purposes, reopens the regular session, which went to smash last spring, having elected William Lorimer to the United States senate.

The governor hurls a bomb of impressive dimensions into the ranks of the politicians, who have figured upon a ladylike agreement over a deep waterway bill and something about a primary law.

Points in the Governor's Call.

The twenty-four points which Gov. Deneen specifies in his call follow:

1. To enact a primary election law governing nominations made by political parties.

2. To enact a corrupt practices act governing caucuses and primaries by political parties and elections.

3. To amend the act in relation to boards of election commissions in cities with respect to the manner of appointment of judges and clerks, and to amend said act with reference to registration for special elections and for judicial elections, and in other respects.

4. To enact legislation concerning the construction of a deep waterway and the development of water power between Lockport and Utica and to issue bonds in payment therefor.

5. To make an appropriation for defraying all the costs and expenses of appealing the case of Charles S. Deneen, governor of the state of Illinois, versus the Economy Light and Power company, to the Supreme court of the United States.

Urges Harbor Improvement.

6. To authorize harbor and dock improvement and the construction of all proper appurtenances or accessories thereto, including terminal facilities, and including the right to use or reclaim lands under the public waters of this state for such purposes.

7. To consider an act upon a proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States of America submitted by the congress of the United States to the several legislators with reference to a federal income tax.

8. To enact legislation authorizing cities, villages, and incorporated towns of this state to adopt the "commission form of government."

9. To authorize cities to construct, maintain, and operate subways and to control and regulate their use.

10. To enact a law providing for suitable fire fighting equipment to be installed at or in all coal mines; to provide that all stables in and about coal mines shall be established above ground, or made fireproof with cement or other material if stationed below; to enact laws requiring that a designated area about the bottom of all coal mine shafts shall be made fireproof and safe for operative miners who may be entrapped, and that slopes and drifts shall be properly protected.

11. To make an appropriation for the relief of the sufferers from the disaster at the mine at Cherry, Ill.

Liability of Employers.

12. To enact a law authorizing the appointment of a commission to consider the subject of employers' liability to workmen injured in the course of their employment and to appropriate money for the expenses of such commission.

13. To amend the act in relation to charities so as to provide that the salary fund shall be placed in the hands of the managing officers of the several institutions not later than the first of the month, and further to amend said act so as to provide that moneys received from the sale of manufactured articles, and of farm products, and of other articles shall be placed in a separate fund and appropriated to the board of administration for the benefit of the charitable institutions of the state.

14. To amend the act creating the commission on occupational diseases.

15. To amend the act to create sanitary districts in certain localities and to drain and protect the same from overflow for sanitary purposes, so as to change the date upon which the board of trustees shall certify to the county clerk the total amount of all taxable property lying within the corporate limits of such district within the county.

16. To authorize the governor to appoint a commission to revise the act in relation to the practice in courts of record and to make an appropriation for the expenses of such commission.

Asks Building Law Board.

17. To appoint a commission to revise the building laws and to make an appropriation for the expenses of such commission.

18. To amend the act in relation to libraries so as to provide that the annual library tax in cities having a population of 1,500 or over shall not be included in the aggregate amount of taxes as limited by the general cities and villages act.

19. To authorize payment for the services of judges, clerks, and other officials who served at primary elections prior to the decision of the Supreme court invalidating the primary election law of 1908.

20. To appropriate money for the purpose of enabling the railroad and warehouse commission to conduct an investigation regarding the fairness of charges by the express companies of this state for the transportation of merchandise.

21. To amend the law with relation to fishing in Lake Michigan.

22. To grant to the Field Museum of Natural History title to sufficient of the submerged lands of Lake Michigan adjacent to the city of Chicago upon which to construct and maintain a museum of natural history.

23. To extend the provisions of the act authorizing cities of 100,000 population and under to construct outlet sewers to all cities, villages, and incorporated towns of the state.

24. To make an appropriation defraying the expenses of this extra session.

Hanecy Discusses Plan.

Proposition No. 22, dealing with the museum site, proved a bomb in the A. Montgomery Ward ranks, and former Judge Elbridge Hanecy, of counsel for Mr. Ward, issued a statement insisting that action by the legislature would not stand nor affect his client's rights in the matter, and that Grant park, no matter how extended, would be free of buildings.

"The present harbor line has been fixed by the United States government," said he, "and it would make no difference if it was changed again, so far as Mr. Ward's rights are concerned, as fixed by the Illinois Supreme court. If land is added to the park the same regulations will lie, extending to the waters of Lake Michigan. And if these submerged lands were made into an island the decision would still stand. There is an old legal axiom that an indirect attempt to achieve what is directly prohibited will not stand.

"Exactly the same argument was used in the first suit of Ward against the city when the park ran only to the Illinois Central tracks. At that time the state appropriated money to build an armory on the made land east of the railroad, but the courts held it was included in the original proposition. And this submerged land is the same proposition exactly."

Says It Solves the Problem.

An opposing view was voiced by John Barton Payne, who has represented the south park commissioners in the long litigation with Mr. Ward. He expressed his confidence in the solution of the matter and victory for the park board.

"There is no question but that Grant park's limits are fixed as they now exist," he said. "The Supreme court's decision could not and did not go further and declare that land belonging to the state and now submerged was applicable. The movement has been under way for some time, and if the legislature follows Gov. Deneen's recommendations the people will have the Field museum in relatively the same site as intended."

As the situation stands at present, the trustees of the museum are barred from a lake front site by the decision of the Supreme court in the Montgomery Ward case.

About two years remain before the $8,000,000 bequest of Marshall Field lapses, and it is the expectation of the museum trustees that the extra session may be able to furnish such a site from the submerged lands to which the state claims title which will permit the museum to be saved to Chicago.

Of the other questions included in the special session call, Gov. Deneen places the enacting of a primary election law first and foremost. Naturally he does not specify a "direct" primary law, but in the message which he will transmit next week the executive is to demand a substantial direct plurality primary act which will stand the test of the state Supreme court.

The bills as outlined by State Senator Walter Clyde Jones are believed to represent the main ideas of Gov. Deneen as to what shall constitute substantial primary legislation.

In his message on this point the governor also will make public the correspondence between himself and the Supreme court as to what constitutes a constitutional primary law in Illinois.

Corrupt Practices Act.

Coupled with the request for a primary law is the recommendation that there be a satisfactory corrupt practices act which will apply equally to primaries and to general elections. This recommendation undoubtedly is an outgrowth of the scandals which arose from the Healy-Wayman contest over the Republican nomination for state's attorney last year.

In the same category comes the recommendation for changes in the general election laws covering the authority of the board of election commissioners over judges and clerks of election and providing for a cure in the system of registration in the cities where it has been shown to the satisfaction of experts that the registration law as it stands is unconstitutional, as is noted in the recent dispute between he election commissioners and the county clerk over the nominations for congress and for the legislature in the late west side special elections.

Deneen Asks Results.

The second big feature of the call affects the deep waterway link between Lockport and Utica for which the state already has authorized a bond issue of $20,000,000. In a dispute over the methods of expending the $20,000,000, the legislature tightened into a deadlock last winter, and at 5 o'clock in the morning quit business, with Gov. Deneen on one side and Senator Lorimer on the other, unable to reach an agreement over the form the legislation should take. Gov. Deneen asks for definite results from the extra session.

The governor's request for a specific appropriation to appeal the case of the state against the Economy Light and Power company to the Supreme court of the United States, is the result of the Dresden Heights dam dispute in which the Supreme court of Illinois ruled against the state.

The governor holds, and will so state in his message, that the removal of the dam is essential to the deep waterway, and he will suggest that it is necessary that the high court be called upon for final judgment.

Hot Fight Anticipated.

Contrary to expectations the governor inserts in the call the proposition of an amendment to the federal constitution concerning the income tax. The position of Illinois, it is held, may determine the fate of the proposed amendment, and this proposition in itself is likely to precipitate a tight fight at Springfield.

The subject of the commission form of government is an essential part of the extra session call. Twenty cities, through representatives at Peoria in the early fall, made strong demand for legislation which would permit cities to adopt such system of municipal government.

An option bill was killed at the regular session in the house committee on municipal corporations. Strong demand has been made upon the governor for the inclusion of a demand for a similar measure in his extra session proclamation.

The Cherry mine disaster is the direct cause of the four specific requests in the call for remedial mine legislation.

The suggested commission to revise the practice act is inserted at the request of the State Bar association and the Chicago Bar association. Practice act measures failed lamentably last winter to hurdle the politics of the session.

The sections in the governor's call relating to the management of the state institutions have to do with friction which has arisen in the working of the law which was adopted by the regular session providing for a state board of administration. It is the wish of the state institutions that the finance which they provide within themselves be retained for their own benefit rather than that it be turned into the general fund.

Another point provides for legislation which will permit state institution employés to draw their pay as soon as they have earned it rather than to wait for the routine of the red tape which the law as it stands necessitates.

The governor wants the building laws of the state revised, just as he recommended in his last biennial message, and which the legislature passed over with disdain.

Fishermen Suffer Hardship.

The proposition regarding fishing laws in Lake Michigan has to do with local requirements which are not in harmony with the laws of Wisconsin and Michigan and which are working hardship upon Illinois fishermen. The request as to levee districts deals with a bad situation which has developed in connection with the $6,000,000 levee district which is being constructed along the river front at East St. Louis.

The governor asks for an appropriation to enable the railroad and warehouse commission to proceed with an investigation of express rates in the state, which he asked for last winter and didn't get. He also asks for legislation which will permit municipalities of less than 1,500 inhabitants to secure public libraries by taxation.

As soon as the governor had issued his call he hurried to the train and started for Washington to attend the national rivers and harbors congress.

FIVE PRIMARY BILLS FRAMED; THREE ARE FOR DIRECT VOTE.

Senator W. C. Jones, Floor Leader of Administration, Is Author and Believes Measures Are "Court Proof."

Five separate and distinct primary bills, three of which are clean cut direct primary measures, have been prepared by Senator Walter Clyde Jones, floor leader of the administration forces in the state senate.

They will be ready for introduction at Springfield next Tuesday at the beginning of the extraordinary session of the Illinois legislature.

It is the belief of Senator Jones and of a group of senators who have been working over the dead and gone primary laws of the state that an invulnerable direct primary law which will cover the entire state can and will be enacted. The five bills as prepared are believed by the Hyde Park senator to be Supreme court proof.

Three for Direct Vote.

Bill No. 1 provides direct primary nominations for all state, county, congressional, senatorial, and other offices, except representatives in the general assembly and city and village offices. This bill does not apply to township or school officials. It does apply to sanitary district officers, members of the board of review, and board of assessors.

Bill No. 2 provides for direct primary nominations for members of the general assembly.

Bill No. 3 provides for direct nominations for city and village officers, mandatory upon all cities of 5,000 population or over, and optional as to other cities and villages.

Bill No. 4 provides for nomination of city and village officers by petition, which is optional. A city, by adopting the petition plan of nomination, can take itself out from under the direct primary method.

Bill No. 5 provides for the nomination of judges by petition.

Think Bill "Court Proof."

Bill No. 2, relating to representatives in the general assembly, has been drawn in two forms. The first provides that the senatorial committee shall fix the number of candidates for the house of representatives which shall be nominated and that the voter may vote for one, two, or three candidates.

The second form provides that the senatorial committee shall recommend the number of candidates to be nominated and that the voter shall express his wish as to the recommendation of the senatorial committee, at the same time casting his cumulative vote as he desires, one, two, or three.

The sponsors of the bill believe that the two alternatives fully answer the objections of the Supreme court in the opinion by which the primary law of 1906 was knocked out.

It is the belief that the Supreme court did not object so seriously to the delegation of power to the senatorial committees to stipulate the number of candidates to be nominated as it did to the failure to permit the voter to express his sentiment on the one, two, three proposition.

Judicial Offices Included.

In bill No. 1 judicial offices are included, but it is the intention of Senator Jones to eliminate the judges from the direct primary proposition in case there is a disposition of the legislators to enact bill No. 5, which provides for the nomination of all judges by petition.

Bill No. 3 and bill No. 4 are complementary. The first fixes a direct primary as mandatory upon all cities of 5,000 population and greater. Bill No. 4 permits cities which come under this classification to adopt the petition method of nomination and withdrawal from the direct method by a referendum vote.

MICHIGAN LEADER IS DEAD.

Arthur Hill, Nearly Chosen as Republican Senator, Succumbs to Illness at Saginaw.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Arthur Hill, regent of the University of Michigan and one of the most prominent Republicans in Michigan, died here this afternoon, aged 61 years. Mr. Hill became a leader in party affairs in this state in 1907, when the legislature elected a successor to the late Senator Russell A. Alger.

His selection was assured when Gov. Fred M. Warner, who opposed Mr. Hill, issued a letter charging him with the use of money to further his senatorial ambition. This charge he vigorously denied. The legislature postponed an investigation and William Alden Smith was chosen senator.

A grand jury resulted from the governor's charge, but it adjourned without finding any proof or suspicion of guilt of the candidate, who returned from California to clear his name. The strenuous nature of the closing days in the senatorial fight undermined Hill's strength and his friends trace his death to these conditions.

Mr. Hill was worth many millions, his holdings in timber, ore, and Pacific coast steamship companies being extensive. One of the biggest deals in which he ever figured was the sale in 1893 of some lands in Minnesota to the Weyerhausers for several million dollars, the transaction being one of the largest of its kind up to that year.

OBITUARY.

NAHUM MALCOLM TRIBOU died yesterday morning at his home in La Grange, Ill., after an illness of eight months. Funeral services will be held in La Grange tomorrow afternoon, after which the body will be taken to Minneapolis for burial. Mr. Tribou was born in Mystic, Conn., on March 7, 1861. Coming west, he first located in Rockford, Ill., and in 1894 took charge of the credit department of Longley, Low & Alexander, afterward becoming general manager. He was one of the organizers of the Chicago Credit Men's association. He was actively interested in the organization of the Chicago Association of Commerce, was a member of its first ways and means committee, and chairman of its first house committee.

MRS. MARIA ANNA ERFURTH, 57 years old, South Chicago's pioneer woman, died at her home, 7636 Saginaw avenue, yesterday of paralysis of the brain. She had lived in South Chicago since 1864, when the place was known as Ainsworth Station. In 1872 she was married to Ernest Erfurth, who, with seven children, survives her. The children are Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. J. L. Moss, Mrs. J. Parmentier, and Alma, William, Edward, and Charles Erfurth. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence and interment will be at Oakwoods cemetery.

HORSES COMPETE AS IN OLD ROME

Scenes of Ancient Courses Recalled by Opening of Great Show Here.

CROWD HAS ITS VIEWS.

Audience Quick to Thunder Approval When the Judges' Verdict Suits.

Stand away a thousand years and look at the opening night of one of the greatest international horse shows and you have the replica of a famous arena scene where a son of Israel uncurled his lash, sent it purring out over the heads of his steeds, and whispered:

"What, ho! Aldebaran; on Antares; I hear them calling from the desert."

For it required no effort of the imagination in the big amphitheater at the stockyards to conjure a typical scene in a Roman arena. The temper of the crowd and its personnel were identical. A roar from 5,000 throats echoed back and forth when popular choices won.

The wearers of purple wore their purple and hesitated no more than did Roman royalty to display it before the populace. And while no event of importance attracted attention from the center of the arena those on the lower tiers and on the highest gazed curiously on the fortune favored.

Comments Reveal Difference.

Only when some shrill voice broke the stillness with, "There's Mrs. Potter Palmer; yes, that's her!" or a nasal drawl made a contribution with, "That there feller better take a day off and break that critter to halter," was the fancy of a duplicated Roman arena broken.

Opinions of the men and women in the boxes were seldom held by those who occupied less costly seats or stood on the ground about the tan bark oval.

Once early in the evening a contest for driving horses was on. Nine or ten were entered and the evidence was that the decision must be close. Ten thousand spectators held their breaths. The interest was tense. Finally the number of the winner went up on the big bulletin board.

Instantly there was a faint clapping of kid gloved hands in the circle of boxes. As quickly it was drowned by a roar that echoed around the amphitheater and followed as a surging wave the winner as it was driven around the circle to receive the customary plaudits.

Winners of the Evening.

Winners of the evening were:

Class 37—Ponies over 13 hands 3 inches and not exceeding 14 hands 1 inch, 3 years old or over—Won by Fairmont farm's b. g. Elegant Dilham, Frank Winterbotham driving.

Lord Minto, the property of George Pepper, ridden by Miss B. Schrader, won second honors, while Mr. Pepper's Merry Widow, with Miss Schrader up, won the third prize.

Society Makes Horse Show.

Society made a horse show to honor the thoroughbreds on the tanbark. The Saddle and Sirloin club caught large groups of dinner companies before the show. John A. Spoor was host to a large company of friends at the club, and later these guests were occupants of the three boxes he had engaged for the evening. In the company were Mrs. Potter Palmer, who stopped long enough in charity ball plans to attend the horses' party, Maj. John Graham Beresford, Lieut. T. Gerard Hetherington, Gen. and Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Field, Miss Katherine Winterbotham, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cramer, J. Burden of New York, Miss Lucy Blair, Frank B. Noyes, Mrs. J. Jackson, and Miss Ethel Forgan.

SAYS CIVIL SERVICE SHIELDS NO MAN

Reform Association Shows How. Police "Undesirables" May Be Ousted.

CHIEF CAN CHANGE RULES

Inspector Should Be Held to Account Same as Patrolman on His Beat.

That the civil service law in no way shields officials guilty of neglect of duty or disobedience to orders, but that it clearly states that any man may be discharged "for cause," is the declaration made by the Civil Service Reform association.

After a meeting of the officers and executive committee of the association at the Union League club last night the following statement was given out in regard to the present police situation:

"Expressions of opinion have been recently given wide currency that under the law it is extremely difficult to secure the discharge of persons in the classified service who are guilty of improper conduct, particularly in the police department, and the impression has arisen that this can only be done for gross misconduct, and after a formal trial, conducted strictly in accordance with technical rules as to procedure and evidence.

Points to the Law.

"The Civil Service Reform association deems it proper to show that it is not difficult under the law to discharge or discipline persons in the classified service guilty of improper conduct.

"The correctness of this view," the report continues, "is established by the decisions of the Supreme court, which lay down the doctrine that a hearing before the commissioners is not a criminal or civil proceeding, but an investigation.

"It has been held that acts not strictly in the line of duty, but 'unbecoming in a police officer,' justify the removal of such officer.

"It is within the power of the head of the police department to make and alter from time to time the rules governing his department and every person connected therewith. This is true of all other departments. This power is both elastic and comprehensive.

"For example, Chicago has a police rule which provides that when offenses occur frequently in any particular post, the patrolmen traveling such post will be presumed to be guilty of neglect of duty or inefficiency and treated accordingly.

"This rule easily can be extended to cover inspectors, captains, lieutenants, and sergeants, and if charges based upon such neglect of duty or inefficiency are brought before the civil service commission it is the duty of such commission to act upon such charge.

Duty of the Police Chief.

"If the chief of police finds that his orders are not obeyed, that any of his patrolmen and officers, from the inspectors down, are in league with law breakers, derelict in duty, or guilty of any other breach of the rules of the department, it is his duty to bring charges against the offenders, and the civil service commission has ample power to deal with such cases.

"The civil service commission is, by section 14 of the law, given power to make special investigations of the conduct and action of the appointees, and the nature of their duties; and to recommend improvements in the service, with power to administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers.

"If the trial boards and ordinary administrative machinery are found insufficient, the difficulty can be quickly located by the exercise of this power conferred by the law.

"It is, therefore, apparent that, under the law, the commissioners have the widest liberty in disciplining for misconduct, are not hampered by any technical requirements of procedure or proof, and are under no feeling of overrestraint, lest by reason of error of judgment their decision may be overthrown."

ROAD IS BLAMED FOR DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Recommends Better Signals for Elevated Road Switchmen.

A verdict which virtually holds the Chicago and Oak Park elevated responsible for the death of Alexander Currie, 28 years old, 215 North Forty-eighth court, was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday. Currie was a switchman, who was killed while uncoupling cars last Sunday night.

The jury recommended that better signals be given to switchmen.

Deputy Coroner Hartney said the recommendations would be sent to the road officials and prosecution would follow if they ignore them and a similar accident is reported.

$34,944,910 SPENT BY FIELD ESTATE

Second Report Shows Expenditures Exceed Receipts Since March, 1907.

$6,715,000 TO MUSEUM.

$671,216.88 Paid for Taxes and the Executors Get $1,002,690.77.

Account of all receipts, disbursements, and distributions of cash and property from March 1, 1907, to June 30, 1909, of the estate of the late Marshall Field has been submitted to the Probate court by the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, Chauncey Keep and Arthur B. Jones, executors.

It is known as the second report. A final one, as far as the courts are concerned, probably will be submitted later in the month.

The total receipts were $34,922,549.02 and the total expenditures were $34,944,910.71. This deficit, however, was replaced by cash overdrawn by the executors June 30, 1909.

$300,000 Executor Expenses.

The extent of the estate and the work connected with it resulted in expenditures for three years of $1,002,690.77 for executors' expenses. Of this the executors received $300,000 annually, while the employment of legal talent exhausted most of the remainder. Following the decision in the N. K. Fairbank estate by the Supreme court a docket fee of $75,000 was returned to the estate in March, 1908.

Among those who received money for legal services was Judge George A. Carpenter. He was given $5,000 as counsel for the estate prior to his election as judge.

Since the presentation of the first report, March 1, 1907, receipts of the executors' amounted to $15,077,878.52, including certain real estate designated in the will. The necessary disbursements, some small and others large, completely exhausted these millions and resulted in an overdraft of $597,482.69, which exceeded the balance in the hands of the executors by $22,361.09. This last item has been advanced by the residuary trustees of the estate.

$6,715,000 to Field Museum.

An item—the largest—which swelled the disbursement figures, was the disposing of $6,715,000 in cash and property to the Field museum subsequent to the first report. In this first report $1,100,000 was given to the institution.

In his will the late millionaire willed the museum $8,000,000, but in November, 1907, the Probate court directed that $185,000 be deducted from the legacy.

The personal property tax on the estate is shown to be enormous. During the years of 1906, 1907, and 1908 the estate yielded to Cook county for taxes approximately $671,216.88. The long standing unpaid taxes of 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, and 1905 were paid by the executors March 2, 1908, and amounted to $1,000,000.

Since the executors have assumed control over the estate stocks and bonds amounting to $11,696,208.83 have been sold and delivered, while real estate devised under the will and valued at $5,869,680 has been disposed of.

Sell Board of Trade Seat.

Among the stocks sold was the late millionaire's membership in the Chicago board of trade. It was disposed of for $1,675.

"The report is lengthy and very technical," said Attorney Buell McKeever. "The executors submitted one more than two years ago, and decided it was time to present a second. A third or final one will be filed later in the month, thus closing the estate, as far as the Probate court is concerned.

BURGLARS BLOW LAUNDRY SAFE IN SIGHT OF POLICE STATION.

Thieves Get $195 and Checks by Use of Nitroglycerin—Two North Side Men Beaten and Robbed by Thugs.

With an arc light burning brightly all night in the building, and within a stone's throw of the Town Hall police station, safeblowers forced an entrance to the offices of the Antiseptic Laundry company, 1000 Grace street, early yesterday morning, and after blowing open the safe with nitroglyycerin stole $195 and checks amounting to several hundred dollars.

The safeblowing was discovered by T. Henry Klein, 2014 Fremont street, the proprietor, when he opened the office yesterday morning. Lieut. George Hutchinson was asked about the robbery and said no such a thing had occurred. Residents of the neighborhood declare they heard the explosion.

John Schueler, 435 Newport avenue, and Herman Rose, 1286 Sedgwick street, the latter a saloonkeeper, were beaten into unconsciousness by robbers in the Chicago avenue police district early yesterday morning. Rose lost $35, and Schueler his watch.

THREE INJURED IN EXPLOSION.

Spontaneous Combustion of Naphtha Gas in Dye Works Damages Several Buildings.

Three persons were injured and property valued at $500 was destroyed last night by a spontaneous explosion of naphtha gas in the dye works of J. M. Delaney, 9047 Commercial avenue.

J. M. Delaney, owner of the place, was burned about the face and head. Lloyd Butler, 366 Ninety-second street, and Arthur Heald also were burned and cut with glass.

A number of other buildings in the vicinity were damaged.

SCORE ORGY; COUNCIL LISTENS

First Ward Statesmen Hear Resolutions Before Colleagues.

HINK SLIPS UNDER HIS SEAT.

Bathhouse Thinks Fiercely, but Is Quiet; Farwell Has "Indictment."

Ald. Coughlin (the bathhouse) and Kenna ("Hinky Dink") had an unhappy time of it for ten minutes last night when they were "bawled out" before the whole city council on account of their annual orgy planned to be pulled off at the Coliseum under the euphonious title of a "ball."

It was most "unprofessional conduct" on the part of the other aldermen to insist upon having two of their brothers put on the griddle publicly, but in spite of an attempt on the part of the "Bathhouse" to head it off, there was a general cry of "read it," when Clerk McGaffey announced "Resolutions from the Young Men's Association of Saints Peter and Paul church, protesting against a certain ball."

"File it," cried the beneficiary alderman of the First ward.

"Read it," shouted a dozen voices about the council chamber.

In response to the more urgent demand Mayor Busse instructed the clerk to read the resolutions, and while Kenna retired beneath his desk during the reading his brother alderman of the First looked as though he were trying to think of something sarcastic to say in reply. If he thought of anything he didn't say it.

Resolutions Are Caustic.

The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, On Dec. 13 at the Coliseum of the present year a repetition of the annual flaunting of Chicago's vicious elements for the profit of a few political factors is threatened in the so-called First ward ball;

"Whereas, The experience in past years, as testified to by persons who attended the saturnalia, has shown that unfortunate and vicious men and women of the so-called red light districts display their degradation in public to great injury to morals of others who go there because of ignorance, curiosity, or other reasons;

"Whereas, The First ward ball is notoriously reported to be the means of collecting illegal tribute from the lowest and most unfortunate denizens of vicious resorts and is a disgrace to all who, pretending to be respectable, encourage the saturnalia by attending it;

"Whereas, The mayor, the chief of police, and the city council are the only known agencies which can prevent the open flaunting of vice and crime, the notorious disregard of decency and defiant rebellion against law and order at the First ward ball;

"Injurious" and "Vicious."

"Whereas, There appears danger that in spite of the grave injurious results of the previous First ward balls and in spite of the outcry of the decent citizens of Chicago against the repetition of the vicious spectacles the saturnalia may proceed uninterrupted on Dec. 13 of this year;

"Resolved, That we appeal to the mayor, to the chief of police, and to the city council of the city of Chicago to enforce the laws which they have sworn upon their honor to enforce and in so doing to prevent the enactment of the disgraceful scenes which injure the good name and reputation of the city of Chicago and which are an insult to the Christian civilization and progress of modern time."

In a last effort to change the minds of the directors of the Coliseum and cause them to break the First ward ball lease and risk a $25,000 breach of contract suit with Coughlin and Kenna as the plaintiffs, President Arthur Burrage Farwell of the Law and Order league is preparing an indictment of iniquity.

Copies to the Directors.

Tomorrow each director will receive a copy of the work, and Mayor Busse and Chief of Police Steward also will be favored. It will comprise eight reports made by league officers who witnessed the scene of debauchery at the Coliseum last year, as well as the antebacchanalian correspondence Mr. Farwell had with the mayor and George M. Shippy, then police head.

"Do you think the ball promoters will hang their heads in shame and call off the ball?" Mr. Farwell was asked.

"Have you heard of 'Hinky Dink' or 'Bathhouse John' confessing their sins at the mourners' bench recently?" was the retort. "The ball is a living shame to the city which permits it and the officials who sanction it. It is up to the mayor, and if he is inactive, State's Attorney Wayman should act. If he refuses, Gov. Deneen should.

Threatens Prosecutions.

"We will have investigators at the Coliseum Monday night," Mr. Farwell continued, "and if their investigations and evidence will stand prosecutions, prosecutions there will be. We especially will watch for the presence of minors and see if the state statute making it a misdemeanor to permit their presence in halls where liquor is sold is a dead letter."

HOLD WOMAN A SWINDLER

Police Say Donna Seymour, Actress, Duped Her "Managers."

LONG WANTED IN CHICAGO.

Found at Hotel with Girls; Clifford S. Roe Looking Into Case.

Donna Seymour, an actress, theatrical manager, and alleged confidence woman, indicted by the May grand jury on a charge of operating a confidence game, was arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeants McGuire and Murningham. She is wanted, the police say, at Lowell, Mass., New York, Peoria, Ill., and other cities.

She was taken to the bureau of identification at the Harrison street station and photographed. Later she was taken to the Central station, where she was turned over o a deputy sheriff who took her to the county jail, from which she obtained her release later on bonds.

Say She Is a Swindler.

The woman, the police assert, has swindled many persons out of amounts ranging from $300 to $500 during the last five years. Her method of operation is to advertise in the newspapers for a man to act as "manager and treasurer" of a theatrical troupe, get him to put up all the money he wishes to risk and then disappear.

About a year ago William Exner, son of a north side saloonkeeper; Earl A. Warner, Marengo, Ill., a professional ball player, and three other men answered an advertisement inserted by the woman for a treasurer and manager. Exner put up $300, while the others gave $500 each.

The "company" broke up a week later.

Swore Out a Warrant.

Warner soon after arriving in Chicago took out a warrant for her arrest, charging her with operating a confidence game. She gave him several notes and a bulldog before he took out the warrant. When the case was put on trial at the Harrison street branch of the Municipal court she was found not guilty.

Exner later went before the May grand jury and had an indictment voted against her.

Detective McGuire learned that the woman was stopping at the La Salle hotel and that she arrived in Chicago Wednesday morning with two young women, daughters of wealthy Kansas City merchants. She had promised to get them on the stage, after they had met her through an advertisement in a Kansas City paper.

Detectives McGuire and Murningham went to the hotel and arrested her.

While she was being photographed the two girls were in the office of Clifford G. Roe, who is handling pandering cases, telling their experience with Mrs. Seymour.

They said that she had refused to aid them after they had appealed to her for funds. Mr. Roe is working on the case.

BANK ASSISTANT IS DEAD.

Herbert W. Brough, Department Manager of First National, a Victim of Pneumonia.

Herbert W. Brough, assistant manager of a department in the First National bank, died early yesterday morning of pneumonia at his residence in Hinsdale.

Mr. Brough was born in London, England, July 12, 1856, and came to Chicago in 1875. He began in the bank as a messenger boy. In 1887 he married Miss Nellie R. Harding.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Marrianne, and four sons, William P., John C., Stephen, and Lionel.

Funeral services will be held at All Souls' Unitarian church, Evanston, tomorrow at 1 p. m.

Miss Flowerse Grey · Miss Mildred Blair

The next society event to call out the folk to a public meeting place will be the play to be given by the Service club at the Ziegfeld tomorrow—the annual offering of the club for its charities, which are many.

The play—called "The Strategists" and evolved about an incident at a girls' boarding school, was written by Mrs. E. H. Garnett, one of the members of the club, and among the other young women who will take part either in the rôles in the dancing chorus—formed of the school girls of the institution—will be Miss Gladys Goodrich, Miss Margaret Billings, Miss Isabel Chandler, Miss Fannie Warner, Miss Marjorie Wilson, Miss Margaret Keep, Miss Theodosia Haskell, Miss Josephine Dubach, Miss Flowerse Grey, and Miss Mildred Blair.

DEVER, ASKED ABOUT 1911, COYLY SAYS HE WON'T DODGE.

Alderman Declares Any Democratic Leader Would Welcome Chance to Run for Mayor—The List to Date.

"Any Democratic leader will be very glad to have the Democratic nomination for mayor in 1911. I know of none of them who are dodging the opportunity."

Thus spoke Ald. William E. Dever last night, when he was asked what he thought about the way in which Col. James Hamilton Lewis had eliminated former Mayor Edward F. Dunne from the mayoralty race by suggesting that Mr. Dunne is not in the running.

Ald. Dever himself is a formidable candidate, so considered by the Seventeenth ward Democratic organization, and by the element which recognized his leadership in the council during the traction ordinance negotiations.

The entries for the Democratic nomination for the mayoralty at this juncture, semi or quite official, are as follows:

Col. James Hamilton Lewis—By telepathy.
Ald. William E. Dever—By inclination.
Andrew J. Graham—By the "organization."
Carter H. Harrison—By his loving friends.
John E. Traeger—By himself.
Edward F. Dunne—By reaction.

This list may be lengthened or diminished by developments in Democratic city and county politics which are upon the point of becoming deeply significant, if advance indications amount to anything.

RACES 6,500 MILES TO DYING BROTHER

Samuel Newhouse Speeding from Salt Lake City Through to Paris.

GOES EAST IN SPECIAL.

Train Has Right of Way Over Whole Railroad System to New York.

The dying brother of a Utah mine owner last night threw open the right of way over the Lake Shore railway system from Chicago to Buffalo for a special train to pass, and today, until Samuel Newhouse of Salt Lake City arrives in New York about 2:30 p. m., the New York Central will be in a similar predicament from Buffalo to the Grand Central station.

In order to rush the western man to Paris there is a possibility that all existing railway records between New York and Chicago—a few minutes more than sixteen hours—will be broken, but the schedule figured upon is seventeen hours.

Because of storms in the Rocky mountains west Mr. Newhouse missed the Twentieth Century limited by five and one-half hours, and, fearing he might miss the Lusitania, which sails from New York tomorrow morning, he ordered a special train from Chicago to New York by wire. In order to save every possible minute in the rush to his brother's bedside Mr. Newhouse expended more than $3,000 for a trip that would ordinarily cost from $70 to $100 for his valet and himself.

Hears Brother Is Dying.

It was about 10 o'clock Saturday morning when Mr. Newhouse, in the office building which bears his name in Salt Lake City, received a cablegram from Paris stating that his brother Mott, long agent for his gold and copper mining interests abroad, was dying and that he must start at once if he would see him alive. Mott Newhouse has been blind for more than a year and recently has been seized with a lingering illness, supposed to be a tubercular trouble, of which a still younger brother, Anselm, died in Denver three years ago.

Mr. Newhouse telephoned his valet to pack at once to catch the Los Angeles limited, which left Salt Lake City soon after noon over the Union Pacific and Northwestern lines. The train was three-quarters of an hour late and they caught it. But after entering Wyoming they ran into the blizzard which recently swept the west and steadily lost time. Sunday night on reaching Grand Island, Neb., nearly seven hours late Mr. Newhouse knew he could not catch the Twentieth Century limited, for accommodations on which he had wired from Salt Lake City. His train was due in Chicago at 11:59 a. m. and the Lake Shore flyer left two and one-half hours later.

Wires for Special Train.

Then it was he wired for a special train to be ready on his arrival to carry him to New York at all possible speed. He had some business to transact at New York, and if he awaited this morning's eighteen hour train he would have but half an hour between sailing time and his arrival in New York, and he feared to take the chance.

At 7:58 last night the Los Angeles limited pulled into the Northwestern station seven hours, fifty-seven minutes behind time. The special had been ready at the La Salle depot for two hours, but Mr. Newhouse had to go to the Congress hotel for mail and telegrams. Taxicabs and an auto baggage truck were in waiting and the start was made at once. At 8:31 Mr. Newhouse entered the La Salle station and two minutes later the special was under way for New York.

The best time made between Chicago and New York by the Lake Shore-New York Central lines is a little better than sixteen hours, and, if conditions are right, this time may be broken by the Newhouse special, but seventeen hours, or sixty minutes less than the Twentieth Century's time, is figured upon.

Special Train Costs $3,075.

To attain this the Utah magnate will expend at least $3,075 and $100 more if the seventeen hour schedule is broken. The special train cost him 100 fares, or $1,825; the private car $150 more, and the excess fare of $1 an hour for each hour under twenty-eight for each of the 100 tickets represents $1,100 more to enable Mr. Newhouse and his valet to be sure of sailing on the Lusitania tomorrow morning.

Mr. Newhouse will step from his train to the Grand Central platform in New York today between 1:30 and 2:30 p. m., and he will then have traveled about 2,500 miles in practically sixty hours. There remains the 3,540 mile voyage to Liverpool, the journey to London and to Dover, the channel passage, and the railway ride to Paris, but a week from today or tomorrow, barring accident, will land the mining man at his brother's bedside after traveling more than 6,500 miles.

Quality
Talking of short line suits and overcoats again, these odd sizes play the very deuce with a stock. It's too late to match in and it's really too early to take the profit off. But here I am with certain styles of suits and overcoats (they're really the most desirable I had this season, otherwise the selling wouldn't have been so heavy)—and seems to me the best thing to do is to do something to reduce 'em now and take $20 for $25 qualities,
$25 for $30-40 grades.

CHINA IS PLEASED TO GREET CALHOUN

Officials at Peking Will Welcome Chicagoan as Minister from America.

ATTEMPT TO SLUR KNOX.

Attacks on Selection Are Credited to Friends of Charles R. Crane.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—"China has received with pleasure the proposal of the United States to station William J. Calhoun of Illinois at Peking as the minister of the United States."

This is the paraphrase of a dispatch which Secretary of State Knox received today from Henry P. Fletcher, the American chargé d'affaires in the Chinese capital.

It was in response to a message sent Saturday night by Mr. Knox directing Mr. Fletcher to acquaint the celestial government with the selection of the Chicago lawyer and express the hope that it would be received with gratification. The Chinese authorities were given the full details as to Mr. Calhoun's career and the view of the president that he would make an excellent agent for the transaction of business between the two countries.

Senate Soon to Act.

Thus all the preliminaries to the appointment of Mr. Calhoun have been arranged. His nomination will go to the senate in a few days. It will be accompanied by others, including that of Charles Page Bryan of Chicago to be minister to Belgium, Richard Kerens of Missouri, to be ambassador to Austria; Henry Lane Wilson of Washington, to be ambassador to Mexico, and Robert Bacon of New York, former secretary of state, to be ambassador to France.

There will be no opposition to the confirmation of Mr. Calhoun or any of the men named. It has been stated that Senators Lodge and Kean might offer objections to Mr. Kerens, who had the strong personal backing of Archbishop Ireland and Bishop O'Gorman of St. Paul, although he himself comes from Missouri, but it is not understood that any obstacles will be placed in the way of favorable action.

Senator Cullom, as chairman of the committee on foreign relations, will take care of the nominations of both Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Bryan. The latter has served as the minister of the United States to Brazil and Portugal and has a creditable record. There is not a friendly feeling in the senate for Mr. Bacon on account of his alleged impolite treatment of certain senators while he was in the state department, but it is expected that Senator Root will use his good offices in behalf of his former subordinate.

Attempt to Discredit Knox.

It is the opinion of high officials here that there is a campaign under way to discredit the state department and its selection for the responsible office of minister to China. This campaign is said to be inspired by friends of Mr. Crane, who still are in an irritated frame of mind because of the summary retirement of the Chicagoan from the diplomatic service. Numerous publications have occurred which are attributable here to a feeling of "soreness."

The friends of Mr. Calhoun in Washington—and they constitute a legion—hold that he should not be credited in any way for the termination of Mr. Crane's governmental career. Mr. Crane himself is responsible for his exit from the American diplomatic corps. It was not until several weeks after Mr. Crane's resignation that Mr. Calhoun happened to drop into the office of the secretary of state for the purpose of recommending the promotion of a secretary of a legation.

Mr. Knox had been considering Mr. Calhoun for the Chinese mission. He said to him he had not even discussed the possibility with the president, but he desired to know if the ministership to China were to be offered to him would he accept it. Mr. Calhoun replied that the suggestion was such an important one he would want time to give it consideration. A week later he telegraphed to the secretary of state regretting he could not take the place. The next day Mr. Knox received another telegram from Mr. Calhoun saying while he did not want to be considered as vacillating, still the proposition was so attractive that he would like to reconsider his refusal.

May Raise Japanese Scare.

Mr. Knox at once telegraphed him that he would be glad if he would again take the suggestion under consideration. Thereupon Mr. Calhoun formally indicated his acceptance. When Mr. Knox apprised the president of his choice the latter expressed his keen approbation, and immediately authorized the necessary representations to the Chinese government.

It is likely that as a part of the campaign against Mr. Calhoun reports will be circulated in reference to the attitude of the Japanese government. But Japan has nothing to do with it. Whether the Japanese approve or disapprove is no concern of the United States.

TALKS OF HIS NEW POST.

At his law offices at 217 La Salle street W. J. Calhoun yesterday confirmed the statement that he had accepted the post in China and did not hesitate to show his pleasure at the appointment.

"The matter is of some standing, so that it does not come as a complete surprise to me," he said. "I do not care to say much more than that the position has been offered me in an official way and that I have notified the state department of my acceptance.

"I do not know when I shall leave for China and naturally do not care to say anything whatever about the government's policy with reference to far eastern situations. It is probable that I will not go until in January. I have business interests here that it may take some time to turn over.

"I look forward to this new field with considerable pleasure and regret only that the duties of it take me so far from Chicago and my friends here."

New Envoy to Meet Knox.

During the holidays Mr. Calhoun will go to Boston, where two daughters, Mrs. Philip C. Stanwood and Mrs. W. H. Gray, reside, and expects to pay his respects to the state department on this trip east. Though an acquaintance of President Taft, he is practically a stranger to Secretary Knox, and this will mark the first conference between the head of the state department and the new envoy to China.

Mrs. Calhoun will accompany her husband to China. At the Calhoun residence, 208 East Erie street, Mrs. Calhoun entertained a few friends at dinner. Severance of delightful social relations proves the only discordant note, as Mrs. Calhoun looks forward to new experiences in the orient.

"I don't know exactly what to say now that the appointment has been confirmed," she said. "Mr. Calhoun has heard from the state department in connection with this matter several times. I believe I am much pleased."

Praises His Selection.

Under the caption, "An Admirable Appointment," the Illinois Staats-Zeitung has the following to say of the selection of Mr. Calhoun to fill the place which once was assigned to Charles R. Crane:

"In calling our fellow citizen, William J. Calhoun, to the post of minister at Peking President Taft has had an extraordinary fortunate find. The Chinese government has already expressed its satisfaction with the nomination. The tone in which this has been done betrays much more than the performance of the ordinary duty of courtesy. That is right, for Mr. Calhoun is not only a charming, educated man, trained in business, but he is also one of the best posted Americans in international law. In Cuba and in Venezuela he found an opportunity to utilize his high diplomatic qualities under the most difficult circumstances. Not only China, but our own people can join in hearty congratulations over his selection."

DEMOCRATS LABOR IN VAIN.

After Deciding Upon His Successor They Find Culberson Has Not Resigned as Chairman.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—The Democratic members of the senate met in caucus today to elect a successor to Senator Culberson, who has determined to resign as chairman of the caucus because of ill health.

A tentative program had been arranged by which Mr. Money, vice chairman, was to be elevated to the leadership and was to decline because of disinclination to take upon himself such duties because of ill health. Senator Bacon was then to be selected as chairman. With this program agreed upon Senator Culberson's letter was read to the assemblage and then it was discovered that he had not resigned the chairmanship, but had merely stated his purpose of so doing.

Immediately all the well laid plans of the statesmen were upset and further action was postponed until definite action is taken by the Texas senator.

CANNON GETS INTO TROUBLE.

Invites Granddaughter to See Opening of Congress and She Brings Her Whole Class.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Speaker Cannon in his desire to have some member of his family represented among the visitors in the house of galleries at the opening session nearly got into trouble today. As his daughter, Miss Helen Cannon, was not in town, Mr. Cannon thought of calling up his granddaughter, Miss Virginia Le Suere, who is a pupil at the Cathedral school for girls.

"Want to come down and see the house convene?" said "Uncle Joe."

"You bet," responded Miss Virginia, who is in the vicinity of the sweet but slangy 16, "and I'll bring the bunch."

She did, and she gave the speaker the full strength of her class to take care of. He did it, but it was something of a strain.

COURT RULING BLOW TO LEWIS.

James Ham Must Deed Back Half of Valuable Homestead in Washington.

Olympia, Wash., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—James Hamilton Lewis, one time congressman from Washington, now a resident of Chicago, by a decision of the State Supreme court today, will be compelled to deed back half of a valuable homestead in San Juan county.

He obtained the property from Martin Phillips through a deed made by Phillips and his second wife. There was a daughter, Edith, by the first wife, and, after becoming Mrs. Kreig, Edith brought suit for her equity in the property, in which her mother once had a dower right.

The courts gave Edith Kreig what she asked, but stipulated that she refund to Lewis half of the taxes he has paid on the property.

MANN HAS BEGUN HIS PAPER FIGHT

Introduces Bills in Congress Looking to Better Deal for Publishers.

U. S. IN CANADA'S GRIP.

Schoolbook and Big Publication Alike Menaced by Present Tariff, He Says.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—As soon as the speaker had called the house to order today Congressman Mann, with a bulldog look on his face, pushed through the crowd seeking to introduce the myriad of bills poured into the hopper when congress goes into session, and put his two print paper bills, and his two resolutions, high upon the list of those which will have to go immediately to important committees for consideration.

In the last few days Congressman Mann privately has reiterated his public statement that the Canadians had the Americans by the throat and that if they wished to do so, they could practically destroy from a third to a half of the American paper making industry.

The Mann measures are emergency measures, of four different sorts, introduced in the hope that the house and senate can be persuaded to take some action which will prevent the government of the dominion from enforcing prohibitive export duties on wood and pulp essential to the manufacture of American paper outside of Maine. So far there is no organized movement in support of Mr. Mann.

Paper Makers on Hand.

The Newspaper Publishers' association has taken no steps, so far as is known, to support the measures, but representatives of the paper manufacturers already are on the ground. They have come to Mr. Mann. They are now divided as to the proper legislation in the interests of the paper industry. Those whose bankruptcy is possible or curtailment of whose profits is likely are not singing the song they did when they appeared before the Aldrich committee.

One group, which long has brought its supplies from the dominion and saved its American wood, is satisfied to let the tariff stick at its present figure, which, on account of Canadian export duties, is, on an average, as high as it was before the Aldrich law was passed. The reduction from a duty of about $6 a ton under the Dingley law to what was proclaimed a duty of $3.75 a ton has turned out to be a joke.

The publishers of school books, newspapers, agricultural magazines, and other inexpensive periodicals are in a tight position. No one can foresee what price paper will be or determine in advance on the primer and arithmetic with which most of us start in life. The little red schoolhouse will feel the pinch as soon as the biggest newspaper, but before them both, in all probability, will come the publishrs of newspapers in smaller towns and of country weeklies.

One Stroke of Pen Can Do It.

It will require no concert of action on the part of the paper makers to bring about a bull market on the material on which is printed most of the reading matter of 90,000,000 people. That can be done by one stroke of the pen of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canadian prime minister, if the authorities in Canada decide they have suffered long enough from the "slings and arrows of outrageous fortune" at the hands of American tariff makers.

There is every reason to believe they are no longer afraid to take action and that they are held back only by characteristic Canadian caution. During the establishment of THE TRIBUNE'S Canadian news bureau at Ottawa, THE TRIBUNE staff there learned something of the temper of the Canadian people.

The Tory party is for a tariff war at all costs in order to cement the tie with the mother country by diverting Canadian commerce from its neighbor to the mother country and even to France. Unallied with them, but ready to shut Canadian raw materials from the American market, are the lumber, agricultural, and nickel interests, representing capital and an enormous number of workers.

Referred to Unfriendly Committee.

The principal bill introduced by Congressman Mann provides that Canadian wood pulp and print paper shall be imported free of duty on condition that Canada shall not impose any export duty or license fee upon printing paper, mechanically ground wood pulp, or wood used in its manufacture. Of the resolutions, one proposes to postpone the application of maximum tariff from April 1 next to Jan. 1, 1911, while the other provides that the maximum tariff shall be held not to apply to Canadian pulp and paper.

These bills and resolutions all were referred to the unfriendly committee on ways and means. The congressman has announced that in the event of failure to get action from this committee he will attempt to have the reciprocity bill transferred to his committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The congressman also introduced a bill prepared by Attorney Sims of Chicago providing for the prosecution and punishment of persons involved in the transportation of white slaves in interstate or foreign commerce. This bill has the approval of President Taft.

MILLION FOR CHICAGO HARBOR

Treasury Department Asks Congress for Appropriation.

TO SPEND IT BEFORE 1912.

Rivers and Entrances Will Be Improved; Docks Up to City.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The executive branch of the government has awakened to the need of assisting Chicago in retaining its lake commerce. The extent to which it has awakened is indicated in the estimates for appropriations for harbor improvements at Chicago sent to congress today by the treasury department. It is proposed to expend nearly $1,000,000 in improving the Chicago and Calumet rivers and harbors before June 30, 1911.

The itemized list of the recommended amounts follows:

Improvement in maintenance of Chicago harbor	$480,000
Improvement of Chicago river	332,000
Improvement of Calumet river	80,000
Improvement of Calumet harbor	100,000

The appropriation of these amounts will mean a long step in advance in improving harbor conditions in Chicago and its vicinity. The assistance of the government in deepening the harbors and in constructing the greatly needed harbor works has been interrupted in the last few years. The government engineers have been of the opinion that on account of Chicago's dwindling commerce the expenditure of large amounts of money in harbor improvements unwarranted. Recently the government has been spending more money on the development of the Calumet river and harbor than it has on the main harbor in and off the Chicago river.

Report Based on Rees Survey.

In the last congress, however, a bill was put through for a detailed survey of harbor conditions in and around Chicago for the purpose of determining what expenditure of government funds would be justifiable. This survey was made under the supervision of Maj. Rees, United States engineer at Chicago.

The report based on his survey shows that the project of developing the Calumet harbor has practically been completed. So far as the initial plans are concerned the expenditure of $100,000 will carry out the original ideas in regard to deepening and widening the harbors. The survey plainly indicates, however, that with the development of commerce further improvements will be necessary.

In the Chicago river and harbor it is estimated that the expenditure of $812,600 will accomplish nearly all the demands for improvements which have been made by Chicago shipping interests in the last few years. The plans include deepening and widening the river and harbor and the improvement of the turning basin in the south branch.

It is estimated in the government plans, however, that congress intends to do no more than its part in the improvement of the Chicago harbors. That part relates solely to the improvement of navigation facilities. It is up to the city to build docks and create special harbors for the purpose of fostering lake commerce. There is no doubt, also, that the government will take a firmer stand than hitherto in requiring the city to remove its center pier bridges on the basis that they constitute an obstruction to navigation.

Will Raise Canal Level.

The treasury estimates also show an appropriation of $125,000 for raising the Illinois and Michigan canal level over East Bureau creek at aqueduct No. 1. Another item of $50,000 is for the improvement and maintenance of the Illinois river. The Waukegan harbor is to be improved at an expenditure of $10,000.

The naval training school at Lake Bluff is slated for an appropriation of $106,599 for maintenance. An item of $6,000 is asked for the construction of an elevator in the marine hospital at Chicago.

Two Killed by Railroad Trains.

Martin Sumply, a laborer employed by the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, was struck by a freight train at Western avenue and Humboldt boulevard yesterday, suffering injuries from which he died shortly afterward in the Alexian Brothers' hospital. Five minutes after the accident to Sumply Peter McDaniels, a brakeman for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, was struck and instantly killed by a passenger train at North Fifty-first avenue.

LORIMER PEEVED AT TAFT NEGLECT

Senator Downcast Because Appointments Are Made Unknown to Him.

CALHOUN NOT ONLY ONE.

Carpenter and Cable Also Were Chosen Without His Aid or Advice.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Friends of Senator William Lorimer are beginning to entertain the gravest fears of an approaching disintegration of the beautiful serenity that hitherto has characterized the bland and blond statesman from Chicago. Mr. Lorimer appeared in the legislative precincts today enveloped in what to the low browed resembled a peevish spirit toward his fellow-man. It was a shocking sight.

It was with difficulty that the source of Mr. Lorimer's grouch on the world was discovered. Some observers thought they detected him casting a baleful glance upon the Democratic side of the senate and jumped to the conclusion that, as a Democratic senator, he was piqued by the failure of the minority to consult him with regard to the selection of their respective leader to succeed Senator Culberson of Texas, who has announced he will resign. It is positively stated, however, that some Democrat older in service will be chosen for this office.

Those who studied the senator's demeanor finally determined that he had not singled out his fellow Democrats as the object of his disapprobation. With his fellow Republicans he was peevish, too. Then it became known that the new senator is feeling a bit humiliated because he has not been consulted by the president with regard to the important appointments of Chicago men that have been made and are in the process of making.

Some He Didn't Hear Of.

The senator has been reduced, it appears, to the point where he learns of the important Illinois appointments for the first time from the newspapers. There is William J. Calhoun, selected for minister to China without deference to William Lorimer; Judge George A. Carpenter, chosen as United States district judge right over the head of ex-Judge Elbridge Hanecy, proposed to the president by the junior senator; Ben S. Cable, made assistant secretary of commerce and labor, and numerous minor dispositions of patronage without the Lorimer O. K.

Whether the explanation for the ignoring of Senator Lorimer by the administration in the making of appointments will operate to soothe his ruffled blandness is a matter of speculation by his fellow Democrats and Republicans. One official diagnosed the case by remarking that, as Mr. Lorimer is only 49 per cent a Democratic senator and only 51 per cent a Republican senator, his recommendations of candidates for appointments are accepted as a diluted article, about 50 per cent strong.

For this view the administration is not relying solely, it is understood, upon the aspect of Mr. Lorimer's election to the senate by 55 Republicans and 53 Democrats. It has been observed that a dose of the same diluted prescription in Mr. Lorimer's home district produced another half and half statesman—Mr. Moxley—50 per cent Republican and 50 per cent Democrat.

Lorimer Seeks Many Scalps.

Enveloped in his dark blue grouch, Senator Lorimer, after the adjournment of the senate, made haste to foregather with Senator Shelby M. Cullom for the purpose of touching upon a little matter of federal patronage in Illinois of which the junior senator desires a large slice. After a brief talk, the senators separated, Mr. Lorimer saying that nothing had been settled and that the whole matter would be taken up at a later conference before the holiday recess. Mr. Cullom agreed in this statement.

The general understanding is that Senator Lorimer has his snickersnee out for all the federal officeholders not only in Chicago but down the state who aided and abetted the ill fated candidacy of Albert J. Hopkins for reëlection.

In the Springfield district the junior senator is entertaining unkind feelings towards United States Attorney William A. Northcott, and Internal Revenue Collector Frank Smith, Hopkins' floor managers during the deadlock. He also has an aversion for United States Attorney William Trautmann and Marshal Charles P. Hitch in the Danville district for similar reasons.

Efforts Doomed to Fail.

It is freely opined, however, that Mr. Lorimer is doomed to defeat in getting any of these scalps. The betting is that Senator Cullom will keep Northcott and Smith in office at any cost. Speaker Cannon is a bosom friend of Marshal Hitch and is relied upon to calm the junior senator's displeasure in this quarter, although Mr. Taft's bodyguard, Detective Sloan, was, long ago promised the place. Trautmann is the law partner of Congressman Rodenberg, who was for Lorimer eventually, and Trautmann, therefore, is considered safe. Senator Cullom is expected to obtain the reappointment of all these officials at once and in addition of Marshal Leon Townsend in Springfield.

In Chicago it is probable that the two senators will arrive at a division of the patronage. Senator Lorimer is after Postmaster Campbell's scalp because Campbell, who once owed his nomination to the state senate to Lorimer, failed to support his patron against Hopkins last spring. Cullom wants to keep Campbell in office, as well as Collector Ames, and it is probable that he will attempt to secure the latter's reappointment at once.

As to the other offices, it is opined that Senator Lorimer will have things pretty much his own way. He may or may not recommend the retention of District Attorney Sims, but in any event the two senators are likely to divide equally the patronage of this office.

Hertz Probably Will Go.

Internal Revenue Collector Hertz probably will have to go because, old and infirm and out of politics, he no longer is of value to the junior senator. Subtreasurer Boldenweck likewise has a weak hold on his job, although one of Senator Lorimer's first acts in Washington today was to revive a bill for the relief of Mr. Boldenweck and his sureties from the responsibilities to the government for the $173,000 stolen from the Chicago subtreasury.

This bill passed the senate and Congressman Boutell reintroduced it today in the house, where it was referred to the committee on claims, of which Congressman Prince of Galesburg is chairman.

Whether Appraiser O'Shaughnessy and Common Seaman Jamieson remain in office depends entirely upon Mr. Lorimer's whim. It is thought that O'Shaughnessy will have to go because he supported Hopkins, and no one would be surprised to hear of Jamieson being dropped because he now is politically worthless.

When it comes to the marshalship there is no doubt that Luman T. Hoy, the Hopkins campaign manager, will be cut off by Lorimer with great satisfaction and glee. Whether he will be able to name the successor, however, depends largely upon the strength and influence of Postmaster General Hitchcock, who tried at one time to hand the plum to Chauncey Dewey as a recompense for his delegate vote for Taft in the national convention.

MRS. COLE POINTS TO 'WOMAN IN PINK'

Testifies She Found Husband in Room with Unnamed Co-respondent.

ACTION NOT CONTESTED.

Wealthy Lumber Broker Represented by Counsel; No Cross Examination.

A "woman with a pink gown" is the unnamed co-respondent mentioned in the divorce suit of Mrs. Hattie Dunwody Cole against Howard G. Cole, lumber broker, the testimony of which Judge Dupuy heard yesterday afternoon. Attorney Elmer H. Adams, representing the complainant, will file his certificate of evidence today, and expects a decree to be issued at once.

Cole was not present. His counsel, William M. Lawton, was there, but declined the invitation of the court to cross examine the witnesses—Mrs. Cole, Henry Atwood Dunwody, her brother from Brooklyn, and Martha Bowman, her colored maid. Mrs. Cole and her maid testified that they caught Cole in the same sleeping apartment with a woman early in the morning of Nov. 10. The testimony did not give the location of this apartment, but Attorney Adams said it was in Cole's residence, 1007 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston.

Mr. Dunwody testified that Cole admitted his guilt and that the defendant said he was "willing to take his punishment." For some time previous to the final break, it is said, relations between Cole and his wife were strained. Mrs. Cole estimated her husband was worth $500,000.

Testimony of Mrs. Cole.

Mrs. Cole took the witness stand first and was quizzed by Mr. Adams as follows:

"What is your name?"

"Hattie Dunwody Cole."

"And you are the wife of the defendant in this case?"

"I am, yes, sir."

"When were you married to the defendant?"

"In 1900; the first day of January."

"Where?"

"Atlanta, Ga."

"How long did you live with him?"

"Why, up to about a month ago, I think it was; about four weeks ago."

"In November?"

"Yes, sir."

"In 1909?"

"Yes, sir."

"Were there any children born of that marriage?"

"Five."

"And how many are living?"

Mr. Cole named Atwood Dunwody Cole, 6 years old, and Elizabeth, 3 months old, after which Mr. Adams suggested:

"I wish you would tell the court why you have refused to live with the defendant," resumed Mr. Adams.

Reasons for Leaving Cole.

Mrs. Cole made no reply, and then her lawyer asked:

"Was it because you found him with somebody else?"

"Yes, sir, I found him with another woman," she replied.

"Were they in a room together?"

"Yes, sir; in a room together."

"Was there more than one bed in the room?"

"Only one."

"And you have not lived with him since that occasion, I understand?"

"No, I have not."

"Have you had any talk with the defendant since you found him that time?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did he say, if anything, about having had——?"

"He made no excuse, and said nothing about it to me."

"Do you know what he is worth, Mrs. Cole?"

"Why, about $500,000 is my understanding."

Mr. Lawton said he did not care to cross-examine, and the witness was excused.

Maid Corroborates Testimony.

Martha Bowman, the colored maid, followed her mistress to the stand and was examined by Mr. Adams, as follows:

"Were you with Mrs. Cole last month and found Mr. Cole and another woman together?"

"Yes, sir."

"What kind of a room were they in?"

"They were in a small room."

"Well, was it a sleeping or sitting room, or what was it?"

"O, a sleeping room."

"How were this man and woman dressed?"

"Well, he had on a night shirt and she had on a little pink silk gown; it was not anything much."

"Yes, you were with Mrs. Cole together, when you saw them together, as I understand?"

"Yes, sir."

"That was about a month ago?"

"I guess it was about as long as that."

"You have lived with Mrs. Cole all the time, have you?"

"Yer, sir."

"Has Mr. Cole lived with Mrs. Cole since that time?"

"No, sir; he has not been home since then."

Again Mr. Lawton declined to quiz the witness.

Says Cole Admitted Guilt.

Mr. Dunwody gave his name and address and said he came to Chicago in response to a telegram from his sister, after which Mr. Adams asked:

"Did you talk to the defendant in reference to his conduct?"

"Yes, sir."

"What, if anything, did he say about having associated with other women besides his wife?"

"That he was guilty and willing to take his medicine."

"About how long ago was it that you had that talk with him?"

"About a week."

"How long have you been here with your sister?"

"About two weeks."

"And during that time has the defendant resided with the complainant at all?"

"No, sir."

"Has he been near the house?"

"No, sir."

"That's all," answered Mr. Adams.

"Cross examine," suggested the court.

"I do not care to cross examine," responded Mr. Lawton, and the hearing closed.

Pleasant surprises are stimulating, and "A Little Brother of the Rich," brought in from the road for a tryout in the home town of its principal author and presented in the Grand opera house last evening, is, despite its title and the disappointing novel from which it sprung, a pleasant surprise.

That it should be a play written by Joseph Medill Patterson and concern society at its middle best and lower worst is not half so important as that it should prove to be a society play concerned with the impulses and failings of human beings. It is one thing to lampoon the weaknesses of an artificial set of wealthy idlers in a book and another to write for the stage a coherent and frequently forceful story that, in the language of the profession, "will act." The artificialities and thin spun satire of "A Little Brother" are no more than the froth churned from a conflict of intense if not particularly serious import.

The trouble with a majority of the so-called society plays that have found their way to the stage has been that when they were not written by Clyde Fitch, who was brilliant rather than authoritative or sincere; or Pinero, who is epigrammatical and serious and Ibsenish in his search for motifs and compelling themes, or Henry Arthur Jones, whose bump of melodramatic combativeness is abnormal, they have been lightly thrown together by a dozen smaller folk with a shilling's worth of nerve and only tuppence worth of knowledge.

They have reflected the society of the penny paper gossips, whose nearest approach to the inner circle is usually a seat on the hall tree or a tête-à-tête with a sympathetic but dignified butler. And it is only when "A Little Brother of the Rich" seeks to make capital of similar reflections to extract a measure of perfectly legitimate comedy from the social reunion of a daring divorcée and her erstwhile patient partner, and to picture the absurdities of pet dog dinners and chimpanzee breakfasts by introducing a parlor chicken fight that it sinks to the level of this class of play.

At other times it serves the rules of the drama and the demands of intelligence well. Its people are real people, struggling with real problems. That they are presented as persons of gentle breeding and hot house rearing does not deny them this standing. In the smiles that are insincere and fatuous they preserve the face of the society of which they are representative, but in the heartaches and the trials of their pitifully narrow lives they are kin to that world of emotional creatures from which drama is drawn.

The story of the play is no more than a suggestion of the story told in the book. In the drama the first act finds Paul Potter, the little peddler of joy and sorrow, already the favorite of Muriel Evers, languishing reluctantly, but none the less positively, in that lady's usually outstretched arms. He has seen Sylvia Castle, the actress, however, and, having convinced himself that the gay life of Gotham has nothing to do with the eternal happiness they pledged each other when, as ambitious youngsters, they left the western country of real manhood and womanhood, he is prepared to bid the social enchantress farewell.

Probably he would have done this, but before he had time to brace his will against her pleading, Mr. Evers returned from a train he had purposely missed and offered him the alternative of marrying the lady or revolving as the center of a nasty scandal. Being more of a man than a cad, he married Mrs. Evers.

Two years later, in the second act, history is prepared to repeat itself. The Potters of the present are no happier than the Evers of the past. Mrs. Potter, keeping her vampire smile well preserved, is beckoning brightly to another victim in the near distance, and Mr. Potter is sighing for the good life and the better wife he feels he left somewhere on the highway. Divorce again threatens.

In the third act there is a silly society farming bee in place of the Watteau fête of the book; the sirenish Mrs. Evers has called her third affair to her side, and Paul and Sylvia have met and agreed that though he has failed and she has not succeeded, all that life holds for them it holds in common.

In the fourth act, again two years later, Sylvia has returned from London a stage favorite; Paul has returned from Oklahoma, where he had gone to raise cattle and his hopes of salvation; Muriel has been killed in a racing car with the third affair, and a majority of the problems resolve themselves into a satisfactory solution suggested, when the "little brother" become a man, meets the actress at the stage door, and they go in search of the lights and laughter of Broadway, minus Hungarian bands and the evils of the fast set.

◆

The Patterson-Ford play does not really concern "A Little Brother of the Rich," hence the title is a poor one. It is the story of a little brother of the poor—the same poor we have always with us—a weak little brother who was led around by his pride until he stumbled and fell and finally bumped some sense into his poor head.

And if it falters now and again in the relating of this youth's fate; if it swings rather obviously between the desire of its author to be true to his highest convictions and still offer the public a little of the spiced sauce and bizarre flavors he knows it is looking for, it can be readily forgiven because of the greater satisfaction that lies in the proof it gives both of a new dramatist's ability and determination to write plays with a purpose greater than money making and an aim higher than that of a nine day sensation.

"A Little Brother of the Rich" owes no small part of its success to the excellent acting of Hilda Spong, Ida Conquest, Vincent Serrano, and John Flood, the sincerity and deftness of whose performances never permitted a good sized audience that may have come to scoff to have the satisfaction of spoiling a single scene. The applause was frequent and genuine, and Mr. Patterson thanked those present for it. It is also well and attractively staged. BURNS MANTLE.

"THE NEXT OF KIN."

A Play in Three Acts

BY

CHARLES KLEIN.

Presented at Powers' Theater, Chicago, by Henry B. Harris, Dec. 6, 1909. The Cast:

Harry Parkes	Grant Mitchell
Hilda	Minna Adelman
Mrs. Parkes	Maggie Fielding
Paula Marsh	Hedwig Reicher
John Rigsby	Frederick Perry
Todhunter Chase	Wallace Eddinger
James Marsh	Harry Davenport
Ex-Judge Bascom Cooley	Frank Sheridan
Dr. Zachari	Edwin W. Morrison
Dr. McMutrie	Joseph Adelman
Prof. Bodley	Fred W. Strong
Supt. Spencer	Maurice Franklin
Stenographer	Agnes Marc
Collins	George A. Wright
Mrs. Johnson	Anita Rothe
Mrs. James Marsh	Alice Wilson

"The Next of Kin" will find favor—a large measure of favor if the reception accorded its first Chicago presentation last night at Powers' may be taken as a guide for prophecy. It may not prove as enduring and pronounced a success as did its famed predecessor, "The Lion and the Mouse," but it will not lag far behind.

At the close of the second act last evening the hope was strong that a play even stronger than "The Lion and the Mouse" had been fashioned by Mr. Klein, and every indication pointed to this being the case. But the third act did not rise to the level of the two stirring ones that had preceded, and the audience which had been held tense and been strongly swayed by what had gone before felt the grip loosen and the disappointment of anti-climax resulted.

Mr. Klein has written two exceptionally strong acts for the first two-thirds of "The Next of Kin." The first one is closely knit, is easy and swift in movement, is clear in exposition and in character drawing, and reaches a climax which under average conditions would be considered sufficient for a "big" third act—a climax so dramatic and so telling that the experienced theatergoer watching it feared for the acts that were yet to come.

It did not seem likely that a higher gradient than the level could be safely reached. The second act began, however, and interest was held tense, almost to the point of uncomfortableness, and the situation as the curtain fell was such a neat blend of comedy and melodramatic denouement that the perfection of the act and of the important two-thirds of the play were beyond question.

The audience was with reason enthusiastic—enthusiastic spontaneously and unqualifiedly. The applause was of the solid, positive kind that speaks of approval that is certain of itself, and not only were the players recalled again and again, but Mr. Klein finally was coaxed forward and made to voice his appreciation in a single sentence of thanks for the commendation shown.

◆

The third act began promisingly, but it weakened, and the conventional happy ending fell flat. The anti-climax is not sufficiently great to make "The Next of Kin" a failure, but it keeps it from being the powerful and finished play it would be could its final act be the equal in power of the two that precede.

Mr. Klein has attacked the question of legal procedure which, instead of working for justice and right, strives only for the furtherance of selfish aims and personal greed. He has made the fortune left by the late brother of a weak New Yorker, the spoils for which two lawyers fight with all the legal weapons at their command. The fortune by right belongs to the daughter of the dead man, but the living brother wishes to gain possession of it, and his having just married an extravagant wife who is equipped with an equally extravagant son makes particularly imperative his obtaining of it by fair means or foul.

He engages a lawyer who is wholly unprincipled, and this aggressive and skilled individual not only so shapes the course of justice that both the fortune and the girl are placed under the guardianship of the brother, but the girl herself is made to appear mentally unbalanced, and finally is committed to a sanitarium, there to be watched and ultimately examined as to her sanity.

The extravagant stepson of the New Yorker has become interested in the girl, however, and, stepping in at the critical moment, inspires her not only with affection for himself, but with confidence in herself, and makes her able to face her accusers and convince the examining alienists of her mental health. In the opening act we have the first meeting of the girl and her designing uncle after the court has made him her guardian, and the curtain falls with her ringing denouncement of him and her defiance of his authority.

The second act deals with the examination of the girl by three sanity specialists, two of whom are mere puppets in the employ of the lawyer and the third of whom, although conscientious, is a slave to "professional etiquette." The act is a gripping one, for there is a suggestion of occultism in it, in so far as the leading alienist is made to seem to use hypnotic suggestion where the girl is concerned. The escape of the girl and the disconcerting of the lawyer and his tools forms the climax.

The last act is in the sanitarium where the girl is confined. The nerve and brain stress under which a person in such a situation labors is tellingly shown, but the solution of the problem comes too suddenly and the defeating of the lawyer and his client is unconvincingly accomplished.

The dialogue through the play is uncommonly effective, humor and wit being abundant, and many of the lines having a force and a pertinence that cause them to win the tribute of spontaneous laughter or applause.

The performance is one fine in balance, and admirable in finish and neatness. The important rôle of the girl is intrusted to Miss Reicher, who, as a recent recruit from the German stage, proves herself not only possessed of gratifying technical proficiency but also of a personality that wins and a voice that is of more than usual beauty and appeal. Her English, although showing the trace of foreign accent, is remarkably clear, and her reading of the lines is in every way commendable. She compassed the dramatic climax of the first act easily and surely, and her emotional work in the second was none the less excellent.

◆

The extravagant stepson is a rôle which is essentially grateful for any player, but when intrusted to an actor blessed with as likable a personality and as complete command of stage resource as Mr. Eddinger calls his own, it cannot fail to win instant and unqualified favor at the audience's hands. This was the case last evening, and the young actor carried everything before him. He does excellent work, and merits all he received.

Mr. Sheridan as the unprincipled lawyer supplies a clear cut, forceful characterization, around which are grouped smaller but admirably done bits by Mr. Davenport, Mr. Morrison, Mr. Adelman, and Mr. Strong. Mr. Mitchell, Miss Adelman, Miss Fielding, Miss Rothe, and Miss Wilson round out a cast of worth, and Mr. Wright, as an old waiter, does a neat piece of character acting in the last act. Mr. Perry has the one weak and badly drawn character in the play, that of the lawyer who tries to defend the girl and her fortune. He accomplishes nothing and is constantly in the attitude of helplessness and defeat. The actor did his best with the rôle, but he was sadly hampered before he began. W. L. HUBBARD.

"THE FIRES OF FATE."

A Modern Morality Play in Four Acts.

BY

ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE.

Presented in America for the First Time at the Illinois Theater, Chicago, Under the Direction of Charles Frohman, Dec. 6, 1909, with the Characters Cast Thus:

Col. Cyril Egerton, D. S. O.	Hamilton Revelle
The Rev. Samuel Roden	William Hawtrey
James Roden, M. D., F. R. C. S.	Edwin Brandt
Thomas Belmont	Percy C. Waram
Cecil Brown of London	Thomas Mills
Mr. Headingly, an American student	Hale Norcross
Mons. Octave Fardet of Paris	Ernest Perrin
Abdulla, a dragoman	Lionel Barrymore
Capt. Jack Archer, Bimbashi, Egyptian camel corps	Courtenay Foote
Sidi Mohamed, a Dervish spy	C. E. Harris
Ali Wad Ibrahim, an Arab chief	F. E. Hill
Abdurrahman, an Arab chief	Charn Chandra Gen
Mrs. Belmont	Helen Freeman
Miss Adams of Massachusetts, U. S. A.	Ina Hammer
Miss Sadie Adams of Massachusetts, U. S. A.	Grace Carlyle

Lest any prospective playgoer flee before the austere caption "morality play" with which "The Fires of Fate" is lugubriously labeled, one hastens with the information that this latest product from the pen of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, dramatist, is no such thing. That is to say that whatever sermon the author has in mind will not be found by the average audience to be offensively in evidence. It is rather a very entertaining concoction of exciting adventure, solicitous sentiment, and unobtrusive fun with just the faintest suggestion of obscure pathology and commonplace ethics added to suit the taste of the difficult high brow. Now and then it is a bit prolix—the characters occasionally engage in conversation long after they have finished what they have to say—but it is acted so skillfully by Mr. Frohman's unusual company that this fault is noticeable only in retrospect.

On the face of it the prospect of a journey up the Nile with an invalid who is suffering from the progressive degeneration of the posterior column—we trust the surgical phraseology is accurate—with an invalid who has only a year to live, is not, perhaps, enticing. Col. Egerton of the Fifty-third Bengal Lancers, young, handsome, captain of the Umballa polo team, leader of cotillions and full of the joy of life, learns one afternoon from an eminent London surgeon that he is suffering from this infrequent affliction. We have the examination conducted before our very eyes. The colonel's leg does not respond when the surgeon strikes it with his hand. He cannot stand with his eyes closed. There are other symptoms of spinal disintegration and it is recalled that once upon a time the colonel experienced a saber cut upon the back of his neck during a skirmish in India. He thinks he will end it all, rather than drag out an invalid's hopeless existence.

So he telephones his attorney that he desires to make his will, sends a message to Lady Constant that he will be unable to see her again, and informs some of his friends that he will not have dinner with them that night at the Savoy. The surgeon is a materialist and believes in his heart that suicide is the proper solution of the colonel's dilemma, but he has a brother, a nonconformist minister, who assails him with argument after argument, the principal one of which is that in the remaining year of his life he may accomplish something to the great benefit of his fellowmen. Besides, the doctor recalls a case in which the patient, receiving a shock in a railroad accident, recovered, and the colonel, grasping the minister by the hand, resolves to stick it out and to accompany him and his brother on a holiday up the Nile.

The possibility that the colonel will encounter something in the nature of a successful shock during this journey makes the outlook, to the audience, less desolate. In the entr'acte it may speculate pleasurably on the nature of the shock. No villain as yet having made his sinister appearance the speculation becomes doubly interesting. The shock arrives atop the Abousir rock whither the gay tourists have made their way, despite the apprehension of the colonel that there is danger from the dervishes. A despised beggar, who has not been treated kindly by the tourists, betrays them to an evil band—and in a struggle to save the women the colonel receives a blow which puts him out of commission, but not until he has wigwagged a signal of distress to Mr. Archer of her majesty's army, who is stationed with his men somewhere in the neighborhood. The dervishes hurry away with their prisoners, and the colonel is left for dead.

This scene possesses all the melodramatic properties of a similar scene—if the author will forgive the comparison—in "The Roundup," a husky American play which boasts not the subtitle of "morality." The excitement, the dismay, the desperation, the confusion—all are there, and they are agitatingly realized by Mr. Frohman's stage management. It should be said that Miss Adams, a young woman of Massachusetts, U. S. A., is in the party—a Smith college girl who wears nice clothes, has pretty hair, and who thinks everything in the vicinity of the Nile is "just heavenly."

This young woman has excited the admiration of the dying colonel and his peculiar deportment has mystified her. So when the colonel recovers he sets out to follow the dervishes and their prey, the next point of whose itinerary is the oasis of Abouteb. In this oasis there is discussion between the colonel and one of the other tourists as to the proper method of making a camel arise. "You do it this way," says the other tourist, striking the colonel just above the knee. Amazement! The colonel's knee responds to the treatment. He is cured. The blow of the dervish was at the exact point needed for recuperation. Consequently all that is necessary is the sound of the bugles across the desert, indicating the approach of Mr. Archer and his soldiers, and the remark, "Saved!" The curtain falls with Miss Adams in the glad arms of Col. Egerton and the dervishes in rout. Thus we are taught that our wisdom is only finite and that if Col. Egerton had taken cyanide, as was his original intention, there would have been a massacre of tourists or Miss Adams would have been compelled to lead thereafter the incomplete life of a New England spinster.

◆

Time and space permit only the observations that Lionel Barrymore in the extraneous rôle of an unctuous dragoman was efficacious to a degree that will excite further comment in this quarter; that William Hawtrey as the nonconformist clergyman was sincere and realistic; that Miss Ina Hammer as a type of the "I guess" American tourist was photographic; that Courtenay Foote as a young English army officer was according to our information about such rôles; and that Hale Norcross as a Vermonter bent on educational scrutiny of the Nile was everything he should have been. The character of the doctor was impersonated by Edwin Brandt, whose similarity in feature and acting to William Gillette caused excitement in the audience, since it was known that Mr. Gillette was directly engaged in the production. There were insistent calls for the author, due to the announcement that the author would be present, which he was not; and the performance all through assumed the proportions of a successful entertainment. PERCY HAMMOND.

CLAD LIKE ANCIENT GREEKS, THREE ARRIVE IN AMERICA.

Raymond Duncan, His Wife, and Son Land from an Ocean Liner Wearing Only Tunics.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Bare legged and bare headed, Raymond Duncan, with Mrs. Raymond Duncan and their son, Menalkas Duncan, arrived in America on the liner Friesland this morning. Clad in costumes fashioned and made by themselves after the mode of the Greeks of biblical times, the three travelers were the most conspicuous of the 800 and more passengers who landed.

Raymond Duncan is a brother of Isadore Duncan, the exponent of classic dances. For the last seven years he has lived in Greece to study the music of the ancients. It was while dwelling on the Island of Leucada that he met Penelope Sikelianos and they married.

The group looked like a section of an old Roman frieze as they assembled about the growing pile of bags which constituted their luggage. Like her husband, Mrs. Duncan wore nothing below the ankle line except sandals. All the toes were nicely done in pink by the weather.

Laughing, Lazy Fat Folks
Made Slim Without Drugs

During the cold weather fat people stay at home and do not care much about removing fat. They eat heartily and dress warmly. This time of year is the one above all others in which flesh should be removed. The winter has a peculiar action on the blood. We all know how our skin contains pimples and boils break out in the spring owing to the stagnation and sluggishness of the winter blood supply. In the fat this condition is appalling. If you will go to your nearest druggist and buy a case of Marmola tablets you will stop making fat at once and you may eat when and what you will and the fat will leave you at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day, and more than that, you will not be left with large, flabby rolls of skin and deep wrinkles.

These tablets are made after the famous Marmola Prescription and were so made to supply a great demand for a handy fat reducer that every one could carry in a purse or vest pocket, so that after any meal they could be taken and evil consequences from such a meal thus avoided. If you can not secure Marmola tablets from your druggist or should you so prefer send 75 cts., the price of a large case, to The Marmola Company, Dept. 189, Detroit, Mich., and they will send Marmola tablets to you in a plain sealed package, postage prepaid.

MEDIC SEES BLOOD, FAINTS, THEN DIES

Student Assisting at Operation Expires on the Table Where Patient Had Lain.

READS AS DOCTOR CUTS.

Aged Woman, Under New Anaesthetic, Recites Psalm and Suffers No Pain.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 6. — Fainting at the sight of blood Harry T. Simmons, junior in the Western Reserve Medical college, fell to the floor in a hospital clinic late today, sustained a fracture of the skull, and died on the operating table at which a few moments before he had been an assistant.

Simmons was assisting Dr. Frederick C. Herrick in a minor operation. At the first spurt of blood he turned pale, staggered, and fell. The physicians and students hastily placed him on the operating table, and found an indentation at the base of the skull. He was dead before they could operate to relieve the pressure on the medulla.

Professors at the medical college report that Simmons frequently had grown faint at the sight of blood. He was a track athlete and baseball player.

Novocaine Successfully Used.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—They tried the Jonnesco method of operating on an old woman in the East Side Jewish hospital, Har Moriah, 138 Second street, Sunday. It was said today that the patient was doing well. Ida Moschkowitz was the patient. The anaesthetic that was used was novocaine, which is said to have a good deal the same effect as stovaine.

Ida Moschkowitz is 70 years old. She came to the hospital on Sunday with a bad case of incarcerated hernia, which is described as several degrees worse than strangulated hernia. Besides that her arteries were hard with age and her heart and lungs were weak. The doctors knew she would die if she were not operated on, yet they feared she would fall into post operative pneumonia in case they used ether or chloroform.

They had used in Har Moriah once before the local anaesthetic named and they decided to try it again.

Reads Psalm as Doctor Cuts.

Before they wheeled Mrs. Moschkowitz into the operating room she asked the nurses to get her a copy of the Hebrew prayer book. They told her she would know what was going on, so she decided she would do for herself what is customary among orthodox Hebrews in cases of serious illness. She read to herself the psalm for the sick.

Dr. George Beurger performed the operation. It took about an hour and all that time the old woman read the psalm over and over again. She didn't seem to mind what the surgeon was doing to her.

After it was over they wheeled her into the surgical ward. Then she called for a drink of water and it was brought to her. She drank it sitting up in bed, as if she were well along in the period of convalescence. After a while she wanted her dinner, and they fed her toast and milk.

COUNSELMAN AND BRIDE BACK.

He Will Confer Today with Attorney and Then "May Explain Matters."

Willis Counselman, whose divorce from Mrs. Lulu M. Counselman and his subsequent marriage to Miss Clara French has become a matter of judicial investigation, returned with his bride to their apartments, 1037 Rush street, yesterday, but declined to make any statement for publication.

He expects to hold a conference with his attorney, S. S. Gregory, today, after which, he said, he might explain matters. The lawyer said he had not yet studied the facts.

Attorneys Joseph W. Moses and Charles R. Holden, composing the special bar association committee, have opened up correspondence with Attorney Milton L. Thackaberry with a view to ascertaining why no evidence was presented to show the first Mrs. Counselman's mental condition.

URGES CONGRESS TO FIGHT ZELAYA

Sulzer Asks That Taft Be Allowed to Use American Army and Navy.

MURDER CHARGE MADE.

Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs Discusses Problem in Nicaragua.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—Representative Sulzer of New York introduced a resolution this morning directing the president to use the army and navy of the country to restore order, maintain peace, and protect life and property in Nicaragua.

The resolution recites that the United States demands the arrest, trial, and punishment of President Zelaya of Nicaragua for the willful murder of citizens, an ample apology from Nicaragua, and reparation.

Members of the senate committee on foreign relations found in the Nicaraguan situation an interesting subject for discussion when they met today. The democrats inclined to the opinion that Secretary Knox may have acted hastily in holding President Zelaya personally responsible for the execution of Cannon and Groce. They said, however, they would withhold judgment until they had had an opportunity to consult with officials of the state department or receive a message from President Taft.

Zelaya Prepared to Flee?

A message from the United States consulate at Managua dated Dec 4 to the effect that it is reported there that President Zelaya is sending troops and artillery eastward and that rumors are renewed of his intention to leave Nicaragua, has been received at the state department.

No official information has reached here of the purpose of Mr. Creel, the former Mexican ambassador to the United States, to come to Washington as the representative of Mexico to make "certain representations" to the state department concerning the Nicaraguan situation.

The statement authoritatively is made that the Mexican government is in full accord with the views and purposes of the United States with respect to Nicaragua and that it will sustain this government in carrying out those policies.

Count Notifies Prince and Princess de Sagan That He Will Ask Support of the Courts.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Count Boni de Castellane has notified Prince and Princess de Sagan and the members of the Gould family that he will ask the courts that the tutor accepted by him be appointed for his son Jay, the tutor reporting to Count Boni every week or fortnight on the child's progress in his studies.

Boni further demands the authority for himself to take the two elder boys from their schools on the days they visit him.

The case will be heard on Wednesday next.

DEATH PILOT IN FIRST FLIGHT

French Amateur Wins Success Only at Cost of His Life.

REPAIRS SHIP WITH TWINE.

Third Victim of Aeroplane Tries to Turn Sharply and Falls.

NICE, Dec. 6.—Antonio Fernandez, an amateur aviator, met death today while flying for the first time in an aeroplane of his own invention at the new aerodrome near the mouth of the Var. Although Fernandez took his machine to Rheims on aviation week, difficulties in starting always prevented a flight there.

The accident appears to have been due mainly to the inexperience and recklessness of the aviator, who, impatient at the delay and not heeding the expostulations of his mechanician, patched up a defective part of the machine by binding it with common twine.

Tries to Turn Too Sharply.

The aeroplane sailed off gracefully, amid the cheers of the spectators, and the inventor's hopes seemed to be fulfilled, when, after going 200 meters and gradually rising, he attempted to make a turn too sharply, and the machine tipped over.

Fernandez was hurled headlong to the ground, striking with terrific force, with the wreck of his aeroplane on top of him. The aviator was crushed beneath the motor.

The victim was a strikingly handsome man, well known in Nice, where he was a tailor for women. He took up aviation recently, devoting all of his time to it. He was convinced that his machine, which resembled the Wright and the Curtiss machines, was superior to any other.

Third Aeroplane Fatality.

Fernandez was the third man to be killed in a motor power aeroplane. The first fatality was the death of Lieut. Selfridge while flying as a passenger with Orville Wright at Fort Myer, Va., in September, 1908.

E. Lefebvre, a French aviator, was killed Sept. 7 last, when his aeroplane turned turtle two minutes after his flight had begun.

MORGANS MERGE LONDON HOUSE

Four Firms Now Are Identical, Others Being in New York, Paris, and Philadelphia.

New York, Dec. 6.—J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York officially announced this afternoon that after Jan. 1 the London house, J. S. Ace of Hearts Is Placed in Sandwich to Prevent Revokes Being Known.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—It wasn't the stake involved that caused A. B. Hudson, the Wall street broker, to invent a heart sandwich, for money means little to him. It was the vaunting pride in his ability to play bridge.

John W Gates, John A. Drake, Hudson, popularly called "Huddy," and a broker were whiling away a long evening in a small game in a private room in an uptown restaurant. Six or seven men, whose names are familiar in Wall street, were present. Opposite Hudson sat Gates, Drake was paired with the broker. Gates' temper had not been improved by the luck in which he and his partner were playing.

Break Made in Rubber.

Finally it came to the rubber and it was a heart make. Five leads had been made when a heart was led. "Huddy" laid a club upon it. Gates lifted his eyebrows. When more trumps had been ignored by "Huddy," Gates burst out with:

"For the love of Mike, man, haven't you got a heart?"

"No, I haven't," responded Hudson sharply; "don't you suppose I know how to play?"

Then he slyly "skinned his hand." There staring at him from behind another card to which it had stuck was the ace of hearts. He had revoked five times; they were playing for a dollar a point and as each revoke penalized him three tricks and as a heart make counted eight, he and his partner were facing a loss of $120 on the deal.

Orders a Sandwich—Quick.

"Gi' me sandwich, quick," he ordered the waiter. "I feel sort o' faint."

"Aw, go on, play the game," commanded his partner.

"All right," he responded, but as he reached for the sandwich he let his cards drop. Stooping, he inserted that fatal ace of hearts between the slices of what had been a chicken sandwich and devoured it.

As he was chewing it he looked at his cards and broke out: "Hey, I only got two cards."

Each of the others had three.

"It looks like a misdeal," remarked "Huddy" nonchalantly; "too bad, ain't it," and it was declared a misdeal.

BOSTON PRAISE TO CHICAGO

Men Who Visited Here Laud Our Great Business Ability.

CITY AHEAD OF NEW YORK.

Increase in Trade Expected to Result from Recent Journey.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The Boston chamber of commerce party returned from its trade extension excursion to Chicago tonight. A resolution prepared on the train says:

"Summarizing our impressions, all of us were struck with the bigness of Chicago and the daring and aggressive way it has of working out problems. Chicago, more than New York, represents the big achievements of the country in a business way. You can learn more from Chicago in progressiveness than from New York

"We hope to entertain a delegation of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and the early summer would be the most agreeable time."

Bernard J. Rothwell, acting president of the chamber, gave utterance to the prevailing opinion when he said:

"By the visit of the delegation to Chicago we believe we have opened the way for the extension of the trade between the two cities. We did not go there to sell goods. We went to see and learn by observation, to get acquainted with Chicago business men, and to derive benefit from the information they freely gave us."

LOS ANGELES HAS COLDEST DAY IN THIRTY-TWO YEARS.

Temperature Falls to 41 and in Many Sections Orchard Owners Fight Frost with Smudge Fires.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 6.—Yesterday was the coldest day in Los Angeles in thirty-two years. The temperature fell to 41. In many sections orchard owners fought frost with smudge fires.

Blizzard in Southwest.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 6.—A driving snow storm is raging throughout the southwest tonight, and the temperature at midnight ranges from 10 below zero in the panhandle of Texas to 18 above zero in Kansas City.

Trains into Kansas City from the west are from four to six hours late, and telegraph and telephone wires in Oklahoma and Kansas are working badly and in some instances are entirely out of commission.

The storm, today and tonight followed two days of falling temperature, rain, sleet, and hail. There is much suffering among livestock.

PRINCE DEFENDS ACTRESS' LECTURE

Declares Dissertation on "L'Amour" Before Kaiser Was Proper and Modest.

ONCE HEARD BY EDWARD.

Jeanne Granier Indignant and Tearful at Criticisms of Her Talk.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—Stung by criticism of a section of the public press concerning the propriety of her lecture on "L'Amour," delivered recently by the French actress, Jeanne Granier, before the kaiser at Prince Donnersmarck's hunting lodge, the prince has made public a reply repudiating the attitude of the moralists. He says that the monologue is well known and once was delivered before King Edward and Queen Alexandra. It was, of course, adds the prince, carefully examined before it was delivered at his lodge at Neudeck.

Actress Protests Tearfully.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Dec. 6.—Granier, the actress, is here and indignant at the criticisms of the little lecture which she delivered at Neudeck before the kaiser. In an interview today she protested tearfully against the imputations on her modesty.

"The monologue," she said, "contains nothing that could wound the most susceptible person. Any modest girl could hear it. The emperor behaved toward me like the gallant man and refined gentleman that he is. The scandalous imputations that have been made are disgraceful and abominable."

BUYS A 55,000 ACRE ESTATE FROM INSULAR GOVERNMENT.

Cuban Thought to Be Acting for Havemeyers in the Purchase of Great Sugar Lands.

MANILA, Dec. 6.—E. L. Poole of Havana, Cuba, today closed a deal with the Philippine government for the purchase of the San José friar estate of 55,000 acres in the island of Mindoro. The purchase price was $367,000. The tract will be used for the cultivation of sugar, and it is understood that the buyer represents the Havemeyers. The property is a part of the friar estates, which was bought from the church by the government.

SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6. — The sugar lands in the Philippines referred to in the Manila cablegram are said here to have been put up at public auction in Manila and sold to the highest bidder.

The result of the sale was the realization by the government of a sum of money in excess of the price paid to the friars for the land. It is understood to be the purpose of the purchasers to cultivate on a large scale sugar, rice, cocoanuts, and hardwoods.

The sugar imports from the archipelago must be limited to the 300,000 tons per annum fixed in the tariff act. But no less than $5,000,000 in rice is annually imported into the United States, and it is expected that there will be an opportunity to fill this demand from Philippine sources.

PRINCE OF BRAGANZA SUED BY CREDITORS FOR A MILLION.

Action Relates to Alleged Promise to Pay One-Fifth of Dowry Following Marriage to Miss Anita Stewart.

BUDAPEST, Dec. 6.—According to the newspapers a syndicate of creditors is suing Prince Miguel of Braganza, who married Miss Anita Stewart of New York at Tulloch castle, Dingwall, Scotland, on Sept. 15 last, for $1,000,000.

Some years ago, the papers say, Prince Miguel was in financial difficulties and the syndicate advanced him a large sum payable when he should make a rich marriage.

The claim is set up that following negotiations which resulted in his marriage to Miss Anita Stewart the prince promised to recoup the syndicate with one-fifth of the dowry, which was $5,000,000. Now Prince Miguel declines to pay anything beyond the amount borrowed.

BY HARRIET MONROE.

A reception tonight at the Art Institute will open the eighth annual exhibition of art crafts and a number of individual exhibitions. In the former about 130 American craftsmen and a group of Hungarians show 720 exhibits.

The range includes jewelry, silver plate, copper and brass articles, tiles, pottery, and decorated china, rugs, textiles, embroideries, bookbindings, and leather work.

Of the special exhibitions four show the work of Chicago artists. Edgar S. Cameron and his wife have forty-nine pictures in the large south gallery, Mr. Cameron's contribution being landscapes and marines, while Marie Gilon Cameron shows portraits and figure subjects.

Frederick Frary Fursman shows twenty-nine pictures, mostly French out of door subjects. Landscapes and portraits are exhibited by Alonzo St. George Huntington, who still calls himself a Chicagoan, though he lives in Paris.

A roomful of fruit pictures by Cadurcis Plantagenet Ream completes the Chicago list.

Two southwestern artists, Frank Reaugh and Charles P. Bock of Texas, show a roomful of landscapes in oils and pastels, illustrating the brilliancy and delicacy of color over the Texas plains.

A small gallery contains the original drawings for magazine illustrations in black and white and colors done by various artists.

An exhibition of pictures from the Durand-Ruce galleries of Paris and New York, which opens today at Anderson's, represents various contrasting schools.

PLEA IS DENIED BY DENEEN

Former Sheriff at Cairo Will Not Be Reinstated in Office.

REVIEWS FACTS OF RIOTS.

Governor Says Lynchings Should Not Have Occurred.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 6.—Late tonight Gov. Deneen denied the petition of Frank E. Davis for reinstatement as sheriff of Alexander county. It was Sheriff Davis from whom the Cairo, Ill., mob took William James, colored, and Henry Salzner, white, and lynched them on the night of Nov. 11 last.

Reviews Lynching in Detail.

After reviewing the lynching in detail, the governor, in a voluminous statement, submits evidence that Sheriff Davis did not do all in his power to protect the prisoners and made no forcible resistance, and on this ground the petition for reinstatement is denied. In conclusion, the governor declares:

"Mob violence has no place in Illinois. It is denounced in every line of the constitution and in every statute. Instead of breeding respect for law it breeds contempt.

Must Always Enforce Law.

"When such mob violence threatens the life of a prisoner in the custody of the sheriff, the law has charged the sheriff, with the penalty of forfeiture of his office, to use the utmost human endeavor to protect the life of his prisoner. The law may be severe; whether severe or not, it must be enforced."

Broaddus Defense Charges Conspiracy

At the rehearing yesterday of the suit of Mrs. Nettie A. Broaddus against William T. Bruce to recover money she says she gave him for investment the defense made an attempt to prove a conspiracy on the part of the plaintiff and F. F. Roberts, an undertaker at 1625 Wells street, to get money from Bruce.

district had a special tax levy to pay for water power development. Then, by additional authority from the state legislature, believe, the sanitary district's revenue went up again, so that in 1908 it received from taxation within the city limits 145 per cent more than it did in 1900, the year the water was turned into the completed channel."

All these facts are brought to the attention of the council at this time in connection with the recommendation of Mayor Busse that the council give him authority to appoint a committee to consider with the three park boards the turning over of the small parks and playgrounds to them.

He shows that the annual appropriation for the maintenance of these parks has grown from $11,500 in 1900 to a request for $221,000 for 1910, which latter sum would be a considerable drain upon the municipal treasury.

Duties of the Park Boards.

"The park boards are evidently created in the first place to care for public needs of this character," the mayor said. "The financial history of the city's parks and playgrounds is a repetition of municipal experience in many other directions. It opens with an appropriation of $11,500 in 1900 to cover expenses and carry out some recommendations of a special park commission created in December, 1899 to study the small park and playground question. In five years this appropriation grew to $23,300.

"The next year—1906—the city's small parks, squares, and triangles, and a bathing beach or two which had been until then cared for respectively by the department of public works and the department of health, were transferred to the special park commission.

"The total appropriation for the special park commission's work in that year was $80,000. By 1908 this had become $180,390. For 1909 it was reduced to $125,000. The commission is asking this year for $221,. .J. I mention these facts, which can be paralleled again and again in the city's history, as showing how easily a small expense item grows quickly to a heavy fixed charge without corresponding increase of revenue to meet that charge.

Look Situation in the Face.

"In view of these facts and in view of all the circumstances touching our financial situation, it seems to me we should at once look squarely in the face this question; with revenues already insufficient for doing the things that can be done only by the city of Chicago, should the city go on extending the system of small parks and playgrounds at ever-increasing expense, or should it make an effort to have the parks and playgrounds cared for by the park boards, which have been created and endowed with tax levying powers for the express purpose of providing parks and playgrounds for the people?

"This question is a far more important question than it may appear to be by reason of the comparatively small amount of money involved. It goes to the root of the reasons for the city's unsatisfactory financial condition—namely: the constantly increasing disparity between the things the municipal government is called upon to do for the people and revenue received by the municipal government from the taxes paid by the people.

"We shall never approach, much less reach, a satisfactory condition in our municipal finances until the voters and taxpayers are made to realize that their municipal government does not receive its fair share of the taxes they pay.

Suggests Council Action.

"The situation revealed by these facts is serious enough, it seems to me, to warrant careful consideration, and action, if possible, at the hands of your honorable body. As a first step toward relief from the situation, it might be well to take up the park and playground question. The park boards were evidently created, in the first place, to care for public needs of this character. They have all the necessary machinery for the work.

Their financial resources would seem to be adequate, while the city's are not. Therefore I would respectfully ask for authority to appoint a special committee of five members of your honorable body whose duty it shall be to take up with the several park boards the question of having future control, management, and extension of the system of small parks, playgrounds, and bathing beaches undertaken by said park boards.

"I have attached to this communication for publication with it a schedule of the fourteen playgrounds, the two bathing beaches, and the sixteen pieces of unimproved property under the control of the special park commission; a statement of expenditures on small parks and playgrounds since 1900; and a schedule of playgrounds owned and those leased by the city; also the figures on total revenue received by each taxing body from taxes levied within the city limits from 1895 to 1908 inclusive."

The suggestion of Mayor Busse was adopted and he was authorized to and did appoint a committee composed of Snow, Bellfuss, Cullerton, Zimmer, and Clettenberg to negotiate with the park boards.

Ferry Boat at Madison Street.

After considerable protest on the part of Ald. Cullerton and Ald. Thompson the council passed an order instructing the commissioner of public works to install a ferry boat at Madison street until the bridge can be repaired. This ferry will be used in lieu of the pontoon bridge which the council ordered constructed last week, but which the department of engineering found to be impracticable on account of the swiftness of the current.

When Ald. Dunn, chairman of the committee on licenses, called up the ordinance to charge runners for hotels and business houses $300 a year annual license and to bond them for $1,000, there was a howl of protest. Ald. John Powers voiced the views of the protestars when he declared that $300 was an "outrageous" fee to charge and "many a poor man earning an honest living would be driven out of employment."

Visitors to Chicago are invited to make use of the accommodations of the store.

DRYS TO DECLARE A POLITICAL WAR

Will Set Forth to Defeat All Officials Who Block Anti-Liquor Legislation.

AIM AT SPEAKER CANNON

First Business Session of National Convention Scheduled for Today.

A promised declaration of political war on senators and representatives who refuse to aid in passing anti-saloon bills, hitting directly at Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, is expected to provide a spirited time today, when the first business session of the national anti-saloon convention will be held in the La Salle hotel.

From now on, it is said, the dry forces will contend for national legislation. "On to Washington," will be the slogan of the convention.

Most all of last week was devoted to conferences of field workers and state superintendents of the league.

A gathering in the Chicago opera house known as an inspiration meeting, committee conferences, and a banquet at the Auditorium in the evening occupied the first day of the convention, and this morning the delegates will settle down to consideration and adoption of resolutions, discussion on the exact legislation to be sought, and the election of officers.

Welcomed by the Churches.

Delegates and friends of the anti-saloon movement were welcomed to the opera house by the Chicago Federation of Churches.

Former Gov. J. Frank Hanly of Indiana spoke on the need of absolute enforcement of the laws, and against the policy of any executive officer deciding which laws should and which should not be enforced.

John G. Woolley, one time Prohibition candidate for president, made a plea to keep liquor from the people of Hawaii.

Seaborn Wright, former member of the Georgia legislature; Prof. Edgar P. Hill of McCormick Theological seminary, and James K. Shields, Illinois superintendent of the league, also addressed the meeting.

William H. Anderson, the national legislative superintendent, has prepared a report, to be submitted today, in which he has outlined a plan of obtaining aid in the passage of bills, and bearing references aimed directly at Speaker Cannon. After referring to the defeat of the Littlefield measure in the national house of representatives, Mr. Anderson declared:

"We expect to put out any man who opposes these laws and will make a direct fight on him."

Frames Desired Legislation.

The committee on legislation spent several hours in conference and outlined three plans which will be submitted. The first of these is for a federal law permitting state authorities to attach liquor in transit in a state where its sale is forbidden and before it reaches the consignee, if he be a resident of dry territory.

The second plan, now pending in a bill, would prohibit the shipment of liquor into a state having laws forbidding its sale.

The third plan, advocated by John Marshall, assistant attorney general of Kansas, is new. It is to prohibit the shipment of liquor into a "dry" state except to those authorized by law to receive it.

Advocates of each plan will present arguments and a long discussion may take place before the adoption of any.

A picture showing the extent of the liquor traffic in this city was described by Dr. William O. Shepard of Chicago in his address of welcome at the Auditorium banquet.

Points to Chicago Conditions.

"Take the 7,000 saloons in Chicago," said Dr. Shepard, "and allow a minimum of twenty feet for each. This gives a total frontage of 140,000 feet—more than twenty-five miles and longer than Halsted street, which we boast is the longest business thoroughfare in the world. Then the natural corollaries of the saloon—the jails, hospitals, and disreputable houses—would more than cover the opposite side of the street.

"Sometimes I think it might be a good thing to group all of this vice in one huge block, to put all the infamy, the stench, the blood, and disgrace in one place, where by its terrible presence it would not be tolerated."

Dr. James A. Patterson of New York expressed regret that the convention came one week too early for the First ward ball. He commended the press of Chicago for its fight against the ball, but said those events were merely the outgrowth of conditions which had been allowed to flourish.

Congressman Richmond P. Hobson of Alabama was given an ovation when introduced. He likened the anti-saloon crusade to a battle field and urged a carefully planned campaign.

AKED SCORES POET WATSON

Pastor's Admiration Turned to Contempt by Asquith Attack.

HOPES THE BARD IS INSANE.

Derangement the Only Excuse for "Atrocity," Declares Minister.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—"That Mr. Watson should repeat the conversation he had with Miss Asquith passes all belief," said the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked today. "I should be profoundly thankful if he were insane and not responsible for this atrocity.

"It is the things he has done since he landed on our shores that reveal him to be a mean, spiteful, and malignant cad. I shall have a poor opinion of those Americans who suffer him to darken their doors.

Dr. Aked, who is pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, for years was an admirer of the principles and opinions of William Watson. He thus announced that his admiration had been succeeded by contempt, and expressed regret that the poet had turned from his hitherto noble attitude of mind to voice such sentiments as those expressed in the poem, "The Woman with the Serpent's Tongue."

Had Admired Him for Years.

"From every point of view I deplore the outburst," continued Dr. Aked, referring to Watson's interview attacking Mrs. Asquith and Miss Violet Asquith. "It comes to me with a shock of personal pain. I do not know William Watson personally, yet I thought I knew him.

"I quote him frequently. You will find selections from his poems in my books. I have admired him for years with tremendous and whole hearted admiration. I have been on the same side as himself in the great national controversies to which he referred in various interviews. During the long drawn agony of Armenia I regarded him as a prophet of God.

"He seemed to many of us Englishmen, in those days while the old lion of Hawarden lay tired and sick, one great English voice. And today only the belief that he is insane can restrain expressions of boundless contempt for him.

"I had formed no opinion of the original offense—the publication of the poem. I thought Watson might have a reason of which I knew nothing, and my passionate admiration of him, and my intense gratitude to him, for the nobility of his stand in these other great questions, inclined me to withhold, even in my own mind, censure of what seemed like an unpleasant attack upon a woman.

Insanity One Gleam of Hope.

"I do not know Mrs. Asquith, but of course I know about her.

"There is one faint gleam of hope that it may not be as disgraceful as it seems. This may be insanity; undoubtedly it looks like it.

"One of the phenomena of brain disease is a belief that the world is engaged in a conspiracy against oneself. If Mr. Watson is a victim, then our old admiration for him, our love for him, will move us to a deeper sympathy for him.

"I would rather think of him as dead, with glorious achievements upon his records and honor unstained, than to know him for what he appears to be today—a spiteful gossip, a fool, and a cad."

INDEPENDENT PHONE MEN HERE SEE BIG FIGHT AT CONVENTION.

Eight Hundred Fifty Delegates in Town —Question of Compromise with Bell Concern to Be Debated.

Eight hundred and fifty delegates to the annual gathering of the International Independent Telephone association will convene today at the Auditorium hotel. President E. H. Moulton of Minneapolis and the other officials put in a busy day yesterday discussing the affairs of the association and arranging for the opening session.

The delegates to the meeting feel that the association has reached a crucial point in its affairs, and that its future will depend to a large extent on the plan of action that is adopted at this meeting.

The life or death test of the independents, say the officials, will hinge on the outcome of a vote to adopt a resolution to be offered by James S. Brailey Jr. of Toledo, O., whereby the independents will relinquish to the Bell company all rights to long distance service if the latter will give them local service into all the large cities of the country.

The officials declare such a compromise with the Bell concern would mean the end of the independents and court action is threatened in case the Brailey resolution is carried.

Acquits Alleged Chinese Gamblers.

After returning from an inspection of an alleged gambling resort at 308 South Clark street a jury in Judge McSurely's court found three Chinaman, charged with keeping a gambling house, not guilty yesterday. They are Lie King, Frank Moy, and Moy Ling Lue.

MAX COHEN'S BODY IS FOUND IN RIVER

Second Victim of Jackson Boulevard Bridge Accident Identified.

FIANCEE STILL MISSING.

Council Committee on Wharves Proposes New System of Signaling at Draws.

The body of Max Cohen, one of the victims of the taxicab drowning at the Jackson boulevard bridge on Nov. 7, was found floating in the river yesterday at the Loomis street bridge. One more victim of the tragedy is yet to be given up by the water, Miss Beatrice Shapiro, Mr. Cohen's fiancée, who, it is thought, went to her death with him.

The body was identified at the morgue by the young man's father, A. B. Cohen, of 3214 West Thirteenth street, and by his brother Louis. His sister, Elta, looked at her brother's corpse for a moment by the flare of a lighted match in her father's hand.

Identified by His Sister.

"It is Max," she cried. "There is no chance for a mistake."

The dead man also was recognized by his friends, Julius Morris of 1624 West Taylor street and J. C. Behr of 813 Halsted street.

The body was seen in the water by Bridge Tender William Sadwell. He notified the Seventh police precinct station and the body was removed to the morgue by Officer M. W. O'Connell.

New Bridge Signals Proposed.

As a result of last month's river tragedy what is expected to prove a more efficient system of warning the public that a bridge is about to be opened was recommended by the council committee on wharves, harbors, and bridges yesterday afternoon. In the future the present method of signaling when a bridge is about to be opened will have exactly the opposite meaning. As a signal to boats that a bridge was to be opened a large red ball on top of the bridge heretofore has been elevated, but now the ball will be elevated when the draw is about to be closed as a warning for the boats to stop.

TEST FOR STREET HEAD TODAY; SIXTY APPLICANTS TO COMPETE

Injunctions Threatened Because Promotional and Local Residence Features Were Waived.

Sixty applicants have announced their intention to take the examination for the position of superintendent of streets, but members of the commission do not expect more than about forty to appear at the board rooms, 117 Market street, when the contest begins this morning.

Fifteen of the applicants are from other cities.

Members of the commission anticipate trouble from applicants who fail to pass. There have been threats of injunction proceedings on the ground that it should be a promotional examination, and that the question of local residence should not have been waived.

The examination will require three days. Today it will be on mathematics, tomorrow on special subjects, and Thursday on knowledge of administrative and technical questions.

Among the local men who have announced their candidacy are Frank T. Fowler and John Minwegen of the board of local improvements; H. H. Hittel, chief, and J. J. Hill, assistant engineer of the board; Walter K. Leninger and Thomas Corcoran, assistant superintendents of streets, and Richard T. Fox, manager of the Citizens' Street Cleaning bureau.

PAYS $248.40 INTEREST ON $90.

Widow Has No Redress Under Illinois Law Because She Gave the Usury Voluntarily.

Mrs. Mary Hanlon, a widow living in South Chicago, has paid $248.40 to loan agents as interest on $90, and she has no redress under Illinois statutes because she paid it voluntarily. A suit instituted by her in the Municipal court against the agents, H. A. F. Mogg and the Cook County Mortgage company, was dropped yesterday by her attorney, Hugo J. Thal. The suit was to recover all the money she had paid in excess of the principal and 5 per cent annual interest on it.

Hurt on Boat; Asks $12,000.

Miss Birdie A. Lynch brought suit in the Circuit court yesterday for $12,000 against the Chicago and South Haven Steamship company, for injuries suffered on the boat last July. She says she was left on deck during a storm while ill and was dashed against the side of the deckhouse.

A CUSTOMER brought us a "kick" the other day; something wrong. The promptness with which we made good, the liberality of our attitude so pleased him that, in a burst of enthusiasm, he said: "You people are the only truthful advertisers in town." We don't agree with that opinion; we know plenty of other truthful, honest, advertisers; but it shows our principle in these matters; we'd rather do more than less than a man expects.

We don't have much of it to do; such qualities and values as we sell usually do all that's expected of them. Our special exclusive styles and patterns in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes are selected by us because they're that kind. See these suits and overcoats at $20 to $50.

You may look where you please for suits and overcoats that will equal in value for the money these we sell at $20 and $25. They're the top-notch of merit. New, smart grays, browns, heather shades, black and white; fine blue and black weaves; many silk lined at $20 and $25.

Any of you young fellows, college and high school chaps, who know what's what in clothes style, just look in at our 3d floor show. Styles and colorings for young men from $15 to $35.

THERE are no better clothes for boys than we sell; and many parents find it true daily. $5 to $20 for good suits, in all good styles; for good warm overcoats, combination or protector collars. A great store in itself.

Lots of men buy our $15 suits and overcoats; like the style; the pure worsted guaranteed service suits; the all-wool utility overcoats; good weaves, $15.

JUST arrived, a big lot of fine worsted and heavy wool Shaker-knit sweaters and sweater coats; new colors and combinations, including the new Scotch heather mixtures. They're great big values at $3.50, $4 and $5.

BIG STRIKE SURE, UNION HEADS SAY

Switchmen's Leaders Declare They Have Given Up Hope of Peace at Present.

RUMOR DENIED IN EAST.

Vice President of Trainmen Thinks Roads Will Meet His Men's Demands.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 6.—Labor leaders concerned with the switchmen's strike late today had given up hope of averting a general strike of those organizations of railway employés affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and said they believed such a strike was imminent.

This fact was made known privately from an authoritative source at the strike headquarters of the switchmen's union. The announcement of such a strike, it is stated on authority of a high official of the switchmen's union, will be made soon.

The unions whose membership includes railway employés that are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor are the Interior Freight Handlers and Railway Clerks' union; the Order of Railway Telegraphers; the International Association of Car Workers; the Brotherhood of Railway Carpenters; Maintenance of Way Employés; International Association of Machinists; International Association of Iron Shipbuilders and Boilermakers, and the International Association of Molders.

Roads Say They Are Doing Better.

The railroad officials report all yards, including the Minnesota transfer and South St. Paul terminals, working full capacity. Supt. Dooley of the Minnesota transfer yards said today that the yards were clear and that he had forty-two experienced switchmen working. Wholesale merchants say their shipments are being delivered and they are receiving freight.

Reports from western terminal points show freight trains moving, although the storm has handicapped the work to some extent.

Nearly every flour mill in Minneapolis is in operation today. Those closed are practically all east of the river. Millers believe that by tomorrow every mill on the west side of the river will be in operatioin.

Deputy State Labor Commissioner A. B. Gray, investigating the nonresident special police, was ejected from the yards of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad in Minneapolis today by the railroads and told by the legal counsel for the road that he had no right on the premises and must remain away.

Mr. Gray reported the act to State Labor Commissioner McEwen, who issued him written instructions that he was within his rights and directed him to proceed with his work. If Mr. Gray is again ejected Commissioner McEwen will begin action to enforce his orders.

Says Big Strike Rumor Is Premature.

New York, Dec. 6.—"Rumors of an impending general strike," said Vice President Murdock of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, today, "are premature, and we believe were put out to influence the roads of the northwest into granting the demands of the Switchmen's Union of North America. We have nothing to do with that movement and have troubles enough of our own without entering into any others.

"Our proposals have not yet been submitted to the management of the eastern railroads and we have no reason to suppose they will be refused when they are submitted. It is no secret that we long have felt we are entitled to higher wages. A demand for them was deferred two years ago, when the financial panic caused a pause."

A. H. Smith, vice president and general manager of the New York Central, said:

"The company is on the most friendly terms with its employés at present."

In other well informed quarters it was said that in view of the fact that the railroads long have contemplated an increase in their own rates, they are not in a position to treat too brusquely a request for an increase of wages from their employés.

WIRES TAFT "NO STRIKE."

President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen telegraphed to President Taft last night a statement that no strike of members of that organization in the east is in immediate prospect. The telegram follows:

"In order that yourself and the public may know the truth, I deem it necessary to state that the press reports indicating that a strike of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and oher affiliated railroad organizations is threatened at this time as a result of demands for increased pay in the territory east of Chicago are absolutely without foundation.

"Whatever action is taken by the organization I represent will depend entirely upon the individual expression of the members through the general committee for the railways in the territory, and will be handled in the usual manner.

"The demands of the railway employés in train and yard service east of Chicago cannot take proper form for even deliberate consideration between the railway officials and their employés before the early part of 1910. All this talk about a threatened strike by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and affiliated organizations is absurd, and the membership of this organization fully realizes it."

Switchmen Keep Up Hope.

Vice Presidents James B. Connors and Samuel Heberling of the switchmen's union kept in close touch with the strike in the northwest and expressed the hope that the men would win in that territory so that there would be no need for a struggle in Chicago.

"A report has reached us that the railroads are weakening and have offered a bonus of a month's pay to the strikers if they would return to work," said Mr. Connors. "This offer will not be accepted."

O. L. Dickerson, speaking for the general managers' association, issued a statement saying there was nothing extraordinary about the meetings the roads propose to hold with employés to discuss wage schedules, and in general expressed the opinion that the difficulties would be settled amicably.

Telegraphers Stand Firm.

The committee of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, which has been demanding increased salaries on the Illinois Central railroad, manifested no indication of yielding in a meeting yesterday at the New Southern hotel. It was agreed to submit a final proposition to President Harahan of the Illinois Central, who is out of the city, on his return.

The telegraphers demand an increase of 10 per cent. During the negotiations with the railroad they obtained a concession in the recognition of the telephone operators, who assist in the handling of trains, as members of the telegraphers' labor organization. This concession places the telephone operators under the telegraphers' wage schedule.

Officials of the railroad are said to have made preparations for a strike.

A reduction of wages caused 150 Rock Island section hands to strike yesterday. They quit work in the morning when they learned their pay had been cut from $1.35 to $1.25 a day.

LAUNCH DEFENSE OF CHURCH

Knights of Columbus Enter Joan of Arc Discussion.

JUDGE GIBBONS AIDS MOVE.

His Paper on the Execution Will Be Scattered Broadcast.

A campaign to contest the claims of the assailants of religion, government, and authority was launched yesterday under the auspices of the Gen. James Shields council of the Knights of Columbus.

A special committee of members of that council has been especially intrusted with the work and this committee has secured the services of judges, professors, clergymen, lawyers, and others who from time to time will write and speak upon subjects in which religion, government, and authority will be defended.

Covert attacks upon the Roman Catholic church will be answered upon historical basis in pamphlets, letters, circulars, and lectures.

Judge Gibbons Prepares Paper.

The first gun was fired during the day in reply to claims of Mangasarian and others who are now lecturing and discussing the great French historical figure of Joan of Arc.

Judge John Gibbons of the Circuit court of Cook county, who has made a special study of historical works and facts in which the Catholic church and religion generally have been involved, was requested to prepare the first paper presenting the Roman Catholic views regarding Joan of Arc.

Judge Gibbons' paper has been approved by the committee as authoritative and thousands of copies will be distributed throughout the country to newspapers, publications, and libraries. The paper was first read at a meeting of the Knights of Columbus during the day and will be issued for general free distribution in a few days.

In brief, Judge Gibbons takes the position that false ministers of the church and not the church herself sanctioned Joan of Arc's execution.

"Certain persons who are anxious to cast reflection and ignominy upon the Catholic church, try to make it appear by insinuation, if not assertion, that the church is to blame for the burning at the stake of Joan of Arc, but such is not the fact," he writes. "Joan was the victim of English gold and French perfidy."

Leaders in the Campaign.

The committee which is to direct the campaign consists of Dr. Eugene Clancy, Charles Lahey, Frank Marnell, P. B. Flanagan, George Trumbull, George Deasey, George Lynch, James Power, Simon T. Sutton, Daniel Donahoe, John B. Wieklinski, Michael Sheehan, Eugene Chartrand, Stephen Dooley, Thomas Cahill, and Anthony Czarnecki, the grand knight of Gen. James Shields council.

"Heretofore Gen. James Shields council has been waging an educational campaign by means of free public lectures, said Mr. Czarnecki. "Now these public lectures will be supplemented by special statements, appeals, and action in defense of historical truth, religion, and government whenever opportunity or cause for it presents itself.

"In our work we feel that we will have the support and coöperation of every good citizen as well as of every member of the order of the Knights of Columbus."

JAIL FOR LYONS SALOON MEN.

Second Offenders in Prohibition Territory Must Give Up Village Licenses or Go to Cells.

Nineteen saloonkeepers of the township of Lyons pleaded guilty yesterday to selling liquor in prohibition territory and were fined by Judge Tuthill.

Seven of them who admitted it was their second offense were fined $50 each and also sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail or give up the licenses they obtained to sell liquor in this state. The second offenders, all from the village of Lyons, were:

Carlos Zassera, Frank K. Karlowsky, Frank Schutz, A. Schomat John McGrath, George R. Nehr, and Joseph Haralek.

WANTS FREE HAND IN SUGAR INQUIRY

President Taft Asks Congress to Keep Out of the Case for the Present.

IS OBTAINING EVIDENCE.

Witnesses Tell of Light System That Warned of Inspectors' Approach at Docks.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—The administration is determined to punish the sugar thieves and reform the customs administration of the country without congressional interference.

To callers at the White house today the president indicated his hope that there would be no congressional investigation at this time. On the other hand, he urges that the executive be allowed a free hand, and asked support of the item of $50,000 included in the annual estimates, which is to be spent to defray the expenses of the investigation of the frauds upon the revenues of the country.

President Taft and his advisers were shocked over the recent revelations in the New York custom house, and at the appropriate time, it is declared upon authority, the president will take occasion to comment on the subject. Just now the administration takes the position that it would be unwise for congress to take a hand in the sugar inquiry because of the fear on the part of the prosecuting officers that their plans would be divulged and possibly a measure of immunity gained by sugar officials through compulsory appearance before a committee of congress.

Wickersham Collecting Evidence.

While no formal announcement has been made in this regard it is known that Attorney General Wickersham is actively at work collecting evidence which will be used against sugar trust officials in court. For the present he has taken few persons into his confidence outside of cabinet circles, and it is understood he will advise the leaders in the house and senate that an inquiry such as has been proposed by a number of members might seriously embarrass the department of justice in its efforts to bring the wrongdoers in the sugar trust to justice.

There is good reason to believe, therefore, that if the leaders can prevent it, no action will be taken for some months to come on the resolutions offered providing for an inquiry into the operations of the American Sugar Refining company. But it is not believed the leaders will be able to smother these resolutions throughout the session. Practically all of the Democrats, and a considerable number of Republicans, insist that the sugar trust should be brought to justice in the courts and the methods by which it has made enormous profits through a system of corruption laid bare to the public.

Two Resolutions in House.

Two resolutions were introduced in the house today calling for an investigation of the activities of the sugar trust. One was offered by Representative Campbell of Kansas and another by Representative Garner of Pennsylvania. Both men are Republicans. Notice has been given by other members that they are preparing resolutions and will introduce them later in the week. There will be a flood of resolutions tomorrow, and indications are that sugar trust resolutions will be among the number.

The Campbell resolution provides for the creation of a committee to sift the scandal to the bottom. The Garner resolution is broader in scope and affects Chicago. It provides for a general inquiry into the conduct of the customs service throughout the United States, with special reference to the collection of sugar duties "and the national scandal arising from the operations of the sugar trust."

A committee of eight, to be composed of five representatives and three senators, is authorized. This committee is given broad authority, being empowered to subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance and to enforce the production of books and papers, and it specifically indicates the sergeant at arms of the house and senate and their deputies as officers, who shall enforce the orders of the committee of inquiry.

Representative Campbell said he was not disposed to rush the inquiry into the operations of the sugar trust, intending first to confer with Attorney General Wickersham.

Lights Warned of Agents.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—New matter was introduced today by the government in the trial of James F. Bendernagel, Oliver Spitzer, and four former checkers of the Havemeyer & Elder refinery in Williamsburg by the testimony of two government laborers about an electric light signal system used to warn checkers on the docks of the approach of government agents and inspectors.

The witnesses were Frederick B. Sanders, colored, and John Rochefort, employed as laborers by the government and assigned frequently to work on the Williamsburg docks.

Sanders testified that there was an electric light in each of the seventeen scalehouses in which the government weighers worked. He frequently had seen these lights flash after becoming dim as if about to go out. He noticed that after such a flash somebody connected with the government appeared on the dock in a short time. He noticed, too, he said, that when the flashes were given the sugar company's checkers hastened to balance the scales so that by the time the government people appeared everything would be in apple pie order.

Signals Common Talk at Docks.

Sanders said these signals were common talk at the Williamsburg docks, and he had known them to be flashed when Gen. Clarkson, surveyor of the port, and James F. Vail, until a few weeks ago deputy collector, visited the docks. He was unable to give the dates of these visits, but said he had seen both officials there several times. Sanders testified he never had known a time when government officials didn't appear within a few minutes after a flash.

A government district weigher named Hyatt, who had done weighing at the Williamsburg docks for several years, after court adjourned told how the signal was worked. The sugar company, he said, stationed watchmen several blocks from the docks. When these watchmen saw anybody connected with the government approaching one of them would press a button placed conveniently near him, which flashed the signals in each scale house. Then the checkers put things in order. Hyatt said these signals were given whenever he went to the docks. It was Hyatt's duty to see that the scales were properly balanced and in good condition.

Tuckhorn Loses Again in Court.

Despite his resistance, Simon Tuckhorn steadily is losing ground in his fight to prevent the Blackstone Hotel company from ousting him from the site of the Olympia café. His motion for a new trial in the third of the forcible detainer suits brought by the hotel company was overruled yesterday by Municipal Judge Girten.

PAYS GOOD PRICE FOR POOR LUMBER

Merriam Inquiry Shows Details of Careless, Expensive Purchases by the City.

EXPERTS IN A QUANDARY.

Municipal Agents Admit They Can't Tell Difference Between Spruce and Pine.

More details of how the city has suffered the usual fate of a careless customer in lumber purchases came to light yesterday when the Merriam commission placed municipal employés of the bridge bureau on the carpet. It was brought out vividly how the city paid for No. 1 white pine and received spruce and yellow pine, and how it purchased the best white oak and got an inferior red oak.

Among the concerns mentioned in the course of the day's inquiry relative to the lumber transactions were the Thornton Claney company and the Edward Hines company.

No condemning admissions were drawn from the testimony of the city employés concerned, but Attorney Walter L. Fisher told forcibly that investigators and inspectors for the commission had found in the yards of the bridge bureau inferior grades of lumber for which the city had paid high class prices.

Can't Tell Spruce from Pine.

He attempted to show that the employés—Thomas G. Pihlfeldt, bridge engineer; James D. McKinley, carpenter foreman of the south division; and Walter R. Carmody, carpenter foreman of the north division—could not tell first class lumber from second class lumber, or spruce from pine, and in this Mr. Fisher in a large measure was successful.

Engineer Pihlfeldt admitted he was not an expert in the judge of lumber. Foreman McKinley said his opinion on matters of that sort would differ with others, and Foreman Carmody frankly stated he couldn't tell spruce from pine, with the supplementary remark to the effect that no one else could, either.

Whether there has been any graft, or whether the lumber companies simply have found the city an easy mark and have been dumping in certain cases the rankest kind of inferior lumber on the city—such lumber in one instance that one concern even would not make an offer for it on account of the quality—or just who the mysterious party in the woodpile is the proceedings did not clearly bring out.

But that the city has been hit hard was evident, and that in the present arrangement there is no check of any sort to prevent this or a recurrence of pilfering somewhere along the line was disclosed in a way that left no doubt.

Engineer Not a Lumber Expert.

First to appear before the commission was Engineer Philfeldt. He declared under examination that he was a civil service employé and became bridge engineer under former Commissioner of Public Works Joseph Medill Patterson.

In answering questions Mr. Pihlfeldt indicated that he was not an expert in the discrimination of various grades of lumber. He also admitted he was not able to judge personally whether lumber delivered was always of the proper grade.

Foreman McKinley, next on the stand, was shown a contract with the Edward Hines Lumber company calling for No. 1 white pine.

"I never saw those contracts," he said. "No copies were given me. I would just accept any white pine delivered, provided it was of fair quality."

An oak contract which specified that no red or other inferior grades of oak were to be delivered, was shown. The witness stated that he would accept an occasional stick [illegible] oak as the difference was too trivial [illegible] worth bothering about. A bill approved by him was produced. This was dated Oct. 4, 1909, and called for $140 of white oak from the Hines company.

Does Not Inspect Every Piece.

"Do you know that 28 per cent of this was red oak?" asked Attorney Fisher. "Do you know that ten pieces out of forty-five pieces were red oak?"

"I don't believe it," came back the carpenter quickly.

"Even if that were all the red oak in the whole 120 pieces that would be 10 per cent. Do you think that proper?"

"No. I suppose the load looked all right when it came and the red oak was in the middle. I don't turn it over piece by piece."

"So it is the practice of a big concern like the Edward Hines Lumber company to ring in 10 per cent of red oak when its contract specifies white?"

"My experience with lumber companies is that they will ring in anything that you'll let them."

"Precisely. Then shouldn't there be a better inspection?"

"It would be exceedingly expensive."

O. K.'s It on Men's Report.

Order No. 528 for three white pine timbers was produced. McKinley said he never saw it, but O. K.'d it as his men reported it all right.

"But suppose," said Attorney Fisher, "our two experts said all of it was Norway pine, and No. 2 Norway pine at that, excessively checked and split, and that a firm asked to make a figure on it said it was too poor to put a price on?"

"Some people who think themselves pretty smart are mistaken in lumber sometimes," was the retort.

David R. Forgan was present at the hearing and asked a few questions. The commission will sit again this afternoon. Attorney Fisher will leave for New York and Washington tomorrow and until his return next week the sessions probably will be discontinued.

EXPECT A ROCKEFELLER GIFT

University of Chicago Trustees Prepare Annual Report.

PROFIT INSTEAD OF DEFICIT

Good Showing, It Is Said, Will Win a Christmas Present.

A large Christmas gift from John D. Rockefeller is expected as the result of the trip to be made by officials of the University of Chicago to New York this month. This was declared yesterday by Wallace Heckman, business manager and counsel of the university. Mr. Heckman would not go further into the matter than to say that each year's budget is larger than the one of the preceding twelve months, and that Mr. Rockefeller is in the habit of making up the difference.

The counsel's statement generally is interpreted as meaning that Mr. Rockefeller will start the movement for a "larger university" with the first gift for the purpose. The report of Auditor Arnett shows that the university after paying all expenses, earned $37,000 last year, so that Mr. Rockefeller will not be called upon to "do the customary" in increasing the endowment fund.

Mr. Heckman will go with President Harry Pratt Judson and Trustee Martin Ryerson for the budget conference.

The University of Chicago now owns the land between Madison and Cottage Grove avenues, from Sixtieth to Sixty-first streets, and money to erect buildings has not been received. Among the buildings advocated by President Judson in his report are a woman's gymnasium, a geology building, and a zoology laboratory.

"We have been in the habit of making up our budget in such a way that it needed an addition from Mr. Rockefeller," said Mr. Heckman. "Of course I cannot say whether he will give us all we need."

Trustee Ryerson denied strenuously that he is contemplating a $1,000,000 gift to the university for making Ryerson Physical laboratory the finest in the country, as printed in a morning paper yesterday.

"I must say I was quite humiliated to see the amount placed at a million dollars," he said, "for it will not be more than one-twentieth that much."

AWARD U. OF C. SCHOLARSHIPS.

Eight High School Students Win Prizes—Over 250 Took the Examinations.

Announcements of awards to high school students who competed at the University of Chicago contests on Nov. 19 was made yesterday, the scholarships going to the following:

James Lebensohn, McKinley High school, botany.

Edna M. Straus, Wendell Phillips High school, English.

Bertha Riss, Lake View High school, German.

William Kurzin, Wendell Phillips High school, Latin.

Frank B. Kelley, Joliet High school, mathematics.

Matthew Benesh, John Marshall High school, physics.

Helen Swasey, De Kalb township, and Leonard Grossman, Wendell Phillips High school, declamations.

Over 250 boys and girls took the examinations, the largest number, 88, trying for the English prize.

PRESIDENT URION TO CONFER WITH RABBIS ON SONGS TODAY

"Battle Hymn of the Republic" One of Selections Objected To as Having Sectarian Religious Flavor.

Is the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" a song with a sectarian religious flavor and so unsuitable to be sung in the Chicago public schools? The question is one which will have to be solved today, when President Alfred R. Urion of the board of education will meet a delegation of Jewish rabbis who have protested against certain songs which appear in books used in the schools. Among those protested is Julia Ward Howe's composition.

The conference was scheduled for yesterday, but the rabbis did not appear at the president's office.

"I think this matter will be settled satisfactorily without taking it to the whole board," said Mr. Urion. "It is not the intention of the board to offend any religious denomination or to allow any sectarian influence in the conduct of the schools. I have asked Modie J. Spiegel to look over the songs objected to and to pass an opinion on them.

Plans of the members of the Englewood High school football team to invade the far west and contest with school teams of Seattle, Wash., and Butte, Mont., probably will be strongly opposed by the board if the consent of the authorities is asked. Yesterday President Urion's opinion was asked.

"I have heard of the plans, but as the request of the school authorities has not been asked no action has been taken," he said. "But speaking for myself, I am strongly against it."

NO MAIL FOR SANTA CLAUS.

Letters Addressed to St. Nick Will Go to Dead Letter Office Unless Order Comes from Washington.

All letters addressed to Santa Claus this year will be sent to the dead letter office unless the postmaster general issues an order directing that they be distributed to charitable organizations, as was done two years ago.

Assistant Postmaster Hubbard said he hoped to be given permission to dispose of the letters to the charitably inclined, but that he had been disappointed.

He does not expect the postmaster general to take any action, he said.

WIRE COMPANIES SUE GRAIN BROKER

Sidmon McHie Accused of Illegally Using Board of Trade Quotations.

INJUNCTION IS SOUGHT.

Complainants Ask That He Be Restrained from Reorganizing in Case He Loses.

Sidmon McHie, organizer of the Capital Investment company, and fourteen other officers and employés of the same concern must appear on Friday in the United States Circuit court before Judge C. C. Kohlsaat to show cause why they should not be enjoined from acquiring and using the quotations of the Chicago board of trade.

The bill for an injunction was filed in the court last Thursday. It also asks that McHie be restrained from organizing other companies should the injunction be granted. The plaintiffs in the action are the Postal, Western Union, Cleveland, and the Chicago and Milwaukee telegraph companies.

Deny Right to Quotations.

The plaintiffs declare that the company uses the regular board of trade quotations without any right to them.

"The suit is the result of malice on the part of the board of trade," said Charles W. Bickell, one of the defendants. "I am not engaged actively in the business of the company, but I have been in business thirty years and I know who is responsible for the bringing of the suit.

"As far as I know the company never has used the board of trade's quotations."

Thomas Donovan of Joliet, to whom one of the defendants referred to explain the case, said he knew little about this application for an injunction.

The offices of the Capital Investment company are in the Rookery building, and the dominating factor is its organizer, Sidmon McHie, although Richard I. Marr is president. Branch offices of the company to the number of seventy-five are scattered throughout the middle west.

No Contract with Companies.

The company has no contract with any of the telegraph companies for furnishing it with continuous market quotations, and its representatives refused to say how the company obtains its reports.

Although McHie is not a member of the board of trade, he has been an extensive grain broker for a number of years. Three times prior to this the telegraph companies have had injunctions issued against his companies.

Ten years ago he organized the Central Stock and Grain exchange of Chicago. When it was enjoined he started the Central Stock and Grain exchange of Hammond, Ind. At the institution of suits against this company he inaugurated the Hammond Elevator company and this in turn gave way to the Capital Investment company when an injunction threatened.

PRESIDENT BUSSE URGES A LARGER COUNTY HOSPITAL.

Recommendations Include Suggestions for Rebuilding Present Structure and Adding Extensions.

President William Busse of the county board yesterday presented his annual message, in which he advocates the building, practically, of a new county hospital.

His proposition is to rebuild all the old parts of the hospital and extend it entirely over the county's large block, 600x400 feet in extent, on which the hospital now is located.

"It is clear that a comprehensive hospital plan should be adopted," he says. "A commission should be appointed to examine into and report on the needs of the future.

"Their first step necessarily would be the consideration of a plan for the ultimate rebuilding of the old portion of the present hospital, so as to accommodate about 2,500 patients, which is probably the greatest number that could be provided for on the present grounds."

JACK THE SLASHER BUSY AGAIN

More Aurora Women Are Attacked by Mysterious Man.

HIDES BEHIND THE TREES.

Posse Hunts in Vain After Five Assaults in One Day.

New attacks upon Aurora women by a mysterious "Jack the Slasher" have caused the feminine portion of the population to remain indoors after dark.

The last attack was Sunday night upon Mrs. Emma Skinner Miller, superintendent of music in the West Aurora schools, and one of the leaders of Aurora society. Others who have been slashed with a knife or beaten are:

Mrs. William Berry, wife of a cement contractor.

Miss Anna Barnat.

Miss Clara Kaiser.

Miss Ada Woodward.

Mrs. William Berry was most seriously hurt of the women recently attacked. Just as she and Miss Ada Woodward, 561 New York street, were passing the "slasher" leaped out from behind a tree and struck Mrs. Berry a blow under the eye, knocking her to the sidewalk.

As she cried out the assailant aimed a blow with a knife at Miss Woodward and then fled. The screams of the women brought many neighbors to the scene. A posse searched the neighborhood, but no trace of the "slasher" could be found.

TWO HURT IN AUTO CRASH; STEERING GEAR GOES WRONG.

Chief Oculist of Pennsylvania Railroad Most Seriously Injured—Was Trying Out a New Machine.

P. L. Thomas of Logansport, Ind., chief oculist of the Pennsylvania railroad, was hurt seriously, and Leo Coe, automobile demonstrator for the Dowd-Schofield company, 1229 Michigan avenue, received several slight wounds when a machine in which they were riding crashed into the curb at Michigan avenue and Hubbard court late yesterday afternoon.

The car was overturned by the crash, which was caused by the steering gear becoming disarranged.

According to a statement made by Coe, Thomas came to Chicago several days ago to purchase an automobile. They were trying out a car owned by the Dowd-Schofield company, and had been driving about the city an hour previous to the collision.

Witnesses to the accident took the injured men to St. Luke's hospital.

LEFT MEN TO DIE, BUT SAVED COAL

Widow Tells Cherry Coroner of Indifference of the Mine Officials.

FALSE CAGE DEATH TRAP.

Carpenter Says Hemmed In Victims Had No Chance to Escape Alive.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Cherry, Ill., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Testimony confirming THE TRIBUNE'S exclusive announcement that the Cherry mine was a veritable death trap and that more than 500 miners were left without notification of their danger for more than two hours after the discovery of the fire of Nov. 13, was introduced at today's session of the coroner's inquest.

Witnesses testified that the mine bosses continued to hoist coal from the mine for a long time after the entire population of Cherry had been alarmed by the smoke and flames that were pouring out of the mouth of the air shaft and that frantic wives and mothers were told that the men were not being brought to the surface because there was no danger.

The appealing women were advised to return to their homes even after the smoke in the main shaft of the mine had become so dense that no human being possibly could live in it for more than a few minutes.

Widow Tells of Saving Coal.

Mrs. Jemima Miller, whose husband perished in the mine, was one of the witnesses who testified that the mine managers paid more attention to their coal than to their men after the fire from the bale of hay, ignited by a lamp dripping burning kerosene oil, had been communicated to the timbers of the air shaft.

"I went to the shaft at 1:45 o'clock, more than two hours after the bale of hay was set afire," stated Mrs. Miller, "and they still were hoisting coal. Smoke was coming out of the air shaft and I asked Mr. Buck, the chief clerk, why they did not hoist the men out of the mine instead of hoisting the coal. He said he guessed they would, but he told me to go on home, for there was no danger. The fire, he said, would soon be out—that it only was some hay that was afire."

"How much coal did you see hoisted?" the woman was asked.

"They kept hoisting coal for some time that I noticed," she replied. "I could say they hoisted three cars and I think more."

Carpenter Describes "Death Trap."

George Jones, employed as a carpenter at the mine, testified that in the whole range of tunnels there was only one sign to point the way to the air shaft, which was meant to be a means of escape for the miners in the case of fire or explosions.

It was shown further by the carpenter's testimony that the "dummy" cage that was supposed to be attached to the bottom of the main shaft cage to lift the miners from the third to the second level of the mine in cases of emergency was a deceptive thing that never had been used to lift or lower the men working in the third vein and that miners who sought that means of escape on the day of the fire ran into certain death rather than the escape promised by the mine management at the time the "dummy" cage was installed.

"Dummy" Cage False Hope.

"With this 'dummy' cage at the bottom of the third vein and its cable not attached to the bottom of the main cage," stated Jones, "no miner could reach the second level of the main shaft without climbing straight up the wall of the shaft for nearly 200 feet by means of bracing timbers that were set three feet apart, and after that climb he would have to displace a heavy sheet of perforated iron that closed the main shaft at the second level to catch the loose coal and drippings that fell from the main cage while coal was being hoisted.

"It would take the combined strength of two men to move this iron plate. To my knowledge the plate never had been removed nor the 'dummy' cage attached to the main cage, except a long time ago when they were placing a set of pipes in the main shaft from the second to the third vein."

Other testimony showed that at least 170 men in the vein who found the air shaft stairway swept by flames when they fled to that supposed means of escape, died like penned up rats on the third level because the "dummy" cage was not in working order.

Bucks Further Implicated.

Further inquiry, directed to show that Alex Rosenjack and Robert Dean, two important witnesses, were spirited away as a result of a conspiracy headed by officials of the St. Paul coal company, elicited testimony that seemed more strongly to connect the chief clerk, Frank Buck, and his son, Fred H. Buck, with the disappearance of the witnesses.

Charles L. Connolly, cashier of the Bank of Cherry, testified that on two occasions after the flight of Rosenjack from Cherry he had paid money to Fred H. Buck on written orders signed by Rosenjack. One order was for wages due to Rosenjack and the other for the balance of his bank account.

"I do not know where Rosenjack was located when he sent those orders to Buck," said Connolly, "and I do not know where, when, or how he received the money from Buck."

Connolly admitted that he had destroyed both the Rosenjack money orders, leaving his bank without protection. He declared, however, that the destruction of the orders had no connection with any effort to keep Rosenjack in hiding, as the orders themselves contained no information as to Rosenjack's whereabouts.

Fresh Apples Are Welcome.

The arrival today of fifty crates of luscious apples from THE TRIBUNE'S big land show in Chicago was a welcome break in the monotony of canned goods, bread, and milk at the Cherry relief store.

The apples were distributed sparingly to the hundreds of women and children who came to the store for needed supplies, for the fruit was considered as a timely change in the dietary routine of the dependent people, and the relief managers said they wished to make the apples go as far as possible.

"We are in great need of fruit and green vegetables," said one of the men in charge of the relief commissary. "If only the merchants of South Water street in Chicago and those of other cities would send us a carload or more of garden truck and as much fruit as they could spare it would help much in keeping up the health of the people who have been living on canned stuff that forms the greater part of our supplies."

The women of Aurora, Ill., have begun a movement to bring Christmas cheer into the desolated homes of Cherry. They are gathering information of the age, sex, and number of persons in each home, and intend to send some sort of Christmas gift to each person.

"TRIBUNE" OSTRICHES TAKEN TO THE LINCOLN PARK ZOO.

Christmas Gift Birds, Carted from the Coliseum in Special Cages, Receive Ovation on Arrival at New Home.

"Tribune" and "Irraga," braving the cold weather, were moved yesterday morning from their headquarters in the Arizona ostrich breeders' exhibit at the Coliseum to their new home in the bird house at the Lincoln park zoo, as THE TRIBUNE'S Christmas gift to the thousands of children who annually visit that popular feature of the park.

The cages in which the birds were housed during the trip from the Coliseum to the park were covered with blankets to prevent them catching cold.

In the afternoon the cage in which the birds will be kept was thrown open for inspection and an informal reception was held at the zoo. The children who viewed them were enthusiastic.

The birds derive their names from the land show, at which they were big drawing cards. They trace their ancestry back to birds that were brought from South Africa and settled in California. Two of the family—the direct ancestors of the Lincoln park animals—were removed to Arizona in 1891. From this original pair the family grew to number 5,000.

The particular ostrich family to which "Tribune" and "Irraga" belong represents a value of no less than $1,500,000, that amount being invested in the ostrich industry by the Arizona Breeders' association which exhibited the two birds at the recent land show, under the auspices of the Commercial club of Phoenix.

The ostrich farms, the owners of which are members of the association, are located in Mericopa county, Arizona. Some of the farms have as many as 3,500 birds. The majority have flocks numbering from twenty-five to 100 birds.

NEW YORK AFTER MILK TRUST.

Investigation Will Spread from the City to Upstate Dealers and Producers.

New York, Dec. 6.—Indications today were that the state investigation of the so-called milk trust will be far reaching in its scope.

Following the appointment by the Supreme court of a referee to take testimony here and in Albany, it was learned that the investigation, which will be begun on Thursday next, will extend to the upstate milk interests for the purpose of determining the price paid by the dealers and the causes for the apparent wide discrepancy indicated by currently published quotations between the price paid the producer and that paid by the consumer.

It is alleged that the so-called trust has contracted for and controls about 80 per cent of all milk available for consumption within New York City.

Motion for New Trial Follows Defeat in the Federal Supreme Court.

PRISON TEN DAYS AWAY.

Final Fight for Freedom Based on Claim That Jurors Used Intoxicants.

New York, Dec. 6.—All the hope apparently left Charles W. Morse for escaping the serving of a fifteen years' sentence in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga., is that a notice of motion for a new trial, filed today with the United States Circuit court, the court of conviction, eventually will lead to his having another day in court.

Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Morse, appeared before the court immediately upon receipt of the decision of the Supreme court of the United States today denying Morse's application for a writ of certiorari, and gave notice of the proposed motion.

Morse Remains in Tombs.

Under the forty day stay of sentence previously granted, ten days remain in which counsel may seek a final adjudication of the case in pursuance of the notice of motion for a new trial filed today. Should the United States Circuit court decide against him in this last instance, service of the sentence will begin on or before Dec. 16. In the meantime Morse remains in the Tombs.

While his application was pending before the highest tribunal at Washington Mr. Littleton obtained an amendment to the mandate of the Circuit Court of Appeals here permitting the Circuit court to entertain the motion by Morse for a new trial filed today, on the ground that the jurors who convicted him were not properly guarded during the trial, and that some of them indulged to excess in intoxicants.

History of Long Fight.

Charles W. Morse was sentenced on Nov. 6, 1908, to a term of fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, for misapplication of the funds of the National Bank of North America. He was released from the Tombs last June on $125,000 bail, raised chiefly by the efforts of his wife among men high in financial circles, who still believe in the ability of their former associate to recuperate his fortunes. While out on bail Morse is said to have accomplished much in the way of regaining control of his former extensive interests.

Papers in New Suit Served.

When the United States Circuit Court of Appeals decided against him, two months ago, he promptly surrendered himself to the authorities and resumed his life in the city prison. His counsel then prepared to take the case to the United States Supreme court.

Late today Deputy United States Marshal Kumb visited Morse at the Tombs and served him with preliminary papers in a new suit, brought in the United States Circuit court by J. Kearney Rice, as trustee in bankruptcy for the Consolidated Arizona Smelting company.

MORSE RULING BLOW TO WALSH

Chicagoan to Make Same Appeal Denied to New Yorker.

GUARDED, TOILS AT OFFICE.

Attorney Miller Decides Not to Ask for Bail Today.

Formal application to the United States Supreme court for a writ of certiorari will be made on Dec. 20 for John R. Walsh by his chief counsel, John S. Miller.

The general belief is that the application will be in vain, especially in view of the fact that Charles W. Morse, found guilty of misapplying the funds of the Bank of North America, New York City, was yesterday denied a similar application.

The Supreme court refused to grant the writ that would bring Morse's case before that court for a review after the Court of Appeals had sustained the conviction.

Attorney Miller gave formal notice to the judges of the Court of Appeals that he will make no further effort today, as planned, to reopen the case of Walsh in the Appellate court and argue further for the admission of Walsh to bail. District Attorneys Sims was given the same notice. Mr. Miller is now working on the petition for a writ of certiorari which he intends filing with the Supreme court.

Both Verdicts Sustained.

Both Morse and Walsh were tried and convicted of misapplying national bank funds—Morse the funds of the Bank of North America in New York, and Walsh the funds of the Chicago National bank. Morse was sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary. Walsh's sentence was five years. Both appealed to federal courts of appeals.

In each case the lower courts were sustained. Petitions for rehearing were denied in each instance. And now the United States Supreme court has denied certiorari in one of them, that of Morse.

"It would not do for me to discuss the Morse decision, in view of the fact that the Walsh case is pending," said District Attorney Sims, when asked for his views of the Supreme court's action and its possible bearing on the Walsh case.

Despite Mr. Sims' refusal to be interviewed it is the general impression that the government lawyers who prosecuted Walsh feel that the Morse decision means a great deal in a way bearing upon the Chicago banker's case.

"I do not see that the two cases are alike or that the decision in the Morse case affects ours," said Mr. Miller. "Further, however, I would not care to discuss the decision or the two cases."

Walsh Works in Office.

Walsh spent between four and five hours at work in his office at the Grand Central station yesterday under the guard of Deputy United States Marshal Thomas Middleton. The ex-banker went to his office in charge of Deputy Edwin Northrop, who was relieved by Middleton when the latter had made a report to Marshal Luman T. Hoy.

Upon arising in the morning Mr. Walsh made a try at shaving himself, but found that there was too much stiffness in the arm he had had broken several weeks ago. Consequently a barber was called in.

There will be a change in Mr. Walsh's guard today. Deputy Middleton will be taken off duty as one of the custodians. Middleton is the regular guard at the door of the federal grand jury room and today the federal grand jury will convene for daily sessions.

The Guardians of Your "Alton" Trip

They insure the "Alton" passengers the utmost in comfort and safety and convenience.

The moment you enter the station a gentlemanly porter relieves you of your baggage and escorts you to your seat. And throughout your whole trip he will fulfill your every want.

The conductor is the train captain who, besides merely collecting your ticket, is constantly looking out for your comfort and safety. He is the father of the trip.

Nearing your journey's end the baggage and cab service man checks your baggage and if desired will have a cab all ready when you step off the train.

The "rear guard" flagman and crossing flagman are guardians you seldom see—yet they play a big part in your safe arrival.

SHAPE-KEEPING is important in shoes; not much satisfaction in a shoe that's out of shape in a month's wear. Selz Royal Blue Shoes are kept on the last in the factory from start to finish; they "season" on the last. That gives them a fitting and a shape-keeping quality that most shoes don't have. We'll put the exactly right shape and size on your foot; and when you've tried them once, you'll insist on Selz after that.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1909.

MOST of us remember 1894.

WHEN the people were cured of a fondness for railway strikes.

THERE is a possible danger that "orgy" may become a synonym for "First ward ball."

BE careful not to get your Watsons confused. The estimable medical gentleman known as the personal friend of Sherlock Holmes is a different kind of Watson.

GRADUALLY the various disseminators of news veered around to THE TRIBUNE's position relative to Mr. Calhoun's acceptance of the Chinese mission.

FORTUNATELY there is no likelihood that the relative merits of Prof. Ty Cobb and Prof. Honus Wagner will form the basis of an acrimonious and prolonged controversy, establishing a distinct line of cleavage and compelling the people of the country to take sides.

DON'T blame the weather man. He gave you timely notice in his official capacity that the cold wave was coming.

THERE need be no fear that congress will go wrong this time. Mr. Moxley is watching things. Have faith in Moxley.

BY a court decision express companies are liable for the full value of whatever packages they lose. The tendency of this will be to make them more careful, and whatever helps in this direction is a distinct gain for humanity at large.

NEED FOR MR. SHAW.

If Mr. G. Bernard Shaw will reconsider his decision not to come to America we will guarantee that the goddess of liberty will greet him with a welcoming hand and a contrite heart, welcoming in spite of his harsh, cruel words and contrite because of them. The United States has a particular and pressing need for Mr. Shaw at this precise moment and respectfully requests him to come over. Let him come and take William Watson back home.

GIVE THE TWO RUSSIANS AN OPEN TRIAL.

It will be interesting to notice what attention is paid by Prime Minister Stolypin to the protest sent from America against the secret trial of Prof. Tchaikovsky and Mme. Breshkorsky. The protest, which was signed by over 500 representative men, was no threat and breathed no impertinence. Stolypin had promised the prisoners a fair trial, and the Americans have merely asked him to keep that promise.

With the results of the trial of Ferrer in Spain yet fresh in the public mind, the prime minister might think twice before bringing these two prisoners before a star chamber tribunal. The English or American idea of a "fair trial" is radically different from some European standards. The proceedings in a recent French criminal case furnished an instance of this difference, which is still greater when the case concerns political offenders.

The protest against the secret trial is not confined to Americans. Similar remonstrances have been sent from several countries which feel that the cause of justice can be better satisfied when the tribunal is open, where the defendants have all the benefit of the law, and where the evidence is made public.

WILLIAM J. CALHOUN.

The secretary of state has selected for one of the two or three most important missions in the American diplomatic service W. J. Calhoun, who is fitted by temperament, training, and ability to succeed where Mr. Crane failed. But there is an unconscious and ironical humor in the denial of the Associated Press canard made by the usually discreet Mr. Calhoun. The government has had enough of refusals in its attempt to find for diplomatic positions men whose fitness met the administration's standard rather than that of the applicants' friends.

And, as a matter of fact, when Mr. Calhoun was asked to consider the mission to China in all probability he did not know how many, if any, other gentlemen had been asked to take the same matter under consideration, and, so far as THE TRIBUNE is able to learn, the offer of the appointment was predicated upon his acceptance and not offered for his refusal. Be that as it may, Mr. Calhoun's selection has satisfied the Chinese, who have signified their official acceptance of him as the minister from the United States.

His training and diplomatic experience are such that they must compel the approval of even Mr. Knox's critics, and his combined tact, tolerance, and firmness will insure his friendly relations with his colleagues in the intriguing diplomatic colony at Peking. For Illinois the selection is eminently satisfactory, as W. J. Calhoun, with one exception, is the single figure in public or quasi public life in the state which challenges general respect.

A GENERAL STRIKE WOULD BE TEMPORARY RUIN.

The president of the National Association of Manufacturers sums up the answers of 3,000 firms to letters sent out by it. They agree that trade conditions are good and are improving with increased buying and selling throughout the land. The reports from the west are specially optimistic. "When freight moves in large volumes, steadily utilizing the utmost capacity of the roads," says the president of the association, "one can rest assured that trade is developing satisfactorily."

Official returns of the internal commerce of the country compiled by the bureau of statistics of the treasury department confirm the view of the situation taken by the correspondents of the National Association of Manufacturers. The traffic movement of the railroads for October showed gratifying gains. The improved industrial situation was manifested in the heavy movement of coke and ore for the iron furnaces.

A general railroad strike would work a sudden and disastrous change in conditions. The paralysis of traffic would mean a paralysis of industry. Producers and consumers would be equal sufferers. The talk so often heard now of the prosperity of the country would be hushed. All this and worse would happen if the railroads and their employés were to assume that they were the only parties interested in the transportation question and plunge into a furious fight.

When shippers and business men of all classes hear railroad officials and the officers of railway unions talking of the possibility of a strike it is time for them to do something more than sit with folded hands waiting for disaster to befall them.

A FIGHT FOR SPECIAL INTERESTS.

"We have got them at last and we do not mean to let them go until all the accounts of the ledger are settled." Those words of Lloyd-George point the way to the English battlefield. It is apparent already that the scheme of the peers to pose as the friends of the people has failed. Minor details are to be subordinated to the main question, whether the interests of the country do not demand that the house of lords be abolished entirely or undergo complete transformation.

"The action of the lords makes reforms supported by nonconformists impossible," says the most influential and widely circulated church paper. Lloyd-George, addressing a large company of friends at the National Liberal club, made his greatest hit when he described the lords "killing a bill leveled against old age infirmity, sickness, and the evils of unemployment." Then he suggested a future plan as he indicated that the budget was "designed to furnish financial resources of cumulative force for carrying out many social reforms."

The case is that of "the people vs. privilege." A brief dispatch from London shows that, except for a mere handful of members, the house of lords is made up of representatives of special interests, and those the interests most affected by the proposed budget duties. The peers own one-fifth of the land of Great Britain. Those who defeated the budget hold the ownership of 10,078,979 of the 16,411,986 acres possessed by peers of all parties. They make the great landed class. Not one of them owns fewer than 1,000 acres. Twenty-three of them have 100,000 acres or more each. The average holdings of dukes, marquises, earls, viscounts, and barons run into the thousands, the first named having upwards of 140,000 each, the last in the list more than 14,000 each.

The great brewers are peers. They are standing together in hostile array in the fight made to lessen the evils of intemperance among the common people because the proposed liquor duties strike at their personal revenues. They have large holdings of land also. A careful estimate indicates that there are forty-two railroad directors among the lords, and forty-four of that body are bank directors or bank partners, handling the liquid capital deposited in their banks by others. A large number are well known as captains of industry, whose money is invested in great industrial concerns.

In the fight the lords are on the defensive. They have set aside the constitutional precedents of centuries. They have opened the way to renewed activity of those who regard their hereditary privileges anachronistic survivals of feudal tyranny. What may prove even more important in the combat, they have made it possible for their opponents to produce facts and figures showing the peers to be the champions of the special interests against which the people are struggling all the time.

INSPECTOR WHEELER.

We agree with a correspondent who suggests that Inspector John Wheeler's successful work in discovering the bomb throwers gives to any utterance he may make on that subject an air of authority and finality. Mr. Wheeler pronounces the threat to blow up the Coliseum ball a "senseless joke of barroom loafers" and we are reminded of the fact that he has regarded the bomb throwing as a joke from the beginning.

Hence he is not merely prophetic in guaranteeing the safety of the orgy but he also is consistent. In only one particular can we find any flaw in Mr. Wheeler's methods. To be perfectly in accord with his ideas of governing a police division he should not know that the ball is to be held.

AMERICAN AND CANADIAN RELATIONS.

The United States and the dominion of Canada are denied direct official intercourse. They are the victims of circumlocution office methods. When the Canadian government wishes to communicate with that at Washington on any matter of common concern the secretary of state refers the subject to the governor general, who sends it to the colonial office in London, by which it is transmitted to the British ambassador, who brings it to the attention of the American secretary of state. The same routine, reversing the order, has to be gone through with when Washington wishes to do business with Ottawa.

Everything must be done via London. Thus has it been ever since the United States became independent. The absurdity of the practice has not yet become apparent to British officialdom, but it is appreciated on this side of the Atlantic—in Canada more than in the United States. It was largely because of a condition of things which is peculiarly laughable when the two countries affected by it are neighbors enjoying intimate trade relations that THE TRIBUNE was led to establish a bureau at Ottawa.

If business principles were considered and time were an object Canada would be accorded diplomatic representation at Washington and the United States at Ottawa. Then there would be no need of a colonial office intermediary when such a question as that of fishing rights in the great lakes, for instance, called for discussion. The grievance of an American consul general at Ottawa that he has no official status at a court function is not a matter of great moment, but the roundabout method of conducting official intercourse between the United States and Canada is something which Canadians are becoming weary of.

IN REGARD TO GOETHE STREET.

To change the name of Goethe street to Wolfgang, as suggested by a correspondent writing to THE TRIBUNE, would be a painful and unnecessary confession of ineptitude—to employ a charitable phrase. No doubt there are persons who have suffered for a half mile after the street car conductor has called this north side thoroughfare, and probably some supersensitive passengers have had an entire evening ruined in consequence of a suddenly ejaculated "Go-thee" or "Gerty."

No doubt these things happen, but the remedy need not be so heroic. Now that the Chicago Railways company is well along with the relaying of tracks and the buying of pay-as-you-enter cars, it may be possible for it to rehabilitate the pronunciation of its conductors, and until such time as they be competent to announce proximity to this street, capable and efficient persons might be employed to board the cars at Division street on the south and at Schiller street on the north for the express purpose of relieving the conductors of embarrassment and a portion of the passengers of pain by making the proclamation. Any expedient rather than the humiliation of abandoning a name for reasons such as have been advanced.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Didn't Mean That.

"These," said the lecturer, indicating them with his pointer, "are the movable bathhouses. Thousands of people congregate here during the summer season. Over here on the left is the hotel at which I stopped, and an exceedingly homelike place it is. I shall give you a nearer view of it presently. Although I was there a week or two, and would gladly have remained longer if I could have spared the time, I did not take any baths, for the reason—"

[Loud and prolonged laughter.]

"I meant, ladies and gentlemen," he resumed, after the merriment had subsided, "that I didn't take any baths down at the beach. This audience is altogether too smart."

With Apologies.

O, woman! In our hours of ease
Gentle, tender, and glad to please,
And grateful as the cooling shade
By softly sighing maples made—
When bargain counters tempt thee now,
An uncontrolled tornado thou!

His Felicitations!

"Maudie," said Algy, "I told Bivins of our engagement the other day."
"What did he say?"
"Well, you just ought to have heard him."
"Did he congratulate you?"
"Did he congratulate me? Well, I should simper!"
"What did he say?"
"O, you oughtn't to ask me that."
"Yes, but I want to know."
"Well, he—er—said, 'you lucky dog!'"

Preference for the Classical.

"Can openers?" said the salesgirl. "Yes, ma'am; what kind?"

"Any good kind will do," answered Mrs. Lapsling. "I've heard my nephew Bertram speak of the arma virumque can opener. I'll look at one of those, if you please."

Thirst for Knowledge.

"Father," said the small boy with the thoughtful, intellectual face, "how do you differentiate between an ambassador and a minister?"

"Differentiate!" gasped the father, struck all of a heap, but recovering himself, "we pay the ambassador about $5,500 more salary, my son, than we do the minister."

C. W. T.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1909: By the Brentwood company. All rights reserved.]

TO ANY ONE behind the scenes the story cabled from Europe to the effect that Ambassador Bryce was about to be superseded at Washington by Sir Maurice de Bunsen was extremely ridiculous. It is well known throughout the English diplomatic service that Sir Maurice has intimated his intention of retiring therefrom at the end of the year. Possessed of some fortune of his own and married to a rich wife, he is pining, like her, for more freedom than either of them can enjoy as ambassador and ambassadress at Madrid and they propose henceforth to make their home in England. Moreover, Washington is just about the last embassy in the world to which Sir Maurice would like to be appointed, as he would not relish being constantly reminded that the De Bunsen family owed its entire fortune and start in life to the Astors and to the munificence of the original Astor to his son's German tutor.

While Mr. Bryce's tenure of office at Washington is not likely to be greatly prolonged, owing to the fact that he is considerably over 70 years of age and feels the need of repose after an exceptionally busy and active life, he has certain matters in hand which he is anxious to bring to a satisfactory conclusion before laying down the burdens of office. Moreover, liking and understanding the people of the United States to a greater degree than any other envoy ever accredited to Washington, he naturally feels himself among congenial and sympathetic surroundings from which he is loath to sever himself.

* * *

On the other hand, it cannot be forgotten that Mr. Bryce before being appointed to Washington was a member of the Liberal cabinet, in which he held the Irish secretaryship, and that he is too closely identified with the policy of the present administration and too important a statesman of the latter to admit of his remaining in office at Washington were the opposition—that is to say, the Unionists—to win the victory in the impending general election and to oust the present administration. In that event Mr. Bryce would probably resign, since his position is superior to that of the ordinary ambassador of the diplomatic career.

It is from among the latter that his successor would be selected, and as there are quite a large number of retirements from the service impending for the end of the year the choice of a new envoy to the United States will be restricted. In fact, the candidates would be practically limited to Sir Alan Johnstone, now minister at Copenhagen and who is married to Miss Nettie Pinchot of New York; Sir Arthur Hardinge, now minister to Brussels and married to the daughter of the late Gen. Sir Arthur Ellis, so long a member of the royal household; Sir Eldon Gorst, now British plenipotentiary in Egypt, where he has not proved a success, lacking the forcefulness of character of his predecessor, Lord Cromer; Sir Arthur Herbert, now minister at Christiania and who is married to Miss Helen Gammell of New York and Newport; Sir George Barclay, now minister at Teheran and who also has an American wife in the person of Miss Beatrix Chapman of New York, a granddaughter of the late Mrs. John Jay; and Sir Arthur Spring-Rice, now minister at Stockholm, who was for a number of years at Washington as secretary of the embassy and who is married to the daughter of Sir Frank Lascelles, until quite recently British ambassador at Berlin. It seems pretty generally settled that the next British ambassador at Washington will be a member of the line—that is to say, of the diplomatic service instead of a statesman.

* * *

Emperor William is generally regarded abroad as favoring the duello. This is an altogether erroneous impression. For in reply to an appeal by the International union against the duel, of which Prince Alfonso of Bourbon, only brother of the late Don Carlos of Spain, is the president, to Emperor William for his support and good will for the movement Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg sent a response to the effect that the kaiser is endeavoring by every means in his power to restrict the practice to within its narrowest limits. This is no mere figure of speech. For owing to the insistence on the part of William that no duel should take place among the officers of the army and navy on the active list or of the reserve forces without having previously submitted the quarrel to a court of honor composed of fellow officers the duels of naval and military men with one another or with civilians, which formerly numbered many hundreds a year, now have diminished to less than a dozen in the twelve months.

The year before last there were less than six. This is wholly due to the influence of the emperor in his position as generalissimo of the army and navy and as the fountain of honor. These courts of honor, composed of officers of more or less high rank, are held to strict account by the monarch. No duel can take place without their authority, and if he finds that they have authorized a single combat for a cause which appears to him trivial and without sufficient warrant he holds them responsible and they run the risk of losing their commission on the active or reserve list of the army. As this is something akin to social ostracism they are careful and hesitate a good deal before authorizing a duel. Since the officers of the army and navy are supposed to set the fashion in matters pertaining to the laws of honor, it follows that single combats are also decreasing in civilian circles.

Letzlingen, where the kaiser has been entertaining the Austrian heir apparent, is among the least known of his shooting lodges, although it has been in the possession of the Hohenzollerns as such for near 400 years. Originally it belonged to the noble house of Alvensleben, but was purchased in the early part of the sixteenth century by Elector John of Brandenburg, who built a château there which used to be known as Hirschburg. The property itself originally used to be known as Netzlingen owing to the fact that the Alvenslebens, who used the property as game preserves, were wont to catch their stags, their wild boar, and other quarry by means of huge nets. The name of Netzlingen became corrupted into Letzlingen.

During the thirty years' war the place was completely devastated, and the great elector devoted much time and trouble to the repairing of the ruins and to the restocking of the preserves. But it was King Frederick William I. of Prussia who took most stock in Letzlingen, and who built a new château, while during the reign of his son and successor, Frederick the Great, the preserves were to a great extent restocked by Prince Leopold of Anhalt-Dessau, the old Dessauer of Carlyle's "Frederick the Great."

Prince Louis Ferdinand of Prussia, who fell in action with the French in the reconnoissance of Saalfeld, in the beginning of the nineteenth century, had the preserves of Letzlingen at his disposal during the closing years of his life; and then it was again devastated during the Franco-German wars, to be restocked and restored by Frederick William IV., who was enchanted with the place and who repeatedly invited there a young diplomat of the name of Otto von Bismarck, who was afterwards to become the first chancellor of the new German empire. Indeed, it is no exaggeration to state that the foundations of the empire were laid at Letzlingen in those years. The fact that the Austrian heir apparent spent much of his time during his recent stay at Letzlingen in conversation with the new chancellor, Von Bethmann-Hollweg, leads to the belief that the old shooting lodge is destined to play once more a rôle in the political situation of Europe.

It is Don Andreo Salabert y Artenga, duke of Ciudad-Real and marquis of Navahermosa, who has just been appointed by Alfonso XIII. to succeed the late duke of Sotomayor as keeper of the privy seal, as grand chamberlain, and as grand master and minister of the court, thereby becoming its chief dignitary and the principal figure in Spanish society.

He was for a number of years mayordomo mayor and principal lieutenant of the duke of Sotomayor, and therefore is thoroughly well acquainted with the duties and responsibilities now confided to him. Moreover, he is popular and his appointment meets with general approval. His brother-in-law, the duke of Santo Mauro, is the grand master of the household of young Queen Ena and as such a frequent visitor to England, where he is much liked.

AUSTRALIANS THE TEA DRINKERS.

The figures showing the amount of tea annually consumed a head of the population indicate that the tea drinkers of Great Britain must give way to those of Australasia, who use no less than 7.1 pounds a person every year. In the united kingdom the amount is about a pound less—namely: 6.03 pounds a head—and then we have Canada, 4 pounds; Holland, 1.4 pounds; United States, 1.3 pounds.—Magazine of Commerce.

THE CHRISTMAS MAGAZINES.

Christmas coming! One may know it
By the magazines on sale.
All their special papers show it;
There is cheer in every tale.
Each contains a merry message
From some well exploited pen,
Echoing the ancient presage,
Peace on earth, good will to men.

Here's a pretty tale of phthisis,
Here is one on cholera;
Here we have the last advices
On typhoid bacteria.
Do you think of getting married?
Read the paper on Divorce;
You'll be exquisitely harried
By the rollicking discourse.

More about tuberculosis,
More about pellagra's bane;
Yuletide thoughts about cirrhosis
And the cure of the insane.
For the wayworn and the weary
There's a paper on Gangrene.
O, how sunny, O, how cheery
Is the Christmas magazine.

WE take great pleasure in welcoming to the Academy of Immortal W. J.'s the Hon. W. J. Calhoun. Fellow Academicians, Mr. Calhoun.

COME, PA, DIG UP!

Please make a piece of poetry about Pa coming across with the dough, as Myrtle says, if you want us to do our shopping early. Myrtle goes to college, and that's how she can say things so cute and expressive-like. We can't none of us write poetry, but you can make "early" rhyme with "surly," and that's how Pa is when we ask him to dig up the stuff, as Myrtle says, so we can pay for the things. Pa is awful around Christmas time.

WHY NOT ENDOW THE LINE-O'-TYPE?

Some of the people should remember Samuel Houston college in their wills. A number of them have large holdings, but no immediate relatives. Some of them will their property to people who have no particular interest in, or love for them. Why not S. H. C. be endowed with a few thousands by such people?—S. H. C. Bulletin.

Though Willie Watson talks, by fits,
Of pink teas, classics, female wits,
And Campbell-Bannerman;
Yet in some things methinks he should Improve his manners, if he would,
And brace up if he can.

Proud poet and a cad beside,
Such littleness, and so much pride
Are oddly joined by fate:
His line of talk is awful raw;
He needs a swift poke on the jaw,
Another on the pate.

Just what sort of a duck is he
To go and drink the ladies' tea,
Then blab all that they say?
He knocks the girl with gesture proud,
His voice theatrically loud—
Aw, gee, that ain't no way!

We run across them, now and then,
These little, prating, magpie men—
O, how they strut and stalk;
But we don't stand for any bloke
Who at a lady takes a poke,
Nor listen to his talk.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

MRS. O'LEARY'S COW INNOCENT.

[STORY NO. 1.]

Ashton, Ill., Dec. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I will say that young Jim O'Leary is about near correct in regard to the burning of his father's barn Oct. 8, 1871. I was there at the time the fire broke out. Mrs. O'Leary's house was dark. They always retired early, 7:30 to 8 o'clock. At 8:45 p. m. there was nobody on the street. As I was taking my shoes off to go to bed I looked through the bedroom window and saw O'Leary's barn in flames. The first man who gave the alarm was an old Irishman who is living today at 122 or 124 De Koven street. His name is Michael Sullivan. I saw this man break in O'Leary's door and drag him out. He was always a heavy sleeper. I saw them take out Mrs. O'Leary; also I saw young Jimmy and his sister coming out and they came across the street to our house.

Now, in regard to those O'Neil brothers on Bunker street going to O'Leary's barn to get milk for milk punch, there was no family by that name living in Bunker street. There was a family by that name that lived in a small shanty nearly opposite the O'Leary house. I believe the number was 140 De Koven street. They had two boys; one of them, I heard, now is on the Chicago police force. There always has been the talk that the O'Leary cow kicked the lamp over. Now, this minister comes out about these O'Neil boys. It is the worst fake ever heard of. Shortly after the fire it came out that there was a christening party in Taylor street, near Clinton. They were having a big supper. Being short of milk, some woman there, knowing of the old barn, went to milk the cow and this started the fire. But this never was proven. I remember old man O'Leary buying this hay that young Jimmy speaks of. I remember O'Leary himself coming into Mike Sullivan's barn one night and asking if green hay was any good to have in the barn.

I was the second man on the street after Mike Sullivan gave the alarm, and no living person was seen around O'Leary's place up to 9 p. m.

MICHAEL J. O'BRADY.

[STORY NO. 2.]

Winona, Ill., Nov. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Jim O'Leary's account of the starting of the big fire in Chicago is a total error. The fire started in this way, as I heard from good authority at the time: There was a dance across the street from where the O'Learys lived. The men sent for beer and the women got tea. They had no milk and some one suggested going over to O'Leary's to get some. They went over and in their hurry dropped a lighted match in the hay, which took fire. The O'Learys were in bed at the time and a one legged pensioner waked them up. Next day the Times came out with an article saying its reporter went up to see about the origin of the fire and he found Mrs. O'Leary sitting on the step of her door bewailing the loss of her cow, as her countrywomen would do. This was the start of the story of the cow kicking over the lamp.

DEFENDING MR. KRAMER.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Still another patron of Thomas concerts in sympathy with Mr. Kramer. True enough, one man don't make the orchestra. But when artists like Mr. Kramer or any one of the old men trained under the baton of the late Theodore Thomas are the people who make the orchestra it certainly is appalling to find one after another of his long admired men in trouble. Francisco thinks, as in a factory, there should be discipline. Certainly there should, but in a discreet way, and let us hope it will not be necessary [like criminals] to have judge, jury, executioner.

DRIFT OF OPINION.

Comment on the Railroad Strike.

OPPORTUNITY FOR ARBITRATION.

[St. Paul Pioneer-Press.]

As a result of constant consideration and discussion, extending over a period of years, the federal government has provided a means of adjusting disputes between railroads and the men engaged in the movement of trains. This legislation, known as the Erdman act, was passed in 1898.

The Erdman act has been invoked in scores of cases in the last few years. In the six or seven years after its adoption, when industries were booming and railroad records were being broken, there was little occasion for its use. Since the early part of 1907 the federal officials frequently have been called upon to exert their influence and lend their services to the adjustment of labor disputes. It is a matter of record that in no case in which the federal agents were called before a strike was declared has there been a failure to secure an amicable adjustment of the differences at issue.

WHY NOT ARBITRATE BEFORE GOING TO WAR?

[Detroit Journal.]

It is a long time since this country has suffered from a strike of railroad employés such as threatens to be this strike of the switchmen on the thirteen lines between St. Paul and the Pacific coast. But it is not so long ago that the country has forgotten it or entirely recovered from it.

Whenever highways, national highways, are obstructed—highways necessary for the transportation of the necessities of industry, commerce, progress, life—the living disputed and the capital invested of the actual disputants constitute a small percentage of the living and millions actually involved, because the whole country is made to suffer disastrously in a war in which it has no part and little moral interest. Whether it be the greed and unreasonableness of employés or the greed and unreasonableness of the railroads, the reprisals are made upon the prosperity of the whole American people. That is the injustice and the peril of it.

COST OF A RAILWAY STRIKE.

[New York World.]

A strike like that of the switchmen on the railroads between the lakes and the Pacific coast is no local affair. Unless a settlement is soon reached its effect must be to depress and paralzye many industries in sections far removed from the scene of trouble and to throw trade out of gear. While the number of railroad men directly involved is relatively small, already we hear of the big flour mills of Minneapolis and the smelters of Montana shutting down. The whole northwest is threatened with a food and fuel famine.

Where one man is personally engaged in the dispute over his own wages, scores in other lines of work are made to suffer by the blockade of the railroads.

No part of the mechanism of the country is more delicate than its transportation lines, and any breakdown that involves long delay results in losses in every direction out of all proportion to the original cause. What the railroad men's increased wages might mean to them or to the railroads is a trifle compared with the cost of a strike to the people of communities in no way responsible for the dispute.

"THIS IS MY BIRTHDAY."

TUESDAY, DEC. 7, 1909.

Michael Cudahy, who has been a figure in the packing business for half a century, is 68 years old today. He is a native of County Kilkenny, Ireland, but he has lived in the United States since he was 8 years old.

William E. Church, attorney, native of Brooklyn, graduate of Williams college and one of the "boys in blue" in the '60s, is 68. He was an associate justice of the Supreme court of the territory of Dakota twenty-five years ago. His home is in Evanston.

Samuel P. Child of 49 Division street, manager of the Spool Cotton company, is 55. He is a native of Springfield, Mass., and was once a railroad civil engineer.

Adrian Vanderkloot, president of the South Halsted Street Iron works, is 60. He was born in the Netherlands and took up the yoke of matrimony on his twenty-third birthday anniversary.

L. G. Muller, secretary of the Columbian Bank Note company and vice president of the National Sales Managers' association, was born in New York City forty-four years ago today.

Dr. Charles H. Crain, to whom Lafayette was home in his boyhood days, is 55. He lives at 502 Leland avenue.

Henry W. Nichols of 5485 Kimbark avenue, who has an expert's eye over the geological collection at the Field Columbian museum, is 43. He was born, reared, and educated in Massachusetts, being a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

George C. Wilce, lumberman and vice president of the T. Wilce company, is 43. He is a Chicagoan by birth.

ANOTHER IDEAL ABROAD.

There Effort at Adornment Is Made Irrespective of Whether "It Will Pay."

BY GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH. D., LL. D
[Copyright: 1909; By the Tribune Company.]

SZOMBATHELY, Hungary, Aug. 27.—Before I tell you anything of this interesting county seat of Vas county I must say a word more about Pápa. That mark over the a, by the way, is not an accent; it marks the long vowels from the short ones; Magyar words are accented on the first syllable.

Before leaving Pápa I went to see John Smith and the count. I need not state that they could not both be seen at the same time. I was told by the mayor that I could find Mr. Smith's address in a barber shop. There I found on the wall a picture-calendar in best American style, bearing the advertisement of John Smith & Son, dry cleaners, 812 West Forty-fourth street, N. Y. The barber shop itself is primitive in its appearance and furniture. Even in Budapest the chairs are of a low, primitive type, and the barber fairly doubles himself up while he lathers your face from a big pewter bowl with a piece out of one side, which contains a cake of vile soap and cold water.

Cry to Go Back to America.

John Smith and his family—or rather his wife, for his children were born there—lived in New York City seventeen years. The family only returned to Hungary three months ago. His two girls, one a cripple, speak excellent West Forty-fourth street English and cry to go back to New York. They look and talk and act as much like American girls as if they were of an old American family. Mrs. Smith is apparently the head of the house; it should have been Mrs. John Smith, not John Smith & Son. Seventeen years on the west side have not improved Mrs. Smith She is neither American nor Magyar, rather more of the former.

It may not be a nice thing to say, but the Smith here in Pápa, in the general appearance of their house, in its tidiness, in its neatness, in its cleanness, do not compare favorably with the peasants in the country about here. They have lost the Magyar sense of order and sweetness and flowers for their own sake; with them it has become the more sordid test of whether it pays or not. It is a change in standard. Their New York environment was not favorable to the development of any love for the beautiful to replace the old love, which among the peasants almost amounts to instinct.

John Smith himself was dressed in American store clothes and wore a cheap imitation diamond horseshoe scarf pin. He lost a leg in New York from blood poisoning, sold his business to his son, and decided that the safer game of life for him lay in the land of his nativity. In short, he has retired to Hungary. Mrs. Smith frankly confesses she greatly prefers America. Says she could live cheaper and better there, though she complains that in New York she could never get fresh vegetables, eggs, or chickens and that often they had to put up with poor meat.

The Smiths brought back with them a 22 year old son of a neighbor who had been in New York two years. He was not a success; they fear he will do no better at home. The boy looks lazy.

Count's Chateau Beautiful.

The count lives in a really beautiful château which would not be out of place in France. The château has over 100 rooms and its open court faces the church in the heart of the town. Back of the château is a forest park entirely surrounded by a high wall of brick tiles. The wall in front of the house is replaced by a noble iron fence with massive iron gates from the old palace of the Tuileries of Paris.

The count's park of 5,000 acres is open to the public on certain days of the week; it is one of the most beautiful I have ever seen. We have nothing that may be compared with it in Chicago. It is kept in perfect condition, and its oak, chestnut, walnut, and sycamore trees are really grand. A broad open lawn superbly kept slopes away from the back of the château which overlooks the park; at the foot of the lawn is a croquet ground. Here the countess was amusing herself while the count on a bench near by was reading an English novel. He speaks excellent English and was most courteous, but had little to say of the things which really interested me. Peasants to him are just peasants, as a tree is a tree; each has its own use in this world. He is a strong good looking man, has traveled much, and apparently fast.

State Tobacco Factory.

On the way to the station I passed a state tobacco factory. A Chicagoan would never suspect, however, that it was a factory, but would think it rather the large house of some eccentric individual who wanted to prove by outward evidence his wealth. But even this is hardly fair to this factory, for it is in excellent taste architecturally, set deep back in a large yard, which is surrounded by an ornate iron fence and is filled with flowers and shrubbery; inside, it is as clean as a peasant's kitchen; or, as we would say, as clean as a parlor. Cigars may be poor for the price in Hungary, and good cigars prohibitive, and wages may be low in the factories, but the physical surroundings of the working girls here are as wholesome and attractive as at the University High school.

The hour's ride by express train from Pápa to Szombathely is across a great level, beautiful plain, nearly all under intense cultivation. We pass many little villages, but almost no country houses. Szombathely immediately gives one an impression of order and business. It is a small edition of Budapest; but more modern. Its railway station is long, clean, and busy. In seeking a comparative point of view, Newark, my own county seat, in Ohio, is suggested. The two towns are about the same size; Szombathely has 23,000 inhabitants. This county of Vas, however, is larger and more densely populated than Licking county. It has 418,905 inhabitants and 2,400 square miles, or a density of 123 to the square mile.

To return to the railway station. This one was built by an architect, those of Newark by bricklayers. The waiting rooms of the two Newark stations are not as clean as those of the third class here. As for the first class waiting room, we have nothing in Chicago which will approach it for cleanliness and comfort. And this station here in this county town of 23,000 inhabitants is not exceptional; it is characteristic of all of Hungary that I have seen. Such conditions as prevail at our Dearborn street station are unthinkable in Hungary.

Houses of Three Stories.

A quiet, dignified little electric train takes one through a mile long street into the heart of the city. The houses of the business section average three stories in height, and they, too, were built by architects; they do not look like red brick boxes with rectangular holes cut in them for windows. With the quality of the taste displayed in some of the plastic decoration, one may question, even disagree, but there is a conscious effort here, and, I repeat, this town is no exception at beauty, at effect, and at adornment. Or is it all, perhaps, unconscious? Is it that in the cultural development of Hungary they have not yet reached the point where anything is good enough so long as it pays? I am not certain; but there is no question as to the predominance of a conception of life which demands a certain standard of excellence and beauty—whether it be in the château of a count or the cottage of a peasant.

Take oriental rugs. I have seen in a store here a stock of rugs which in quality would be a notable addition to any State street or Wabash avenue store. And yet, after all, this is only a little country town of a great agricultural county. There is only one other town Köszeg, with 7,500 inhabitants, in the county; but there are 611 villages—that is, peasant communities, varying in size from a few hundred to a few thousand inhabitants. These villages are all administered through a notary appointed by and reporting to the town.

More Modern Than Newark.

I suspect that the bank deposits in Newark exceed those of Szombathely; certainly there is greater commercial activity in Newark than here. But Szombathely, equally certain, is more of a modern world's city than is Newark. It has a large, modern museum, worthy of a large city; it has a Rembrandt, a Rafael, a Murillo, a Veronese, a Velasquez; it has a great cathedral and a bishop's palace, at least three first class hotels, and an imposing county and town hall. In the prefect's office in the former one can see at a glance that one is in the office of a gentleman of taste and refinement. On the walls are gold inlaid weapons of ancient days and portraits of Schopenhauer and Wagner. It is more than the office of a magistrate; it is a room to live in, in which one may be content. It is more than luxury; it is refinement.

The town has a few industries. First in importance are the brick factories. One sees brick factories often, for so far I have seen no house of wood in Hungary; the nearest approach to it was a rush chicken coop and summer kitchen in the Alföld; the houses are all of stone or brick, mostly brick coated with plaster treated so as to resemble stone. Then there are tanneries, and in town many leather stores, for much of the footwear and harness is made in the country.

There is also a woolen mill and a factory for the manufacture of agricultural machinery—in spite of the fact that the first sign on a building I saw on leaving the railway station was "CHICAGO"; inside was an agricultural implement store. I have no knowledge of the extent of our trade with Hungary in this class of machinery, but so far I have not seen a single American plow, reaper, rake, harvester, or thrasher in Hungary—and I have really looked for them. American sewing machines and typewriters however, are everywhere. I have also seen many American carpet sweepers, even in the country towns.

Founded in Year 48.

Although Szombathely does not look it, it is much older than Newark. It was once Sabaria, the capital of Pannonia, and was founded by the Roman Claudius in the year 48. Traces remain of this ancient Roman city, especially those of the amphitheater.

This county of Vas sends more of its number each year to America than any other county, except Veszprém, in this great west of the Danube province. I have chosen two outlying villages in the county as worthy of a visit; but before seeing them, or before telling you of the wonderful market here, or what the prefect had to say, I shall return to Budapest for a day or two to see how Hungary acts as host to the sixteenth international medical congress, which begins tomorrow night and to which 5,000 delegates are expected.

GIRL DENIES KING IS FIANCE.

Miss Yvonne Townsend, Daughter of Former Minister, Not to Wed Manuel.

New York, Dec. 6.—Miss Yvonne Townsend, daughter of Lawrence Townsend, former minister to Portugal, whom European cables had suggested as a bride for the young king, Manuel of Portugal, arrived here today from Antwerp with a denial that she was engaged.

Miss Townsend and the present king were playmates eleven years ago, when they were both 8 years old, and when they met a few weeks ago as the guests of King Edward at Windsor castle their friendship was renewed.

"I had not met Manuel for years," Miss Townsend said, "but he knew me at once, and we were good friends again. It was strange meeting him again as a king after we had been playmates together when we were little and when no one ever dreamd of his being king."

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

Invitations Out for the "Annual Assembly" This Winter.

CHARITY BALL BOXES SOLD.

Interesting Auction for Choice Locations Next on Program.

Invitations are out for the annual assembly balls which this winter will be given on Thursday evening, Dec. 28, and Friday evening, Jan. 21, in the gold ballroom of the Congress hotel. The governors are Edward S. Adams, Watson Blair, A. A. Carpenter Jr., Hobart Chatfield-Taylor, Joseph G. Coleman, R. T. Crane Jr., Stanley Field, Howard Gillette, Morris L. Johnson, Walter Keith, Charles G. King, Eames MacVeagh, Harold F. McCormick, J. Medill McCormick, Arthur Meeker, William R. Odell, Honoré Palmer, George F. Porter, Clive Runnells, Herbert S. Stone, and Bertram Winston.

The charity ball boxes all have been sold and the record for the sale of boxes for these events has been broken. The arrangements for the ball, which is to be held on Dec. 15 in the Auditorium, all are nearing completion, but the sale of the boxes has been so unusual as to warrant the consideration for the building of more temporary stalls than have been included in the original plans. This rapid disposal of all the boxes means that the box sale alone thus far has netted $8,100 for the seven charities to be benefited by the big dance. Now comes the auction sale for the choice of locations which Prof George E. Vincent and George Ade will "cry" in the foyer of Orchestra hall on the afternoon of Dec. 10.

The following are those who have taken boxes since the last announcement: Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Eckhart, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hamill, F. T. Countiss, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull, Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Pelouze, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bishop, and Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Barrett. Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Delano and Mrs. Russell Tyson have taken a box together.

Others who will share boxes are Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Honoré Palmer; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Granger Farwell; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Tourtellotte and Mrs. F. W. Tourtellotte.

The music will be supplied by the First Regiment band and Johnny Hand's orchestra. Mrs. George Higginson, Mrs. George S. Isham, and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank have been appointed a subcommittee to work for the sale of tickets in coöperation with the committees representing the seven beneficiaries of the ball. The last of the 20,000 invitations to purchase ball tickets was mailed last night. The envelopes of each invitation carries a Red Cross Christmas stamp.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Dawes, 731 Rush street, entertained at dinner last night for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cobb.

Mrs. Potter Palmer will give a dinner tomorrow evening, later taking her guests to the Service club play at the Ziegfeld.

Mrs. D. Gillett, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Calhoun, will leave tomorrow for her residence in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ayer of Banks street entertained at dinner last night for Mr. and Mrs. Lyman J. Gage. There were twelve guests. After the dinner there was a program of music.

Mrs. C. R. Hills of Grand Rapids, Mrs. Charles E. Scribner, Mrs. I. C. Gifford, Miss Marguerite Schlund, and Miss Juliet Austin will receive this afternoon with Mrs. Almer Coe on the occasion of the latter's reception to be given from 3 to 6 o'clock at The Bryson, 4982 Lake avenue.

Miss Alta Stevens, Miss Marjorie Edwards, Miss Lucy Ripley, Mrs. Horace B. Horton, Miss Estella McWilliams, Miss Grace Parmly, Miss Mae Osborn, and Miss Katherine Waldo will be the assistants at the reception to be given from 3 to 6 o'clock this afternoon by Mrs. Sheldon Leavitt, her daughter, Miss Florence Belle Leavitt, and their guest, Miss Mabel Murray, recently of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Frank Townly Brown, 4065 Sheridan road, will give a luncheon tomorrow at the University club followed by a matinée party in honor of Mrs. Stuyvesant Hamilton of Tennessee, who will be the guest of Mrs. Brown during the horse show.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ward Seabury have returned from their wedding trip and will be at home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seabury, 409 Forest avenue, until Jan. 1, after which they will occupy their new residence at 315 North Euclid avenue.

The Oak Park club will give a bridge whist and euchre party tomorrow, the affair to be in charge of Mrs. Charles H. Wells. The decorations will be in red.

Day Nursery Is Reopened.

After being closed for about two months, the Clara Palmer Goetzinger day nursery, at 1917 North Humboldt street, will be opened for the remainder of the winter, it is expected, at some time this week. The institution was closed in September because of lack of funds. The Thanksgiving benefit netted enough to carry on the work for two months.

THE CHARITY BALL.

BY HARRIET MONROE.

Come, pretty buds, the time is new,
And brave young lads do seek for you.
Come, blooming matrons, roses rare,
Your lords are waiting by the stair.
Go fold away your duds of day
And greet the night in glad array
Of silken robes and satin shoon
And gems that dare outshine the moon.
Enough of clubs and bridge and teas—
Come, bring your masters to their knees!
Snare them in chiffon, bid them prance
Through lacy mazes of the dance;
Show them their grave affairs are all
But tributes to your beauties' thrall!
And when they're won your slaves to be,
Who shall not dare your will to flout,
Then bid them pause, for charity,
And turn their pockets inside out;
That all who suffer may be glad
And none may sigh and weep in vain,
Ah, bid them shut the door on pain
That the brave world may nevermore be sad!

Beans Are 84% Nutriment

They contain more food than the choicest beef, yet they cost not a third as much.

But, you say, perhaps, that they are hard to digest. They ferment and form gas.

You think that your people don't want them often—not more than once or twice a week.

If so, you are judging by home-baked beans.

Van Camp's don't ferment and form gas. They are not mushy and broken—not an uninviting dish.

For Van Camp's are baked in a steam oven, heated to 245 degrees. They are baked so that every bean digests, yet the beans remain nut-like and whole.

People like such beans full as well as meat. And to serve them cuts down on the meat bills.

Van Camp's BAKED WITH TOMATO SAUCE
PORK AND BEANS

This dish is our pride—the final result of our 48 years of experience.

To get the very choicest of Michigan beans we pay four times what some beans cost. To give our tomato sauce superlative zest, we spend five times the price of the common.

As a result, more Van Camp's beans are used than all other brands combined.

Please make a comparison with home-baked beans; also with other brands. That's the best way to know.

Once note the vast difference and you will never forget. You will always serve Van Camp's.

THE REDEMPTION OF KENNETH GALT
By Will N. Harben

Here is the power and the feeling which alone the successful novelist commands. This new novel has all the keen insight into the shadowy depths of "Ann Boyd" and all the quaint human touches that gave "Abner Daniel" its great success. The scene—as it should be—is again the rural Georgia Mr. Harben has made famous. The Boston Globe says: "A captivating novel; it is as real as actuality; to the last line there is no check to the continuous interest."

With Frontispiece by Alice Barber Stephens. Post 8vo, Cloth, $1.50.

THE SILVER HORDE By Rex Beach

That this new story by the author of "The Barrier" and "The Spoilers" should leap quickly into place among the best selling novels was to be expected. That it should remain there is due solely to its sheer power and merit. Cloth, $1.50.

WEST SIDE LAND SALES CONTINUE

Mrs. Cecilia Plamondon Buys $50,000 Property in West Madison Street.

GIVES TO ALMA MATER.

John F. Eberhart Conveys Fifty Valuable Lots to Allegheny College.

The west side, which figured so prominently in the real estate market last week, developed another interesting transaction yesterday in the purchase by Mrs. Cecilia B. Plamondon from the Barnum & Richardson Manufacturing company of the property in West Madison street, 96 feet east of Jefferson street, for $50,000.

The premises, which comprise a part of the old Barnum & Richardson foundry plant, have a south frontage of 60 feet with a depth of 55 feet and have old one story brick improvements which were given no value in the transaction, making the sale at the rate of $833 a front foot and $15.12 a square foot, the latter being near record price for West Madison frontage in that vicinity.

The purchase is declared to have been made for investment purposes with no plans for immediate improvement beyond the desire of the purchaser to improve to suit a desirable tenant.

Frederick H. Bartlett & Co. have closed another big transaction in south side apartment house property in the sale to Ernest M. Smith of the premises 4015-4017 Lake avenue. The lot fronts 65 feet, extending back about 250 feet to Michigan terrace, and is improved with a five story and basement building containing ten apartments of nine rooms each, which rent at from $65 to $75 a month, the total annual rental of the building being $7,300.

New Clothing Firm Formed.

E. F. Keebler & Co. have closed negotiations whereby Ben Woolf, formerly of the Woolf Clothing company, and Elmer E. Marden, manager of the clothing department of the Fair, have acquired from Baumbarden & Littman, for a cash bonus, their lease of the store and basement at 250-252 State street, adjoining the proposed addition which Maurice L. Rothschild is to make to his store at the southwest corner of State street and Jackson boulevard.

The lease runs for a term of eight years from May 1, 1910. The new firm will be known as the Woolf-Marden Clothing company and will deal exclusively in clothes. The transaction has another interest in that it serves to emphasize to what extent that part of State street and Jackson boulevard is becoming a great center for the retail clothing trade.

Baumgarden & Littman, who owned the Palace Clothing company, will retire from the clothing business and devote their time to the millinery business exclusively.

Gives Land to Alma Mater.

The recording of a deed by which John F. Eberhart a real estate owner of Lawndale, conveyed to the president and trustee of Allegheny college a tract of fifty lots at the northwest corner of Sixty-fifth street and Lawndale avenue, developed the fact that the conveyance was in reality a gift by Mr. Eberhart to his alma mater. It is stated that the conveyance was made some time ago, and in the deed the value of the property is placed at $25,000.

Record was made of the purchase by David Weber from Lars Olsen of the nine apartment building with 73⅓x160 feet of ground, in Michigan avenue, 365 feet north of Fifty-third street, for $50,000, subject to an incumbrance of $15,000. In part payment Mr. Weber conveyed 140x158 feet of vacant at the northwest corner of Indiana avenue and Thirty-sixth street, valued at $23,000.

The six apartment building, with 45x123 feet of ground at 4635-4637 Vincennes avenue has been sold by Miss Ellen Sim to Peter Schuettler for $26,250.

Lloyd G. Kirkland has sold to Charles Bosch a plot of 115x151 feet, vacant, in Fargo avenue, 381 feet east of Sheridan road, for $20,000, subject to an incumbrance of $5,000. The purchaser is understood to plan improving the property in the near future.

In connection with the purchase by William W. Pollock last week of the Ravenswood bank building at Ravenswod Park and Wilson avenue, Mr. Pollock has conveyed in part payment to Ira M. Cobe the property in Lincoln street, 142 feet north of Leland avenue, 50x152½ feet, with brick improvements for $15,000.

Madden Sells Property.

A transaction of special interest as emphasizing another southward drift of the automobile business on Michigan avenue was the sale by Congressman Martin B. Madden to F. Matthews, through Chandler, Hildreth & Co. of the property at the northwest corner of Thirty-sixth street.

The lot fronts 49 feet with a depth of 196 feet, and the consideration, $20,000, is at the rate of $408 a front foot.

Mr. Matthews plans the erection of an automobile garage and salesroom in the spring to cost about $30,000. This is the third transaction that Chandler, Hildreth & Co. have made in the block between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets within the last thirty days.

The same firm also has sold the southwest corner of Clarendon avenue and Kenesaw terrace to Levant M. Richardson for Mary P. Stanley for $15,000. Mr. Richardson will improve the property in the spring with a $50,000 residence.

George W. Young and Charles J. Barnes, as surviving trustees under the will of Nelson Ludington, deceased, have given a trust deed to the Chicago Title and Trust company to secure a loan of $200,000, due in 1920 at 4½ per cent, on the eight story Ludington building and 120x165 feet of ground at the southwest corner of Wabash avenue and Harmon court.

Makes $48,500 Loan.

The American Trust and Savings bank is trustee in a loan of $48,500, five years, at 5 per cent, to Elizabeth Nunemaker, secured by the property in Fifty-first street, 191 feet west of Drexel boulevard, 120x150 feet, with flat improvements.

Edwin B. Mayer has purchased from Edward L. Grace the flat property in Langley avenue, 169 feet north of Forty-seventh street, 50x120 feet, west front, for $18,000, with incumbrance of $10,500.

Elias Epstein has purchased from Lee D. Gilbert and others the store and flat property in Halsted street, between Fourteenth street and Fourteenth place, with lot 25x100 feet, for $17,000, subject to an incumbrance of $7,000.

MUDGE GIVES OUT NEW AIDS' NAMES

James E. Gorman, F. O. Melcher, John Sebastian, and E. S. Moore Chosen.

WILL BE ELECTED LATER

Four Vice Presidents of Rock Island Railroad to Fill Vacancies.

The organization of the executive officers of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway, in which so many vacancies were created by the separation of the Frisco system, was completed yesterday. After a conference with W. H. Moore, one of the largest stockholders of the Rock Island, who is in the city to attend the horse show, President H. U. Mudge announced the names of four new vice presidents. They will be elected at a meeting of the directors in New York today or tomorrow.

For a first vice president in charge of the freight traffic department, to succeed W. B. Biddle, President Mudge selected James E. Gorman of Chicago, who has been freight traffic manager of the Santa Fé for the last four years, and who was associated with Mr. Mudge while the latter was general manager of the Santa Fé prior to 1905.

Frank O. Melcher, general manager of the lines east of the Missouri river, with office in Chicago, was selected as second vice president, in charge of the operating department, to succeed Mr. Mudge.

John Sebastian, who has been passenger traffic manager of the entire Rock Island system since 1903, and who also held the same title on the Frisco, is made third vice president in charge of the passenger department.

Other New Officers.

Edward S. Moore, son of Mr. Moore, and heretofore second assistant to the president, is made fourth vice president in charge of the purchasing department. For passenger traffic manager W. L. Allen, now general passenger agent, is expected to be chosen, and the new general manager probably will be H. S. Tinsman, manager of the Choctaw branch.

Mr. Gorman began his railway service as car number checker for the Burlington in 1877. He served through various clerical positions until 1895 he became chief clerk to the traffic manager of the Santa Fé at Chicago, rising to be head of that branch of the service.

Mr. Melcher is a graduate of Tufts college and began his railway career as instrument man with the Fitchburg railroad in Massachusetts. Later he was division superintendent of the Boston and Maine, then of the Rock Island, and in 1904 was made general superintendent of the Choctaw division, rising to general manager in 1905.

Mr. Sebastian left the Santa Fé in 1887 to become general southwestern passenger agent for the Rock Island. He was general passenger and ticket agent of the Kansas and Nebraska division later, and in 1902 was assigned to that office for the system. A year later he was made passenger traffic manager of the system.

Edward S. Moore, who is under 30 years of age, like his brother Paul has been put through a course of training by his father to fit him for railroad management. He began to learn railroading as a clerk in President Winchell's office, served through various minor positions in the operating department, and until lately was assistant superintendent of terminals at St. Louis. He was graduated from Yale in 1903.

Moore Declines to Talk.

W. H. Moore declined to confirm the reports that the Rock Island would get an eastern outlet through the Wabash and Lehigh Valley.

"There is nothing new in the situation that I can discuss," he said. "In regard to the Lehigh Valley I simply have made a personal investment in the property without reference to the Rock Island, and I do not own a dollar's worth of Wabash. I came here for the horse show. I like Chicago, and come here when I can for pleasure."

Gov. John T. Shafroth of Colorado, with a committee of seven enthusiastic Colorado "boosters," appeared before the executive committee of the Western Passenger association to ask for a reduction of the summer tourist rate from Chicago to Colorado from $30 to $25. They are also asking the western roads to make a one-way colonist rate of $17.50 and similar reductions from the Missouri river. The governor will be given an answer after another meeting of the Colorado lines within a week or ten days.

The Santa Fé has appropriated $2,000,000 to be used in double tracking the line in Illinois between Edelstein and Knox, which will leave little single track between Chicago and Kansas City.

If A Thousand People

Told you that a certain thing had done them worlds of good, mentally and physically, wouldn't you feel it worth while to investigate the matter thoroughly, to find out how it might affect you?

We have received thousands of testimonials from people who have voluntarily written us of the benefit derived from quitting coffee and using

POSTUM

The majority of these people had no idea that coffee caused their headaches, stomach troubles, bad nerves, etc., etc., until after the change—often at the suggestion of a friend who knew about Postum—then they understood.

Ask a friend if coffee agrees, and if the aches and ails come from coffee—investigate!

DIDN'T KNOW
That Coffee Was Causing Her Trouble.

So common is the use of coffee as a beverage, many do not know that it is the cause of many obscure ails which are often attributed to other things.

The easiest way to find out for oneself is to quit the coffee for a while, at least, and note results. A Virginia lady found out in this way, and also learned of a new beverage that is wholesome as well as pleasant to drink. She writes:

"I am 40 years old and all my life, up to a year and a half ago, I had been a coffee drinker. About ten years ago, I had dyspepsia so bad that often the coffee I drank would sour on my stomach and I could not retain it.

"Severe headaches and heart weakness made me feel sometimes as though I were about to die. After drinking a cup or two of hot coffee, not knowing it was harmful, my heart would go like a clock without a pendulum. At other times it would almost stop and I was so nervous I did not like to be alone, and the pity of it all was, I did not know that coffee was causing the trouble.

"Reading in the papers that many persons were relieved of such ailments by leaving off coffee and drinking Postum I got my husband to bring home a package. We made it according to directions and I liked the first cup. Its rich, snappy flavor was delicious.

"I have been using Postum about eighteen months and to my great joy, digestion is good, my nerves and heart are all right, in fact, I am a well woman once more, thanks to Postum."

WAYMAN IGNORES SHIPPY'S RETURN

Renewal of Graft Inquiry Not Forecast by the Ex-Chief Coming Back.

WANTS TO GO TO WORK.

Policeman Still Holds Inspector's Rank and May Be Given District.

The return of George M. Shippy, former chief of police, gave no promise yesterday of causing a renewal of the graft investigation prosecuted last summer by State's Attorney Wayman. Mr. Wayman had nothing to say concerning Mr. Shippy or of an intention of calling him before any inquisitorial body.

Mr. Shippy, who returned from Europe last Saturday, but has remained quietly at his residence since, announced that he was willing to go before a grand jury or be questioned by the state's attorney at any time concerning his knowledge of graft in the police force.

One man commented on the home coming of the police official who went to Europe to regain his health. That was Edward McCann, the police inspector, convicted of receiving bribes from west side resortkeepers in return for police protection.

"I can say this," he said, "if Chief Shippy had been here at the time of my trial he would have testified that he not only knew nothing of any connection of mine with grafting on the west side, but he would have told the jury that my system of conducting the affairs of the west side and the methods used in regulating the levee district were in accordance with his views and orders. He was inspector himself on the west side and knew all about conditions over there and the way the situation had to be handled. I consider him the best chief the department ever had."

Ready to Resume Work.

Mr. Shippy passed Sunday and yesterday at his residence, 2131 Lincoln place. He says his health is almost restored and he feels fit to go to work at once. Concerning his knowledge of graft in the police department he said:

"I am more than willing to answer any questions that the state's attorney or the public wants to ask me. I am not saying that all officers are perfect—the weekly trial shows that a few individuals among the thousands of officers fall."

"Did you ever hear of McCann taking any graft money in the west side?" he was asked.

"No, I did not; I never heard a complaint of that sort against McCann before I left the office of chief of police. Since that time I have been wholly out of touch with the department and know nothing of the graft investigation. While Mrs. Shippy and I were in Europe she would not let me read a paper."

Still a Police Inspector.

Asked if he expected to go back on the police force, the former chief said:

"I am an inspector under the civil service rules and I shall go back or be retired. I feel that I am able to work and I do not care to become a burden on the pension rolls yet while I can be of service. I have had several business offers and I may go into some other line of work. My labor is for sale to the highest bidder."

When Mr. Shippy was appointed chief of police by Mayor Busse he was given a leave of absence from the department according to the civil service rules. His leave of absence does not expire until next spring. If he asks to go back on the force now it is gossiped that either a new inspector's division will be created to take care of the extra officer or the former chief will be assigned to the Chicago avenue station to replace Inspector O'Brien and the latter will be brought to headquarters and given charge of the detective bureau.

Chief Steward said Mr. Shippy had not been to see him and he knew nothing of his predecessor's plans or what would be done in case he asked to go back on the force.

GRACE BRUNI MARCUSSON

Miss Grace Bruni-Marcusson, 2459 Jackson boulevard, will sing with the Irish Choral society at Orchestra hall on Wednesday, Dec. 15, and on April 1 will start with the society on a tour of the British isles as a soloist.

MRS. AVERY ELUDES POLICE; JEWELER SEEKS $415 GEMS.

John S. Townsend Starts Replevin Suit Against Woman, Said to Have Swindled Many Other Chicagoans.

Mrs. S. Bailey Avery, who is said to have swindled a number of Chicagoans, is believed by the police to have fled from the city.

John S. Townsend, a jeweler, 1554 Wabash avenue, yesterday started a replevin suit against the woman to recover $415 worth of jewelry he says was obtained by false pretenses.

The jeweler declares the articles are in a room at the Hotel Metropole, formerly occupied to Mrs. Avery. For that reason he has made the hotel a party to the suit.

The last seen of Mrs. Avery is said to have been on Nov. 23, when she returned from a trip to Cincinnati. Mrs. Grace Amidon, connected with Dr. Turck's sanitarium, recovered a trunk and gold watch she says Mrs. Avery obtained from her.

Wallace B. Russell, a son-in-law of the late Dr. A. Reeves Jackson, one of the founders of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, has reported to the police instances during nineteen years of a woman who has carried on swindling operations by claiming to be a daughter of Dr. Jackson, and that she had been left without funds.

SAYS WIFE TRIED TO BURN HIM.

John Walsh, Who Asks Divorce, Accuses Spouse of Setting Fire to Him in Bed.

John Walsh filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday on the grounds that his wife, Annie E. Walsh, tried to burn him to death. He alleges she poured kerosene over him one night when he was sleeping and set fire to the oil with a match.

APPROVE CESSION OF A CITY STREET

Aldermen Favor Request of Sanitary Board et al. for Half Mile Strip.

BIDS BY CHICAGO BANKS.

Controller Wilson Receives Propositions for Interest on Municipal Funds.

The committee on streets and alleys west displayed a spirit of generosity yesterday that was almost embarrassing to the sanitary district trustees, and most acceptable to William A. Peterson. Between them they will get half a mile of North Kedzie avenue if the ordinance which they recommended gets past the city council. Ald. Michael Conlon and Ald. James Bauler promise a fight on the council floor when the matter is brought up.

The north channel of the sanitary canal must cross Kedzie avenue a few feet south of Peterson avenue, and as the channel is 130 feet wide the sanitary trustees asked for the vacation of as much of Kedzie avenue as would be necessary for the purpose.

It was explained to the committee, however, that the trustees proposed to build docks along both sides of the canal, and could use a little more space if the council was feeling in a generous enough mood to grant it, but their requirements were much less than half a mile of the street.

Wants Space for Plants.

Mr. Peterson has some nurseries for the propagation and culture of trees, shrubs and other plants in that section and owns a large tract of ground west of Kedzie avenue. Mr. Peterson thought he could use that portion of the street up to Bryn Mawr avenue that the drainage board did not need, and in return for about a quarter of a mile of Kedzie avenue he proposes to dedicate another strip through his property about 600 feet west and sixty-six feet wide to take the place of Kedzie avenue.

This strip runs all the way between Peterson and Bryn Mawr avenues, and the drainage board has agreed to pave sixteen feet of it if the proposition goes through for the vacation of the entire half mile of Kedzie avenue.

One of the objections raised by Ald. Conlon and Ald. Bauler to the vacation is that Kedzie avenue is a section line, and instead of having a through street, with a bridge over the canal, there would be a jog of 600 feet for half a mile.

An ordinance was recommended to the council by the judiciary committee in the afternoon giving to the commissioner of public works the right to order extras on contract work "in cases of emergency or accident." This ordinance was recommended by Ald. Snow of the finance committee after it was discovered that there were several bills for extras which had been ordered by "subordinates" in the department of public works which could not be paid on account of the "lost section" in the revised code, known as section 1,845.

There is no change in the interest rate from this year. Mr. Wilson said that he hoped to get legislative authority to permit of the investment of the city's permanent funds in municipal securities and tax warrants.

Anti-Smoke Conference.

Tomorrow will be anti-smoke day before the council local transportation committee. Letters have been sent to the ranking official of every railroad entering the city asking them to be present or send a representative to a conference with the committee on that day to state their objections or approval of the electrification ordinance now under consideration.

Mayor Busse also has been invited to the conference.

STAMP SALE IS A RECORD.

Campaign Only Just Begun, Too, Says Superintendent of Tuberculosis Institute.

Although there are still three weeks for the sale of Red Cross Christmas stamps in the tuberculosis war, the total sale to date is far ahead of last year's record at the corresponding period.

"And we have only just begun," said Frank Wing, superintendent of the Chicago Tuberculosis institute. "Up to Saturday night 1,350,000 of the stickers had been placed on sale and most of them have gone."

The total sold last year was 900,000.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS
MISSOURI

"Home of the Most Varied and Valuable Group of Mineral Waters in America."

EASY TO REACH

The fame of Excelsior Springs rests first upon the beneficial and curative properties of its waters.

Secondly, upon its accessibility.

These two features have made it the health and rest resort of thousands to whom distance from home and business is a prime factor.

WHERE IT IS

Excelsior Springs is a night's ride from Chicago and one hour's ride from Kansas City, is in the center of a circle 900 miles in diameter in which there is not a health or pleasure resort of more than local importance. This has put it on the map as an "Overnight" point, because in that time it can be reached from several of the country's most important cities and towns. In this respect it has become the welcome retreat of Chicago, Milwaukee, Des Moines, Dubuque, Denver, Pueblo, Omaha, St. Joseph, Kansas City, St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and other cities.

It is ideal either for those seeking health and rest or for others who prefer to establish their families where "Week End" reunions and parties have become delightful features of the vacation months.

THE CITY ITSELF

Excelsior Springs combines the restfulness of a country town with the advantages of a modern city. Its streets are paved and clean and well lighted. Its stores are stocked to meet the usual requirements. Its telegraph and telephone service is adequate.

The city water supply is received through a pipe line of eight miles in length and the quality of the water is excellent. Its sewerage system is perfect and is being rapidly extended.

THE MINERAL WATERS

If health is the object sought, the spring waters are invaluable in alterative, eliminative, and blood building qualities. The Iron Manganese water is effective for ailments arising from impure or impoverished blood. This water and the Lithias stimulate the kidneys and eliminate uric acid. Prompt relief is found for rheumatism and the several stages of kidney and bladder troubles. Springs of the Soda-Bicarb and Saline-Sulphur types relieve ordinary attacks of indigestion, catarrhal conditions, dyspepsia, constipation and other ills caused by a torpid liver.

THE BATHS

Excellently equipped bathing establishments using the required waters aid materially in bringing about a return to perfect health. Two sanitariums are in service with trained corps of attendants.

HOW YOU MAY LIVE

Two hundred hotels, apartment or boarding houses and innumerable cottages provide accommodations suited to every pocket book. All these establishments are immediately accessible to the mineral springs.

Promoter Gleason Talks of Jeffries-Johnson Fight. Baseball. Athletics

GLEASON ASSURES AN HONEST FIGHT

Promoter Says the Jeff-Johnson Bout Will Be Fought on the Square.

GRANEY GETS REVENGE.

Referee Declares He Came East to Kill Coffroth's Chances and Succeeded.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—"The Jeff-Johnson fight will be absolutely on the square," said Promoter Gleason today. "The men are not under a 'pull' to guarantee a certain number of spectacular rounds for the picture machine, but they will go in to fight from the first sound of the gong. Jeffries is too bitter towards Johnson to agree to any stall, and I'll miss my guess if he doesn't try to knock off the negro's block as quickly as possible.

"No, we do not know who will take the pictures of the fight, and we haven't received any offers from a so-called syndicate or other independent concerns. That can be arranged later. Rickard and I have nothing to do with that end of it, for Jeffries and Johnson own the picture privilege between them and must make their own arrangements.

"There is no fake about this affair. I want to make that plain because I have a record for square dealing, which must be maintained.

Wanted No Trouble.

"Why did we sign the articles of agreement behind closed doors? Simply to avoid trouble and delay. Do you think we would have reached a secret understanding of some kind in such a spectacular manner if we had anything to conceal from the public? Why, we could have fixed up such things in private, right here in New York City, without sending for reporters to wait outside. Rickard and I can put up the entire purse of $101,000 now if the fighters are uneasy, for we've got the coin and we don't need any outside assistance. The fight will be on the square, and the gate receipts will exceed $150 000."

Eddie Graney of San Francisco was grumbling today, and said: "I came east just to kill Coffroth's chances of getting the fight, and I succeeded. Is he in? You can bet your life he is not. He's a dead one in California, especially in 'Frisco."

Coffroth, who is thinking of taking the Johnson-Ketchel fight pictures to Europe, laughed when he heard of Graney's remarks.

"Graney Never Had Chance."

"Graney never had a chance to land the fight," he said. "He hasn't a dollar, but he just wanted to horn in, possibly as referee. Four years ago I predicted Graney never would referee another big fight in California and I spoke by the card. He couldn't referee a dog fight, for that matter."

Coffroth still insists that he is not interested even indirectly in the big fight and says he is glad he did not secure it. But he cannot convince everybody that he is not counting the cards under the table. Coffroth's telegram last Wednesday to San Francisco before the fighters had accepted the best bid to the effect that the Rickard-Gleason offer had landed the mill is a matter of record.

RETURN FROM FIGHT MEETING.

McCarey, Callahan, Houseman, and Frazee Back from East—Promoter Sorry He Lost Out.

Promoter Tom McCarey, unsuccessful bidder for the Jeffries-Johnson fight, Lou Houseman, who acted as master of ceremonies at the signing of the articles, Harry Frazee, who has the contract for Jeff's present tour, and Jimmy Callahan, who has a financial interest with Frazee in some of the big fellow's appearances, all returned from the east yesterday with a fund of anecdotes and facts concerning the opening and awarding of bids for the battle of next July.

According to the Jeffries entourage, the story that an agreement has been made to split the purse at a secret meeting between Jeffries and Johnson arose from the fact that Johnson did broach such a proposition to Jeffries, which the latter turned down, demanding a winner's and loser's end. The reason advanced is that Johnson either is weakening in his confidence, or that he wished to create such an impression in the Jeffries camp.

Jeff now is signed up for a series of one night stands with his company, which includes Sam Berger, his sparring partner, and Frank Gotch, wrestling champion. The show is said to be reaping a harvest of dollars for the two celebrities. Chicago tentatively is booked for the night of Jan. 1.

McCarey, who still thinks he made the best bid for the big fight, did not remain long in Chicago, leaving at night for Los Angeles. He discounted the story that animosity between himself and Jeffries as a result of rival fistic clubs in Los Angeles prompted the rejection of his bid.

"Jeffries and I are good friends, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. I was disappointed, bitterly disappointed, that my bid was not accepted, as I think it was the best. Probably there are reasons which could be explained to me satisfactorily why Rickard and Gleason secured the bout. Anyway, I'm not in the sorehead class."

FIGHT PERMIT UP TO BOARD.

Hearing of Petition to Revoke Coffroth's License Postponed Until Promoter Arrives from East.

REDWOOD Cal. Dec. 6.—A petition to revoke the fight permit of James W. Coffroth, the promoter who conducts an arena just over the line from San Francisco, came up to day before the board of supervisors of San Mateo county. On the representation of Coffroth's attorney that the promoter was in New York, where he had attended the Jeffries-Johnson conference, the hearing went over until the next meeting of the board, Dec. 20. The arena in question probably will be the scene of the Jeffries-Johnson battle next July unless Coffroth's permit is revoked.

SULLIVAN TO HOLD THE COIN.

New York State Senator Selected as Permanent Stakeholder for Jeffries-Johnson Match.

New York, Dec. 6.—State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan, better known as "Big Tim," was today appointed permanent stakeholder for the Jeffries-Johnson match. All the forfeit money, amounting to $40,000, has been deposited with Sullivan by the consent of all the interested parties.

DELMONT OUTPOINTS MACKEY.

Cleveland Boxer's Clever Infighting Is Offset by Left Hand Punches in Bout at Boston.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Biz Mackey, the Cleveland feather weight, was clearly outpointed by Al Delmont in one of the fastest twelve round bouts held here this winter at the National A. C. tonight. Mackey was always willing to get in close and bang away, but Delmont's almost perfect left hand more than offset whatever advantage Mackey may have had at the infighting. After the bout it was announced that Mackey had sustained a severe injury to the ribs during training, but preferred to box rather than break faith with the club.

PLAN BOUTS FOR MILWAUKEE.

Badger Athletic Club to Stage No-Decision and No-Purse Contests in Near Future.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 6.—Boxing under restricted conditions, patterned after the Philadelphia no decision contests, will be staged in Milwaukee in the near future. The Badger Athletic club is behind the movement to bill a show within a month at the Hippodrome and there will be no purses and no decisions, the promoters endeavoring to live up to the letter of the law. Business men here have been clamoring for the revival of the sport as well as thousands of fight fans. City officials favor the sport if it is conducted under these conditions.

Grosse Team Winner.

The Grosse team defeated the Wicker Park indoor baseball team at Association house last night, 4 to 1.

Y. M. C. A. Pitcher Sets a New Record.

GEORGE SPINK.

Striking out twenty-seven men and not allowing a hit enabled George Spink, the Central Y. M. C. A., indoor baseball pitcher, to establish a new record for Y. M. C. A. indoor baseball games. The record was made in the game between the Centrals and the Evanston team on Saturday night, Spink pitching in great form. His opponents were shut out, and the twirler's record would have been perfect had he not allowed three bases on balls.

ABE ATTEL GIVEN DECISION

Champ Awarded Verdict in Fight with White in Memphis.

POOR START BY CHICAGOAN.

Local Boy Loses Nerve in Early Rounds, but Improves Later.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Abe Attel, the featherweight champion, was awarded the decision by Referee Dave Barry over Charlie White of Chicago in an eight round bout here tonight.

White appeared in the ring with a bad case of stage fright which he carried until the sixth round, when he loosened up and possibly had a slight advantage over Attel for the last three rounds.

Attel spent the first five rounds chasing White around the ring and smiling at the press box. With the exception of the last three rounds the fight was slow, neither showing much exertion. White landed the most blows at long range fighting and sent several rights and lefts to the champion's mouth and jaw, bringing blood.

After the fight Attel said: "I couldn't knock him out; whenever he was close enough to hit he was hanging around my neck."

Promoter Takes French Leave.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—President Early of the Anchor club, which held the alleged fake fight between Mike "Twin" Sullivan and Jimmy Wardner last week, has skipped town with the entire proceeds of $1,600. He only paid the fighters.

MOTOR FORCES TO COLLIDE.

Rival Factions of Chicago Club to Train "Votive" Speed on Ballot Box Tonight.

A lively campaign culminates tonight with the annual election of the Chicago Motor club, which takes place at the New Southern hotel, when the members of the organization will vote on the two tickets placed in the field by the nominating committee.

The fight for the presidency was settled last week when N. H. Van Sicklen Sr., the nominee of ticket No. 2, withdrew in favor of David Beecroft, but there is considerable friendly rivalry for the other offices. Ticket No. 1 is running Mr. Beecroft for president, Thomas J. Hay for first vice president, A. J. Banta for second vice president, Harry T. Clinton for treasurer, Frank H. Trego for secretary, and C. G. Sinsabough, G. W. Stiger, F. E. Sparks, and O. G. Temme for directors, while ticket No. 2 offers Frank Martin for first vice president, Louis Geyler for second vice president, C. A. Tilt for secretary, F. A. Case for treasurer, and Charles E. Gregory, E. A. Hearne, Joseph Deibler, J. P. Frisby, and E. Q. Cordner for directors.

Ticket No. 1, with true political diplomacy, has drafted a platform which promises several reforms for the Motor club in case it gets into power. It agrees to work for a reduction of club dues from $12 a year to $5, to hire some one to recruit the membership, to enlarge the club quarters, to endeavor to make the club a factor in securing more favorable motoring legislation, and to secure cooperation of the different clubs in the state for the promotion of good roads.

CUE MEN TO MEET ALL COMERS.

Demarest, Cline, and Cutler to Play All Who Wish to Meet Them in San Francisco During January.

New York, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Calvin Demarest of Chicago, who recently won the world's professional championship at 18-2 balk line billiards, and Albert G. Cutler of Boston and Harry Cline of Philadelphia, two of Demarest's unsuccessful competitors, will meet all comers in San Francisco during January. Alfred de Oro, the three cushion champion, will accompany them.

KLING LEADS IN POOL MATCH.

Defeats Bennie Allen, His Nephew, in Second Night's Play, 97-35, with Advantage of 76 Balls.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Johnny Kling, the former holder of the world's championship title, defeated Bennie Allen in the second block of the 1,000 point match tonight by the score of 97 to 35. Kling now has a lead of seventy-six balls over his young nephew. The score for the two games is 202 to 126.

At the Billiard Halls.

At Schaefer's—Samuels [38] defeated Rockwell [30], 38 to 30.

At Weeghman's—Wessling [50] defeated Williams [44], 50 to 35.

At Bensinger's—Brown [220] defeated Barrett [180] by 220 to 153 at 18-2 billiards.

At Mussey's—Krulewich [50] defeated Lauben [48], 50 to 30. Tonight, White and Metcalf.

At Hicks'—Daniels [48] defeated Burfeind [44], 48 to 40. Tonight, Shields [50] and Strong [50].

At Foley's—Ballard [30] defeated Van Haftsen [28], 30 to 28, at three cushions. Tonight, B. Hughes [21] and Murray [20].

At Union Printers' club—In 14-8 billiard tourney McGowan and Oschger are tied for first place with five won; Alouist is third with four and one; Snow fourth, three and one; and Mungovan fifth, four and two.

At Hemmer's—In Commonwealth Edison company pool tourney Winterbie defeated Koblens, 50 to 35; Eaton defeated Powell, 50 to 31; North defeated Preussner, 50 to 41; Larson defeated Genn, 50 to 30. In state pool tourney Demarest defeated Hodgus, 150 to 80.

JOHNSON ADHERES TO 154 GAME PLAN

American League Boss Says His Organization Will Not Extend Season.

MAY MEAN A CONFLICT.

Lengthening of Schedule of Older Ranks Might Result in Increased Friction.

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

Despite the fact that a majority of the National league magnates are reported as committed to a 168 schedule for next season, President Ban Johnson of the American league declared yesterday that the younger organization would adhere to the present 154 game plan.

According to Mr. Johnson the matter is not likely to be discussed, as he favors a shorter rather than a longer season of play. On the other hand, the National league is not unlikely to extend its season up to and including Oct. 15, the date to which players' salaries extend. Such a move of necessity would postpone the world's series until after that time, and might increase the friction between the two leagues, roused by President Johnson's declaration that the American league would not be represented on the national commission if John M. Ward were elected president of the National league to succeed Heydler.

Murphy Silent on Election.

This possible complication was the only discordant note sounded in interleague quarters yesterday, since the election of a league president is a subject tabooed in President Murphy's offices. The latter is spending part of his time these days in codifying suggestions for changes in the playing rules and government of the game, eleven separate subjects being covered to date.

Mr. Murphy will suggest that in the case of drafted players it be necessary to secure waivers from all clubs in both leagues, the same as with purchased players, instead of only from the clubs in the league with club asking waiver, as at present. His argument is that players often are sent back to the minors who might secure a permanent berth in the majors if both leagues instead of only one had an opportunity to secure the services.

The Cub boss also is an advocate of longer meetings as opposed to the short session contemplated by the American league.

Wants Longer Session.

"Four or five days or even a week is none too long for a meeting," said the president of the city champions. "Legislating for the ball players of a nation of 80,000,000 people should require more time than it does. Rules should be codified and simplified and all ambiguities removed. As it is now, league presidents call their umpires together before a season and interpret the rules. The joint rules committee should so draw its rules that interpretation would not be necessary. We go down there for work, not for a good time."

Anent the league presidency, only this from Mr. Murphy: "I don't know who will be elected president. The Chicago club will bow to the will of the majority."

With the situation still tense between the Heydler and anti-Heydler forces, and the talk of "compromise candidates" beginning to appear, the name of Martin Hutchens cropped out yesterday as the Chicago newspaper man whose name was reported to have been mentioned in a recent Cincinnati conference. At his residence in Hinsdale last night, Mr Hutchens said he was in no sense a candidate and could account for the use of his name only as an outburst of the enthusiasm of Cincinnati friends and his long interest in baseball as a fan, which dates back to playing days at Hamilton college some twenty years ago.

Tells Story Over Again.

Jerry Ettinger, trainer of the Washington baseball club, reached the city yesterday and again told the story of the alleged stealing of opposition battery signals by the Highlanders at New York, adding that former Manager Joe Cantillon of Washington would demand an investigation of these charges and also an exoneration of charges of his disloyalty to the American league.

Treasurer Fredericks of the White Sox returned yesterday from Denver and will remain here until time to start for California. The deal for a purchase of the Denver team by Louis Comiskey fell through because only a half interest in the club could be secured.

President Comiskey and Ban Johnson left last night for St. Louis, where they will board the boat White Sox this morning for several days' hunting, returning in time to leave next Sunday for the session of magnates in New York.

Correction of the official batting average of the American league was announced, giving Ty Cobb nine home runs instead of seven, and thirty-three two base hits instead of thirty-five.

Al Tearney, new president of the Three Eyes league, said he would open an office in the Corn Exchange Bank building on Jan. 1, when the official documents and papers of the league will be turned over to him.

EVERS' NINE POUNDS "BIG SIX."

Mathewson, Chase, and Complement of Minor Leaguers Badly Beaten at Indoor Ball at Troy.

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Christy Mathewson, Hal Chase, and an aggregation of minor league players essayed to play indoor baseball with Johnny Evers' nine at the State armory tonight and were defeated, 13 to 1.

"Big Six" on entering the box was given a great reception, and started by making a brilliant catch of Evers' fly. The crowd yelled itself hoarse, but thereafter Matty was wild and ineffective. In the first and second innings ten hits and three bases on balls gave the Trojans eight runs. The ball was too clumsy for Matty to handle, and he retired in the sixth in favor of Doescher. Chase pitched the eighth inning.

Johnny Evers outshone the other big leaguers, showing he is at home at the indoor game. "Chic" Robertaille, the former Pittsburg twirler, allowed the visitors eight scattered hits.

FIGHT OVER PITCHER TORREY.

President Brush of Giants and Boss Herrmann of Cincinnati Both Claim His Services.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—To whom does Pitcher Torrey formerly of the Logan Squares of Chicago, belong? President Brush says he belongs to New York, having paid President Kinsella of the Springfield (Ill.) club $4 000 for the twirler. Then President Herrmann, who says he belongs to the Reds, got him for nothing, and says he's going to fight to keep him here. The case will be important, coming before the meeting of the National league this year. President Herrmann has had transcripts of all the papers in the case made and says he feels sure he can keep Torrey in Cincinnati for next year.

CLARKE SAFE FOR THE PIRATES.

Barney Dreyfuss Says Manager Will Return to Lead Team During Season of 1910.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburg baseball club, today made the positive announcement that Fred Clarke would direct the play of the Pirates in the 1910 National league campaign. This was news to the fans, who thought the Kansas farmer would retire as he threatened to do after the Buccaneers had landed a pennant for Forbes field. "When Clarke and I parted last fall," said Dreyfuss, "he told me he would be back in the spring, and that's enough for me. He will lead the team next year."

James A. Hart's Case Favorable.

James A. Hart, former president of the Cubs, was reported as resting comfortably at the German hospital last night following an operation for appendicitis Saturday.

O'Leary Signs Detroit Contract.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 6.—Charles O'Leary, utility player with the Detroit American league baseball club, today signed a contract for next year.

BROAD USES SLEEP PRODUCER.

Victor, After Being Floored for Count of Nine, Comes Back and Knocks Out Corbett in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—After being knocked down for a count of nine in the second round of a six round bout at the New Philadelphia A. C. tonight, Young Kid Broad came back strong and defeated Fred Corbett. The bout was fast and Broad finished strong. Corbett received a bad cut under the eye. Jack Reid of Toledo knocked out Hugh McCann of Pittsburg in the fourth.

BIG MEAL COSTLY TO RIDER

Shirley of British-French Team Loses Seven Laps as Result.

ENTHUSIAST DROPS DEAD.

Spectator Succumbs to Weak Heart During Exciting Sprint.

New York, Dec. 7.—An indiscretion in diet cost Shirley of the British-French team seven more laps in the six day bicycle race at Madison Square garden. He came on the track heavy from a hearty meal at the same time as Vanoni, who proceeded to cut out such a pace that the other riders in following him lapped Shirley repeatedly.

The riders kept consistently at a pace which slowly netted them fractional gains over their performance a year ago for the corresponding number of hours. The galleries were filled with enthusiasts and the smoke was so thick that some of the riders wore goggles. One spectator with a weak heart dropped dead from excitement during a sprint.

Root and Fogler were given oxygen by their trainers at each interval of relief, just before going on the track. Oxygen has not hitherto been tried in long distance contests. However, the stimulant seemed to agree with both.

Germain relieved Shirley and made a game effort to win back the lost laps, but at 11:54 the team was retired with a score of 488 miles 9 laps, Shirley's indigestion not permitting him to go on again. Germain was given four hours in which to find a partner.

The first team to collapse was made up of George Wiley of Syracuse and Peter Drobach of Boston. Wiley dislocated his right shoulder in a smashup and was carried to his quarters. His teammate, Drobach, remained on the track for over two hours, but the strain was too great for him and the team officially was declared out of the race.

Patrick Logan of Boston, who is paired with Walter Bardgett of Buffalo, was thrown over the handle bars of his machine in a sprint during the twelfth hour. His right shoulder was broken and he had to be carried to his quarters.

During the twenty-fifth hour Stol led a wild scramble to steal a lap. At the end of the sprint it was found that Carapezzi had been lapped eleven times, while the Georget brothers, Anderson and Vanoni, and Hill and Stein lost one lap each. Carapezzi's partner, Cuniolo, was unable to resume and Germain decided to remain in the race and take his place.

The score at 2 o'clock this morning at the end of the twenty-sixth hour was:

	Miles.	Laps.		Miles.	Laps.
M'Farl'd-Clark	553	9	Cameron-Creus	553	9
Rutt-Stol	553	9	Halst'd-Law'ce	553	9
Root-Fogler	553	9	Hill-Stein	553	8
Lawz'n-Demara	553	9	Pye-Hehir	553	9
Walth'r-Collins	553	9	Galvin-Keeg'n	553	9
Ander'n-Vanoni	553	8	Georget-G'get	553	8
Mitten-West	553	9	Germ'n-Ca'p'zi	552	2

The record is 532 miles 4 laps, made in 1908 by McFarland and Moran.

TURF BOARD TO MEET TODAY.

Appeals Committee of American Trotting Association Will Listen to a Number of Cases.

The board of appeals of the American Trotting association will meet this morning at 10 o'clock in the Auditorium. The members who arrived last night were N. J. Colman, St. Louis, Mo.; T. H. Gill, Milwaukee, Wis.; W. P. Ijams, Terre Haute, Ind.; J. C. Linneman, Lima, O.; G. H. Madden, Mendota, Ill.; F. T. Moran, Detroit, Mich. A number of appeals from western horsemen will be heard.

BELMONT BUYS THREE MARES.

New York Turfman Purchases Trio, Daughters of Hanover, from H. M. Ziegler in Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—August Belmont today bought Retained II., Pocketpiece, and Dissembler, all daughters of Hanover, from Henry M. Ziegler. The mares went to Nursery stud this afternoon.

Sewell, Heavily Played, Makes a Poor Showing in Oakland Feature Race, Won by Perjuicio.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 6.—The weather was cold and rainy at Emeryville today, but racing on a sloppy track proved interesting. In the Mayfield handicap Perjuicio raced Cloudlight into submission and won easily from Palo Alto. Sewell, the heavily played favorite, made a poor showing. Boggs came back after his victory in the handicap on Saturday and added another purse to the credit of the Keene stable, beating Rosevale in the third. Garrity and Dunlap left today for Juarez with their horses. Jockey Archibald accompanied them. F. Neugent broke his leg in the fourth race and was destroyed. Summaries:

First race, 11-16 mile—Creston, 107 [C. H. Miller], 7 to 2, won; Gossiper II., 112 [Vandusan], 6 to 1, second; Ben Stone, 112 [Rettig], 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:09. Ampedo, Burning Bush, Aristotle, Rendoudo, and Ore ran.

Second race, Futurity course—Judge Quinn, 110 [Sullivan], 7 to 5, won; Meltondale, 102 [Seldon], 15 to 1, second; Alder Gulch, 102 [Walsh], 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:11 3-5. Goodship, Sainotta, Contra Costa, Elodia B., Cian, and Calopus ran.

Third race, 1 mile—Boggs, 109 [Mentry], 7 to 2, won; Rosevale, 102 [Walsh], 7 to 5, second; Round and Round, 104 [E. Martin], 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:42 1-5. Lewiston, Jim Gaffney, and Binocular ran.

Fourth race, ¾ mile—Mayfield handicap—Perjuicio, 102 [Walsh], 6 to 1, won; Palo Alto, 90 [Callaghan], 30 to 1, second; Fernando, 107 [Coburn], 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:14 1-5. Cloudlight, Sewell, and F. Neugent ran.

Fifth race, 1¼ miles—Merlingo, 112 [Mentry], 11 to 5, won; Ed Ball, 109 [Denny], 7 to 2, second; Convent Belle, 104 [Selden], 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:56 2-5. Legates, Charley Paine, Flavigny, and Nasmerito ran.

Sixth race, ¾ mile—Grace G., 109 [Sullivan], even, won; May Sutton, 109 [Rettig], 14 to 5, second; Deneen, 109 [Cotton], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:29. Silver Line and Orilene ran.

JACKSONVILLE RACE RESULTS.

First race, ¾ mile—Saraband, 109 [Troxler], 8 to 1, won; Miss Sly, 109 [Obert], 8 to 1, second; Horicon, 112 [Butwell], 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 4-5. Herdsman, Our Nugget, Amyl, Top Notch, Lorimar, and Kenneth B ran.

Second race, ¾ mile—Polls, 104 [Howard], 4 to 5, won; Banives, 106 [G. Burns], 7 to 2, second; Anavri, 100 [Powers], 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:20. Indian Maid, Sager, Fulfill, and Ten Paces ran.

Third race, ¾ mile—Ben Double, 111 [Howard], 1 to 6, won; De Kalb, 108 [Hyland], 12 to 1, second; Croyden, 103 [Obert], 60 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 2-5. Youthful, Westbury, Ceremonious, and Hym Wolf ran.

Fourth race, 11-16 mile—Jack Parker, 108 [Powers], 2 to 1, won; Centre Shot, 114 [Obert], 6 to 5, second; Achieve, 97 [O. Fain], 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:08. Jack Nunnally and Hoffman ran.

Fifth race, 1 mile—Acrobat, 112 [Butwell], 13 to 5, won; Silverine, 102 [G. Burns], 6 to 1, second; Cablegram, 109 [Musgrave], 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:42 1-5. Wingohocking, Eldorado, and Pimpante ran.

Sixth race, 1 mile—Hoyle, 105 [Musgrave], 3 to 2, won; Ballot Box, 100 [Powers], 8 to 5, second; Arrowswift, 100 [Harty], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:43 1-5. Throckmorton, Admonish, Point Lace, Woolspun, and C. Clamm ran.

TAMPA RACE RESULTS.

Tampa, Fla., Dec. 6.—Today's offering at the Tampa bay track was one of the best of the current meeting. Summaries:

First race, 11-16 mile—Uncle Jim, 4 to 1, won; Lottie Darr, 8 to 5, second; Bannock Bob, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:11 2-5.

Second race, 11-16 mile—Grenade, 8 to 1, won; E. T. Shipp, 11 to 20, second; Caltha, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:11 2-5.

Third race, ¾ mile—Forex, 8 to 5, won; Howdy Howdy, 6 to 5, second; Capt. Glore, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:19 2-5.

Fourth race, ¾ mile—Melissa, 11 to 5, won; T. M. Green, 8 to 2, second; Hans, 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:18.

Fifth race, 1 mile—Conville, 13 to 5, won; Judge Dundon, 12 to 1, second; Dunvegan, 11 to 5, third. Time, 1:49 2-5.

Sixth race, 1 mile—Mrs. Sewell, 2 to 1, won; Sir Walter Rollins, 5 to 2, second; Silverado, 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:49 3-5.

SKATERS ELECT E. G. WESTLAKE

Local Man Chosen as Head of Western Skating Association—Club Dues Are Increased.

The Western Skating association's annual election was held in the Masonic temple last night, Edward G. Westlake being chosen for president after Joseph T. Keene, one of the nominees, withdrew his name. Following is the winning ticket:

President—Edward G. Westlake.

First vice president—Peter B. Olsen.

Second vice president—Dr. R. A. Norris.

Secretary-treasurer—Julian T. Fitzgerald.

Board of control—Phil Lauth, W. H. Patterson, Frank Kalteux, S. Hussby, Nestor Johnson, Joe Marshall, E. G. Sturm, Dr. George K. Herman, Stewart Garner, and Frank Welch.

In the annual meeting that followed the election it was reported that the proposition to increase the dues by a constitutional amendment had carried by a large majority. The meeting decided to hold monthly gatherings of the members and set the first Monday in each month for the meetings.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

TICKEROSIS.

With palsied fin he claws the tape
As from the globe it makes escape;
His wat'ry eyes the figures scan.
What mean they to this broken man?
He meets each figure as it falls
With gulp or chuckle as it 'calls
The mind bet that is lost or won
As 'neath his gaze the fractions run.
There he stands from day to day
Without one copper cent in play.
He's dusted out at market's close
Somewhere—somehow—to find repose.
Next morning finds him in his place,
Still bent on that one bootless chase
For consolation and surcease
Of the rude prods of the police.
Some day they'll miss this man. And then?
They'll say: "Poor Bill! We knew him when——"

After all, we haven't lost Doc Williams of Minnesota.

As is quite natural, Jeffries indignantly denies the story of his collusion with Johnson as to the even splitting of the purse. Still it may be argued that if they haven't made such an arrangement they are quite foolish. It is not good business to have keen competition where great amounts are involved.

The horse show poster depicting a young woman with a poke bonnet about to plant a chaste salute on the velvet muzzle of an idealized horse with standing martingales is artistic all right enough, but we are moved to take a fall out of the malaprop who gave it the caption, "Where Thoroughbreds Meet." Not doubting the pedigree of the young lady in the picture, but she sha'n't meet up with any equine "thoroughbreds" at this horse show, or any other horse show, because there are no classes for thoroughbreds. Captious and pedantic if you will, but strictly on the level. "Thoroughbred" is specific. It applies only to a particular kind of horse, whose star, alas, is now in apogee, er, in technical words, on the blink.

Referring to a recent comparison which was intended to be extravagant, a Dubuque critic calls our attention to the fact that a catfish has no scales. This corelatively crabs our pet simile about the feathers on a bulldog. It is hard to get anything over while so many smart gazimboes are looking.

A WHATODY?

If we do right—
If two wrongs will not make a right,
And it's wrong to bet and wrong to fight,
It's up to Jeff to just lay down
And give the coon the white man's crown.
If we do wrong—
Our strain of blood says nix to this,
And, right or wrong, says nix it is;
No matter what the preachers teach,
The white man's host think Jeff's a peach,
And it's up to him to save the race
By one good fight—then pray for grace.
E. P. S.

While the morbid baseball fan is resting he might as well ruminate on the probable personnel of President Comiskey's discards, starting, of course, with Isbell and Davis.

Won't those meddlesome highbrows give Uncle Joe a chance to read copy on his Danville baseball team?

Yes, a match between Calvin Demarest and Willie Hoppe should be the most engaging billiard proposition that could be shuffled up at this time, but talking about it doesn't land you anywhere. Hoppe does not work for "the factory," and is, therefore, to all intents of purposes an "outlaw," with whom our Calvin, under his contract, must not associate.

According to special reports el pastore of El Paso can "holler their heads off" about the game at Juarez without accomplishing much. The Juarez racing junta has assumed the garb of a Mexican institution town. It is heeled largely by Señor Terrazzas and Señor Creel, who own most everything between the Rio Grande and Chapultepec and are snugly ensconced on the hip of El Presidente Diaz, who, it is said, has an answer prepared for the state department should Washington be moved to make any suggestions.

Jock Frost is here wi' us at last,
So let us has a tastin';
We'll tak a drappie and forget
The precious time we're wastin'.
O, blessin's on the sonsie caud,
Wi' snaw an' winds a-skirlin'.
Awa' wi' a' yer gowfin' sticks!
This is the time for curlin'.

COLD SNAP HELPS BOWLERS

Cortland Team Sets New Mark in the Jefferson League.

REACHES HIGH MARK, 1,051.

Rogers Park Five Averages 974 in Bryn Mawr Tournament.

Cold weather caused a heavy drop in ten pins last night all over the city, some of the league records being broken. The Jefferson league saw a new team mark of 1,051, with an average of 982 flat, the Cortlands putting up the big work and winning a straight series from Hansen's Colts. Thurkow led with 207 2-3, with Schreiber counting 204 2-3. Rogers Parks averaged 974 flat in the Bryn Mawr league, and downed the Reliables three games, Lelliger and Heine putting in the big series.

The Windy City league leaders met at Stehno's, and the home team won the odd game from the Rossows, giving the Stehnos a two-game lead over their rivals. The middle game was lost to the visiting team by one pin. Other features of the night were the 1,008 game of the Hoverka team, the 1,004 count of "Bill" Hall's Oak Parks in the West Side Club league, and averages of 218 2-3 by Peterson in the Zimmerman league, George Eggars' 218 2-3 in the Lincoln, and Kuhrt's 216 2-3 in the Northwest league. Scores:

SAY IOWA BOARD IS NARROW

Athletic Policy Too Restricted, Is Charge by Students.

MANY STAR MEN ARE LOST.

Opinion Voiced One Man Directorate Would Prove Beneficial.

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Iowa university students have "jumped on" the Iowa board in control of athletics, alleging that the board's "policy"—whatever that may be—is responsible for the loss of athletic honors, and the flight of crack athletes to other institutions.

Merle Alderman of Marion, Ia., president of the sophomore class, president of the Freshman Athletic association last year, and crack weight man at Iowa, has issued a statement that is a practical "defi" to the board.

He makes the above allegations, and declares that the unfortunate coaches at Iowa have been compelled to bear the blame for bad seasons in athletics, when, as a matter of fact, the "policy" of the board is responsible.

Prof. A. G. Smith, president of the board, he avers, publicly objected to the organized effort to induce athletes to come to S. U. I. Iowa athletic circles, he says, already have lost Curry, a good quarter back; Fife, the pole vaulter; Rogers, a hurdler; Moorhead, the Ida Grove star sprinter; and Stiles and Welch, Des Moines gridiron stars.

Alderman contends that the students demand a one man directorate, like Chicago's and Wisconsin's, a liberal policy toward athletes, an employment bureau for athletes, as well as for students at large (who now have one), and a voice in management, through an athletic association.

HYDE PARK WINS BY A RALLY.

White and Blue Five Outplays South Chicago in Postponed Game in Cook County League.

Hyde Park basket ball team defeated South Chicago in the former's gymnasium yesterday afternoon in a postponed game from last Friday in the Cook County High School league. South Chicago had the game well in hand at the close of the initial period, which closed 16 to 10 in its favor. Brilliant work by Rayfield, Miller, and Pollack in the second period prevented a defeat and Hyde Park forged to the front rapidly, scoring eighteen points during the final session, while South Chicago was held to four counts. Lineup:

Hyde Park [28].		South Chicago [20].
Hubbard	Right forward	W. Roy
Rayfield, Pollack	Left forward	Hoff
Pollack, Miller	Center	Eberle
Murray, Smith	Right guard	Weber
Le Vene	Left guard	H. Roy

Baskets—Rayfield [6], Pollack [2], Murray, Miller [3], W. Roy [2], Hoff [3], Eberle. Free throws—Pollack [4], W. Roy [8]. Time of halves—20 minutes.

Wendell Phillips, 40; Curtis, 8.

Wendell Phillips basketball team swamped Curtis High in the first game played by the Red and Black organization this season, 40 to 8. The victors scored almost at will and at the end of the first period were leading, 23 to 3. The basket shooting of the Wendell Phillips forwards and Center De Gardiens was the feature. Lineup:

Wendell Phillips [40].		Curtis [8].
McCurdy	Right forward	Edgell, Kerr
De Jardiens	Center	Nelson, Edzell
Johnson, Glassner	Right guard	Kerr, Nelson

Baskets—McCurdy [7], Ensile [6], Des Gardiens [5], Johnson, Bixbee [2], Glassner, Ebell, Kerr. Free throws—McCurdy, Ensile [2], Kerr [4]. Referee—Moyses. Umpire—Schmid. Time of halves—15 and 20 minutes.

DIRECTOR STAGG BACK AT MIDWAY

Maroon Coach Declares Football Schedule in Chaotic Condition.

NO NEWS FOR A WEEK.

Veteran Expresses Hope That Michigan Will Return to Conference Fold.

Declaring that his schedule is as yet in a chaotic condition and that not one game of it will be ready to announce before the end of the week, Director Stagg got back to the Midway yesterday after a two weeks' sojourn at Hot Springs, Ark.

The veteran coach expressed the hope that the Michigan authorities would see their way clear to returning to the conference this year, implying, without actually saying it, that there is a good chance for a Chicago-Michigan game next fall. He flatly stated there was no chance for the two teams to meet if Michigan remains outside the pale.

As to the much discussed "Big Five," about which the Midway camp is split, Coach Stagg declared it was all news to him. He said he did not know of any movement to organize such a combination, and did not see the necessity of starting the compact himself.

Coach Stagg was looking much improved in health. He left in an extremely nervous condition, but said yesterday that he felt "bully" and ready to take up his strenuous duties of coach, this time with the winter track team.

Glad to Have Michigan Back.

"I have missed most of the discussion about Michigan," said Stagg. "Of course, we shall be glad to have the Wolverines back in the conference. It is not likely any school in the conference will offer a special invitation to Michigan to come back.

"The invitation for Michigan to return is an open one, insisting only that the conference rules be complied with by the Michigan authorities. Now, nobody can tell what the rules will be, as the result of the special meeting, if one is called, but whatever they are they will hold good for Michigan, as well as the other colleges. At Chicago we are opposed decidedly to the training table, and it seems that is the sentiment at all the other colleges in the conference. Michigan has a perfect right, of course, to insist on maintaining the table, but this will stand in the way of its reëntrance into the 'Big Eight.'

"Will Chicago play Michigan in case the latter comes back to us? That we cannot say at present any more than it can be told what the rest of our schedule will be, and that most certainly is up in the air. This much is certain, we shall not follow Minnesota's example of scheduling a game with the Wolverines as long as they refuse to be one of us. It is true that we are in a better position than last year to play Michigan, since we are not under obligations to play Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Cornell, our contracts with these three big schools having expired."

Four Games Appear Certain.

Despite Stagg's reticence on this matter, it is believed that Wisconsin and Minnesota will find places on the schedule for 1910, since the relations now existing are of the friendliest character. Two other games that sentiment is strong for are those with Northwestern and Illinois.

Basketball and swimming started yesterday under Coaches Schommer and Knudson, who were encouraged at the large squads that appeared for work in the gymnasium. Forty athletes were out for each sport.

MIDWAY DEAN FAVORS RUGBY.

Prof. F. W. Johnson in Article in the School Review Praises English Football Code.

The first protest against intercollegiate football from a professor of the University of Chicago is made by Prof. Franklin W. Johnson, dean of the University High school, in the current School Review, issued yesterday at the Midway. In the article Prof. Johnson declares that English rugby, fraught with less danger, giving more players a chance to participate and maintaining cleaner standards of morality, is superior to the American game.

"Difficulties arise from the financial mismanagement of school athletics and the low standards of sportsmanship prevailing," says the article. "One need only visit the playing fields of rugby on an afternoon of a half holiday and watch the boys at play to realize that there are standards of honesty and sportsmanship attainable which we have as yet hardly dared to hope for."

Another advantage he finds in English rugby is that it consists of games within the schools, and thus promotes a healthy rivalry, in contrast to the bitterness that exists in the interscholastic clashes in this country.

FROST SCARE HELPS BULLS

Low Temperatures in Argentina Send Wheat Values Higher.

PATTEN FIRM IS BIG BUYER.

Coarse Grains Score Small Gains; Receipts of Corn Are Larger.

Frost in Argentina was the big thing in wheat yesterday, and the reports of such low temperatures in that country this late in the season gave the bears, big and little, a big scare. In spite of the bullish sentiment created however, had it not been for enormous buying by Bartlett-Patten, who took between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 bu May, it is doubtful if the sharp advance scored would have been recorded. Longs who have been patiently carrying wheat for some time were glad of the opportunity afforded to unload their holdings and accept moderate profits. As a result the Bartlett house was enabled to buy such a big line without causing more of an advance. Marfield, Fitch, Wrenn, Barrell, Logan-Bryan, Clement-Curtis, and Lake were all heavy sellers on the advance, with holders of ups also taking profits. In spite of this selling the advance was nearly all maintained, closing figures showing net gains of 1@1⅛c.

Market Dull at Opening.

At the start prices were a shade higher with practically nothing doing. Shearson-Hammill bought a little May and forced the price of the current delivery up sharply, but sold the May. A little later Bartlett-Patten brokers started buying and took everything offered from about $1.06⅛ to $1.07⅛ for May. Profit taking eased the market a little, but there was another modest rally near the close.

Early Argentine cables gave no hint that there was anything unusual in the situation there, although Broomhall reported partial rains, and it was said to be colder. Later cables, however, came decidedly bullish, coming from different sources and reporting frosts in the south and west. All the cables were qualified by the statement that it was impossible to ascertain the damage. A year ago the latest frost was on Oct. 16.

Damage in Argentine Feared.

With possible damage to the Argentine crop a new buying incentive was injected into the market and trade broadened out materially. During the last half of the session the volume of trading was larger than for some time. At the close many of the bulls were out of their wheat, but minor shorts were also pretty well covered. The news was generally regarded as too uncertain to base any definite buying campaign on, and the majority of traders preferred to wait for confirmation of damage.

World's shipments were 12,224,000 bu, compared to 9,058,000 bu a year ago. Liverpool came ⅛@1d higher at the close and Argentine markets were reported active and excited. Rosario wheat prices were said to be 2c higher at the close. This would tend to indicate that there had been some damage.

Big Decrease at Duluth.

Duluth reported a decrease in stocks of 1,177,000 bu, about cleaning up supplies there, but big gains at Chicago, Buffalo, and on the lakes offset this and there was a gain in the visible of 1,669,000 bu. The Canadian visible increased 394,000 bu. Receipts here were 44 cars, with 51 cars promised for today. The cash markets were generally firm and kept pace with the futures. Southwest markets showed decreasing stocks. Cash sales here were 15,000 bu. Deliveries footed up 465,000 bu, sent out by Knight-McDougal and Peavey and stopped principally by Wrenn and Barrell. Primary receipts were 742,000 bu, against 830,000 bu a year ago. Northwestern receipts were small at 144 cars, against 453 cars a year ago. Snow covering was reported in Kansas and Nebraska and the colder weather was regarded as more favorable for wheat.

Corn Reflects Wheat Strength.

Corn closed ½@⅝c to ⅝c higher, the strength in wheat and comparatively light offerings being the main factors. Opening range was not much changed, but there was a fairly good class of buying, while offerings were less burdensome. Receipts are beginning to increase, 475 cars being received, with 585 cars estimated for today, but the cash demand is expected to be stimulated by the colder weather, and there is already much corn sold to go out from here this month, so that it is a question whether there will be much available for delivery. Barrell, Ware-Leland, Lamson, ReQua, Cutten, Comstock, and cash houses were fair buyers. Bartlett-Patten, A. S. White, Lake, and Stream were on the selling side. Primary arrivals were 850,000 bu, against 696,000 bu a year ago. Cash sales were 35,000 bu, with prices ¼@½c higher in the sample crowd. The visible increased 917,000 bu. World's shipments were 3,055,000 bu. Liverpool closed unchanged.

Fair Upturn in Oats Mart.

Oats were strong with other grains, and scored advances of ¼@⅝c. Offerings were light and shorts covered freely. The market was not particularly active, but there was no pressure of consequence. The visible supply decreased 6,000 bu. Cash prices were ¼@½c up, with sales of 175,000 bu. Country offerings were moderate. Receipts here were only 102 cars, with 156 cars estimated for today. Primary receipts were 349,000 bu, against 425,000 bu a year ago.

Hog Receipts Are Small.

Hog receipts were much lighter than expected and prices at the yards were 15@20c higher. This had a strengthening effect on provisions futures and prices for all deliveries closed sharply higher. Stronger cereal markets also contributed to the firmer tone. Shorts were buyers, while offerings were light. Receipts of hogs here were 24,000, or 14,000 less than the estimate, while western points had only 56,600, compared to 135,-300 a year ago. The cash trade was reported quiet. Exports last week were much lighter than a year ago. Liverpool lard and hams were 6d lower. Receipts of product here were 35 cars, with shipments of 120 cars.

Barley Sells at Advance.

Receipts of barley continued small, while the demand was good for all kinds, prices advancing 1c. Malting was quoted 57@68c, mixing 51@54c, and screenings 40@54c. Receipts were estimated at 76 cars.

Rye held steady. December closed nominally at 72c and May at 76c. No. 2 was quoted 73@75c, No. 3 68@71c, and No. 4 63@67c. Receipts were estimated at 7 cars.

Flaxseed had an advance of 2c in sympathy with the stronger northwestern markets. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.88 and No. 1 southwestern at $1.73. Receipts none. Timothy seed was quiet. March was offered at $4.00.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

Judge C. C. Kohlsaat of the United States District court yesterday issued an order to Sidmon McKie and the Capital Investment company, with offices in the Rookery building, to show cause why they should not be restrained from using board of trade continuous grain quotations. The hearing will be held on Friday, Dec. 10. The bill asking for an injunction against McKie and fourteen other defendants, officers and correspondents of the Capital Investment company, was filed by the Western Union, Postal Telegraph, Cleveland and Chicago and Milwaukee telegraph companies. It was set forth in the bill that the Capital Investment company was using and distributing board of trade quotations illegally, through about seventy-five branch offices over more than 2,200 miles of private wires. An additional and supplementary injunction was asked for restraining Sidmon McKie from reorganizing another brokerage concern to carry on the same business. This is significant, as it has been alleged that the organization under which present defendants are working has been carried on almost uninterruptedly for a number of years. McKie's company was formerly known, it is alleged, as the Central Grain and Stock exchange at about the time the board of trade began its crusade against bucket shops about 1900. Later, it is claimed that the company was reorganized as the Central Grain and Stock exchange of Hammond, and still later as the Hammond Elevator company, with offices at Hammond, Ind. The present company was organized in 1908, and has offices on the eleventh and twelfth floors of the Rookery.

Argentine news bordered on the sensational yesterday and was responsible for heavy buying in of short wheat, and also the purchase of considerable long stuff. Several cables were received reporting frost, but while it was stated damage was feared, none of the cables intimated how extensive the damage was. Slaughter had a cable saying that there had been frosts in Bahia Blanca and Buenos Aires. Later cables from Rosario said there had been frosts in the southern part of the country and that the weather was cold and unsettled. Bartlett-Patten had a Rosario cable stating that there has been frosts, but that extent of the damage was not known. Near the close Armour had a cable saying: "Fear frosts, but impossible to say if there has been much damage. Broomhall cabled late in the day: "Argentinue future market opened strong and excited, with values showing a sharp advance from Saturday. Our agent reports frost in the west and says that the market is alarmed. Reports probably exaggerated." Wheat in the southern and western part of Argentina which corresponds to some extent to our spring wheat belt was late. A year ago the frosts, which inflicted considerable damage in that country, occurred Oct. 16. Le Count's cables from San Francisco and Villa Maria in the province of Cordova were bearish.

The board of trade has established its property right in all quotations on grain and provisions originating on the board of trade, and has been sustained in its contentions by the Supreme Court of the United States. In 1900 and 1901 the board started its crusade against bucket shops, and since that time successfud suits have been brought in all the middle western states, and it has also been successful in eliminating many bucket shop systems from Kansas City to Buffalo. Under the present system, since the property right in the quotations was fully established, the telegraph companies have been given the right to disseminate the quotations over their wire systems, but are not permitted to furnish any brokerage or private concerns with quotations, without the consent of the market report committee of the board of trade. The telegraph companies distributing quotations under this arrangement thus have a direct interest in having the use of continuous quotations confined to legitimate brokers, and for this reason have a particular interest in preventing any one not given a license by the board from using the quotations. The bill for an injunction against the present defendants does not charge them with operating a bucket shop system, but asks that they be restrained from using the continuous quotations illegally.

Buying of a line of May wheat by Bartlett-Patten aggregating between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 bu gave rise to all kinds of surmises in the trade. The possibility of damage to the Argentine crop was given as the reason for the buying. In their letter to their customers last night the Bartlett house said: "As is so often the case, the unexpected happens and the Argentine frost news can certainly be regarded in that light, as it comes so late in the season. Should the damage prove to be serious, it will doubtless have a strengthening effect on prices in this country, as America might then be called upon to supply the deficiency in the amount which Argentina was expected to furnish Europe."

"A moderate demand for lard was met by realizing sales and the close was indifferent," said a provision man. "Besides the above named class of sellers there seemed to be some selling of lard by dealers who were buying ribs, and this demand for ribs made the market for them look strong; pork was neglected but firm. Bad roads were responsible for the light hog receipts, and it may take a few days to get back to normal receipts, but there is not the underlying strength to the provision deal, generally speaking, that has formerly characterized it; the demand is off and promises to stay off until prices get much lower."

Henry B. Herbert, who is chairman of the Canal association of Greater New York, and who has been one of the most earnest friends of the new Erie Canal now under construction writes in a letter to a local grain man that boats will likely pass through the improved waterway in the summer of 1913, and that 1914 ought to see the entire work finished. This enterprise promises to be a great regulator of rail rates and a great benefit to any one who grows or owns a bushel of grain.

Cash wheat here was firm relatively and in the southwest was a little higher. Stocks at Kansas City and St. Louis both showed decreases for the week, and Kansas roads are so bad that it is stated there will be practically no movement for ten days or more. Duluth wheat stocks are nearly exhausted by the heavy shipments and little wheat will be left in store there by tonight. No 1 northern was quoted there at 8c over December. Minneapolis reported No. 1 northern 2@2¼c over the current future. Winnipeg No. 1 northern was about 1c over the future. Corn here was a little stronger, about ¼@½c up, and oats were also ¼@½c up. The colder weather made a better demand for corn, but sales were reported at only 35,000 bu. Oats were in fair demand with offerings light. Cash corn at Kansas City was ½@1c up. Local shipping sales were 15,000 bu wheat, 35,000 bu corn, and 175,000 bu oats.

Deliveries of wheat yesterday were 465,000 bu delivered out by Peavey and Knight-McDougal and taken in by Barrell and Wrenn. The deliveries were the first of importance of the month and the trade is anxious to know what the effect will be. Cash men reported No. 1 northern worth ½c over December in store, and other contract grades were held at a premium. Part of the wheat delivered was No. 1 northern and part No. 2 hard. Other deliveries were 45,000 bu corn and 10,000 bu oats.

A local grain man who controls many stations said there was practically no corn moving in Nebraska and that corn at Omaha was worth as much as here, or relatively the full shipping difference between Omaha and Chicago higher than this market. One dealer in Omaha had bids for 100 cars of corn for shipment south and west for feeding purposes.

King, of Toledo wired: "Ohio December wheat condition 93, November 83, last December 60, July 77, per cent of 1909 crop sold as soon as thrashed 43, against 44 a year ago. Corn crop 120,000,000 bu, against 103,000,000 bu a year ago. Government November estimate made corn 151,-000,000 bu, against 136,000,000 bu a year ago."

Minneapolis wired. "One flour mill manager wired his customer that had flour coming that he could operate his mill this week, strike or no strike, as he had the wheat and was guaranteed the cars, but that he could get no shipping directions. He added resellers have control of the flour market."

Minneapolis advices said most of the mills there were running, but that there was little wheat on the table, and that the mills were compelled to draw on their reserve stocks. Railroad men in the northwest reported a little easier situation in regard to the strike.

Wheat supplies on ocean passage decreased 3,000,-000 bu last week, making the total 29,192,000 bu, compared with 27,808,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn supplies increased 138,000 bu and are 9,363,000 bu, compared with 11,727,000 bu last year.

Stocks of wheat at Liverpool increased 24,000 bu last week, making the total 1,584,000 bu, compared with 2,920,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Corn stocks decreased 106,000 bu and are 1,974,000 bu, compared with 796,000 bu last year.

Closing prices of wheat in foreign markets: Liverpool, spot unchanged, futures ⅛@1d higher; Paris, unchanged to ¼c higher; Antwerp, unchanged; Berlin, ¼c higher; Budapest, ⅛c lower; Buenos Aires, ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher.

Minneapolis stocks of wheat decreased 35,000 bu for two days, compared with a decrease of 75,000 bu the corresponding two days a year ago.

Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg were 726 cars, compared with 1,120 cars a week ago and 697 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were 1@1½c higher, corn 1c lower to 1½c higher, oats ⅛@1c higher, and rye ½@1c higher.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 51 cars; corn, 585 cars; oats, 156 cars; rye, 7 cars; barley, 76 cars; hogs, 20,000.

Charters were made for 150,000 bu of oats at 1¼c to Buffalo.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Light receipts and more seasonable weather had a stimulating influence on the demand for beef cattle and all of the loss sustained in prices last week was recovered. Packers and shippers paid 10@25c higher than at the close last week for plain to good beeves and cleaned up the fresh receipts of 25,000 head within a comparatively short time. The quality of the bulk of the steers was only fair and sales were largely at $7.00 @7.90, while only a moderate supply sold at higher than $8.00, although strictly prime beeves reached $9.25. Only a few loads of western steers reached the market and they were disposed of at strong prices.

Higher prices again featured the butcher stock trade and sales were made at a gain of largely 10 @25c over last week's closing figures. The demand for cows was urgent and buyers paid up to $5.00 for offerings which could not have brought within 40@50c of that figure ten days ago. Heifers also sold well and showed nearly as much advance. Canners and cutters cleared at a gain of 10@15c, and there was a strong, active market for bulls, with prime heavy bologna grades quotable up to $3.65@3.75. Calves were of mediocre quality, but met with a ready outlet at steady to firm figures. Stockers and feeders met with a more urgent inquiry from country buyers and sold at strong prices. Quotations:

Beef steers, good to choice	$6.50@9.50
Beef steers, plain to good	5.00@6.50
Yearling steers, good to prime	6.50@9.50
Exporters	6.00@7.75
Range steers	4.75@7.15
Beef cows, good to choice	3.50@5.50
Beef cows, plain to good	3.00@3.50
Fat heifers, good to choice	3.65@6.00
Canners and cutters	2.00@3.20
Calves, common to choice heavy	3.00@5.00
Good to prime veals	7.50@8.75
Feeding steers	3.50@5.15
Bulls	2.75@5.00

Cattle at six western markets, 54,100, against 67,200 a week ago, 68,000 a year ago, and 45,300 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 8,007,000, against 7,825,000 the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Hog prices reverted to the previous highest level of the year and the great bulk of the supply sold at an advance of 10@20c over last Saturday's prices. Speculators and shippers opened the market at an advance of 10c, but by the time packers got in the trade 15c higher prices were in force and many loads of packing and shipping hogs were selling at a net advance of 20c over last week's closing figures. Commission men were satisfied to accept these prices for their holdings and they unloaded on the shippers, speculators, and packers. Late in the day, after most of the supply had gone out of first hands, packers tried to force a break on speculative holdings and reduced their bids to about 10c lower than at the best time. Scalpers refused to accept these bids, however, and hogs that could not be disposed of at advanced prices were carried over unsold.

Choice heavy shipping hogs sold up to $8.60 at the outset, topping the market on the same level as on Sept. 25, the previous high day of the year. Other loads of prime heavy hogs sold at $8.30@8.55, and the bulk of the good mixed packing grades cleared at $8.15@8.35, with plain light mixed offerings at $8.00@8.10. Pigs met with a good inquiry at an advance of 10@15c. At the close salesmen found it impossible to get more than $8.45@8.50 for prime heavy hogs. Quotations:

Bulk of sales	$8.05@8.30
Mixed packing	7.80@8.15
Medium and butchers	7.90@8.25
Rough heavy	7.75@8.10
Poor to good heavy packing	7.90@8.35
Selected packing	8.15@8.35
Good to choice shipping	8.20@8.40
Lightweights	8.00@8.35
Pigs	6.50@7.80
Stags	8.00@8.60

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $8.41, against $8.22 Saturday, $8.26 a week ago, $5.58 a year ago, and $4.59 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 85,400 hogs, against 99,400 a week ago, 141,100 a year ago, and 151,900 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 21,126,000, against 25,896,000 the same period in 1908.

Average weight of hogs at Chicago last week, 218 lbs, against 224 lbs a week ago, 215 lbs a year ago, and 221 lbs two years ago.

Hog purchases for the day follow: Armour & Co., 3,500; Swift & Co., 2,200; Anglo-American, 700; Hammond, 1,100; Boyd-Lunham, 500; Boore & Co., 454; Roberts & Oake, 300; Morris & Co., 600; Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, 2,000; Western Packing Co., 900; butchers, 600; shippers, 5,000; total, 17,900; left over, 6,000.

SHEEP.

An advance oof 15@25c was paid for most of the lambs and yearlings on the market and the bulk of the sheep sold at an appreciation of 10@25c over last week's closing figures. Receipts of 21,000 head fell far short of expectations and a total clearance of the supply was effected early. Independent butchers set the pace in the market for lambs and paid up to $8.00 for prime native offerings at the outset. Packers followed this lead and paid up to even money for fancy lots, buying good to choice killers at $7.75@7.90. Loads of stock sold straight, and the avidity with which buyers bought up the supply without insisting on sorts made the market look even more than 25c higher.

Prime light yearlings were taken to make up the deficit in the supply of lambs and sold up to $7.25@ 7.35, while good heavy offerings went down to $6.75@7.00, and the plain weighty lots cleared at $6.25@6.50. Western sheep showed less gain than any other class of stock and cleared at $5.10@5.25 for wethers. Native ewes made a good gain and sold up to $5.50 for prime heavy lots, and at $4.75@ 5.00 for the good heavy killers. Native wethers made $5.25@5.75, while yearlings cleared at $6.25@ 7.00, according to weight and quality. Plain light lambs went down to $6.00@6.50, and culls sold as low as $5.00. Quotations:

Fed wethers	$4.75@5.50
Native wethers	4.75@5.75
Native ewes	3.25@5.50
Western ewes	3.85@5.00
Bucks and stags	2.25@4.00
Cull lambs	4.50@5.75
Native lambs, good to choice	7.25@8.00
Native lambs, plain to good	6.75@7.25
Fed yearlings	6.25@7.35
Fed western lambs	7.00@7.75
Feeding lambs	6.90@7.15

Receipts for Dec. 7 were estimated at 5,000 cattle, 18,000 hogs, and 15,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 7,894 cattle, 38,534 hogs, and 17,701 sheep for Tuesday, Dec. 8, 1908.

STOCKYARDS GOSSIP.

Quality of hogs on the day's market was the best of the season, there being an unusually liberal proportion of fancy hogs, weighing 250 lbs and more included in the arrivals. The average price was raised to $8.41 as a result, and stood the highest in many years, comparing with an average of $8.36 on Sept. 25, the previous high day of the year.

Packers' buyers did not seem to know who was responsible for the big bulge in hog values, and few of them made any attempt to find out, as their chief object was to get their orders filled before some one else got the hogs.

George Chandler bought hogs late in the day at $8.45 which weighed 254 lbs and were of the same class as those sold at $8.55 earlier in the day. His forces were held in check until late in the day, and his drove of 600 head was amassed at a comparatively low figure.

Harry Williams announced the arrival of a baby boy at his home Saturday and received the congratulations of his many friends.

The Farmers and Drovers' Journal's British cablegram said moderate supplies of American beeves at Liverpool met with a steady demand at unchanged prices, sales being at 10½c, and reported the London market bare of offerings.

Western range cattle which should have been here for the day's market, were said to have been held back at St. Paul by the switchmen's strike. Effects of this strike are not expected to be far reaching, as little dependence is being placed in supplies of western cattle now.

Hogs left over unsold from Saturday's market were officially counted at 3,840 head.

Average weight of hogs at Chicago last week was the lightest since the week ending June 12.

Native lambs reached $8.00 for the first time since last August.

STRAW.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Firm. Rye, $8.50@9.00; oat, $7.00@7.50; and wheat, $6.00@6.50.

BROOMCORN.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Market was firm and prices were rigidly maintained at $200.00@240.00 for all grades.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A sudden falling off in offerings of tomatoes was a feature of the trade in canned goods. Demand for supplies was not urgent, but the indifference of holders forced buyers to raise their bids for the stock they wanted. There was little change in the market for canned peas and corn. Packers were said to have little stock on hand, and the jobbers were holding their offerings with confidence at full market quotations. Beans and succotash were in moderate supply and firmly held. A brisk demand for gallon apples was the principal feature of the market for canned fruits. Cereals, spices, and minor groceries met with a good inquiry at steady to firm prices.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—Market had a firm undertone and values were sustained at a steady level. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.25@5.34; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.37; standard powdered, $5.75; extra C, $5.05; canary, $4.75; chemically pure milk sugar, 22c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—SUGAR—Raw firm; fair refining, $3.81; centrifugal, 96 test, $4.31; molasses sugar, $3.56. Refined steady; crushed, $5.85; powdered, $5.25; granulated, $5.15.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A broader demand for spot roasted coffees was expected to follow the drop in temperatures and holders were keeping offerings off the market. Receipts of green coffees at Rio were 16,000 bags; Santos, 48,000 bags.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 5 points under scattering liquidation. The close was steady at a net decline of 5@10 points. Havre closed net unchanged, but Hamburg was ¼@½pfg lower. Sales here were reported of 17,250 bags, including December at $6.40@6.45; March at $6.60; May at $6.70@6.75, and July and September at $6.80. Spot quiet; Rio No. 7, 8¼c nominal; Santos No. 4, 8⅞c. Mild quiet; Cordova, 9@11½c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A change for the better is expected to stimulate the consumptive demand for seasonable merchandise, and, although opening transactions in wholesale dry goods were of moderate volume, jobbers were looking for an improvement in the inquiry before the end of the week, and were not inclined to rush buyers by making special concessions. The market was in an especially strong position, and remarkably free from accumulations of any kind, and sellers saw no reason for uneasiness. Low prices printed goods, drills, and domestics were meeting with a broader outlet as a result of the increase made in the cost of the finer lines of cottons. Holiday novelties in silk and linen continued to meet with a good inquiry, and a satisfactory volume of business was transacted in gloves, hosiery, underwear, and neckwear.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The wholesale dry goods markets were moderately active for the day. Retailers are doing a broadening holiday trade. Dress goods lines for fall 1910 are being prepared, and the largest lines will be formally opened after the turn of the year. Raw silk is slightly higher. Cotton goods and yarns are quiet.

OLEO MAKERS UNDER ARREST.

Revenue Agents Take Two Men at 5547 Wentworth Avenue—700 Pounds of Butterine Found.

Revenue agents yesterday arrested two men whom they accuse of illegally manufacturing oleomargarine. They were taken after a fight.

The men, both of whom were found at 5547 Wentworth avenue, are David M. Hawks and Edward Parish, the latter colored.

After breaking down a door of Hawks' house the revenue men confiscated 700 pounds of oleomargarine alleged to have been illegally manufactured.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY CO.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
195 BROADWAY.

A. H. CALEF, Treasurer.

NEW YORK, N. Y. November 17, 1909.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY:

Pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Directors, adopted November 10, 1909, and subject to the approval of the Stockholders, for the purpose of securing which approval a special meeting has been called to convene January 18, 1910, the privilege will be given to stockholders of this Company to subscribe upon the terms and conditions hereinafter stated, on or before January 21, 1910, for an amount of Convertible Five Per Cent First and Refunding Mortgage Fifty-Year Gold Bonds, equal in face amount to thirty-six per cent (36%) of the par value of their respective holdings of the stock of this Company, as registered on its books, at three o'clock P. M., on December 8, 1909.

Warrants signed by the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer will be issued to stockholders as soon as possible after the closing of the books on December 8, 1909, specifying the amount of bonds for which each stockholder is entitled to subscribe. Such subscription warrants will be issued only for amounts of $500, or in multiples thereof. For each fraction of a $500 bond for which a stockholder is entitled to subscribe, a fractional warrant will be issued, which, if presented on or before January 14, 1910, with other fractional warrants aggregating $500, will be exchangeable for a subscription warrant for a $500 bond; and if the surrendered fractional warrants include a fraction in excess of $500, a new fractional warrant will be issued for such fraction.

On the back of these warrants will be two forms: The first is to be filled out and signed by the stockholders or by their assigns, in case they desire to subscribe. The second form, which is an assignment, is to be filled out and signed by the stockholders only in case they desire to dispose of their subscription privilege.

Stockholders who may wish to subscribe for a portion of the bonds covered by a warrant and dispose of the balance of the subscription privilege, or who may wish to dispose of a portion of the subscription privilege covered by the warrant to one person and the balance to another, should return their warrants to this office on or before January 14, 1910, to be split up into warrants for the desired amounts. Warrants so returned should be accompanied by a statement in writing specifying the number of warrants desired in exchange and the amount of bonds to be covered by each.

The price of subscription, payable in New York funds, is:
$950 per $1,000 bond, with accrued interest adjusted.
$475 per $500 bond, with accrued interest adjusted.

Such price will be payable at the office of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, 28 Nassau Street, New York City, in instalments as follows:

	Per $1,000 bond.	Per $500 bond.
At the time of making subscription, on or before January 21, 1910	$350	$175
On or before March 4, 1910	$300	$150
On or before April 15, 1910	$300	$150

Subscriptions may be paid for in full at the time of making subscription, on or before January 21, 1910, in which case the amount payable will be $944.44 per $1,000 bond or $472.22 per $500 bond; or, after the payment of the first instalment on or before January 21, 1910, as above provided, the remainder of the subscription may be paid in full on or before March 4, 1910, by paying $598.20 per $1,000 bond, or $299.10 per $500 bond.

Bonds will be issued with coupons maturing September 1, 1910, attached, and the foregoing payments include an adjustment of accrued interest to March 1, 1910.

The warrants must be surrendered to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, by the stockholders, or by the persons to whom assigned, on or before January 21, 1910, accompanied by the payment to said trust company, as depositary, of the first instalment; and all warrants not so surrendered with such payment on or before said date shall be void and of no value.

Failure to pay the second or third instalments when and as payable will operate as a forfeiture of all rights in respect of the subscription and the instalments previously paid.

The Guaranty Trust Company of New York will, on surrender of the warrants and payment of the first instalment, issue receipts which will be transferable by delivery and which must be presented to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York upon the payment of the second and third instalments in order that such payment may be noted thereon.

Fractions desired by stockholders to complete full bonds, or fractions which stockholders desire to dispose of, must be bought or sold in the market, as the Company will not buy or sell fractions.

Full-paid receipts for bonds will be exchangeable for the engraved bonds as soon as issued.

No subscription or assignment of this privilege will be recognized unless made on the forms of the Company.

No stockholder of the Company shall be entitled to any of the above-mentioned bonds unless the terms of subscription herein specified are fully complied with.

The subscription and respective instalment payments must be made to the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, 28 Nassau Street, New York City, at the dates and in accordance with the provisions stated above. Checks or drafts in payment of subscription must be drawn in favor of Guaranty Trust Company of New York, in New York funds, and for the exact amounts covering the respective instalments.

By order of the Board of Directors,
A. H. CALEF, Treasurer.

P. S.—A statement giving details of the First and Refunding Mortgage Fifty-year Gold Bonds and of the security therefor will be furnished upon application at the office of the Railway Company.

REACTIONARY DAY IN STOCKS

Declines in Prices Not Extensive, Yet Losses Are General.

RAIL STRIKE STILL FACTOR.

Easier Rates for Money Feature in Financial Circles.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—[Special.]—After a display of considerable strength near the opening of business the stock market became reactionary today, and while actual declines disclosed in quotations at the end of business were not extensive, yet losses were general.

Exceptions to the rule in the matter of declines were to be found in Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Rock Island preferred. In the case of Brooklyn the explanation offered was the management of the property had in view a program for the new financing which required a higher dividend on the company's stock and the higher market price for it to lend attractiveness to the real plan. The rise in Rock Island preferred brought forth no news, but in connection with the stock's advance attention was directed again to the probability of the payment of dividends upon the issue early next year, when under the terms of the stock's authorization the rate must be 5 per cent.

Strike Situation a Factor.

In spite of the fact that dispatches from points in the northwest where the strike situation is under observation were more uniformly favorable than at any time since the inception of the trouble the stocks of the roads concerned were weak. During the day there was a general discussion of the probability of an extension of the wage dispute into eastern railroad territory.

The demands for a higher wage for switchmen and others have been submitted to the managers of the trunk lines, and in such form that arbitration appears at the moment to be out of the question. Knowledge of this situation natually made for caution in the financial community, and another factor having the same influence was the announcement that President Taft intends to send in a special message to congress on railroad and other corporation affairs within ten days or so.

Money Rates Are Easier.

Both call and time money rates were easier, and it was apparent that the quotations now in effect and presumably to hold for the balance of the year are attracting much outside money. It is this inflow which is so largely offsetting the California shipments, which were renewed today to the extent of $800,000 and engagements of gold for South American destination. Over $400,000 was so engaged during the day for export to Argentina on Wednesday's steamer, and further amounts undoubtedly will be added as the week progresses. On routine transactions with the government the banks continue to lose moderately.

Money on call firm, 4@5 per cent; ruling rate, 4½; closing bid, 4½; offered at 4⅞. Time loans dull and steady; sixty days, 4¾@5 per cent, and ninety days, 4½@4¾ per cent; six months, 4½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8415@4.8420 for sixty day bills and at 4.8780 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83¾@4.84. WORK OUT NEW SUBWAY PLAN Eastern Men Favor Issuing Preferred Stock for Bonds.

AMERICAN CAN FINANCES.

Boston Reports Basis for Paying Back Dividends.

Advices from New York yesterday were to the effect that the outlines of the plans for the reorganization of the Chicago Subway company were being formulated, and that the main points would be determined within a few days.

It is understood that in the foreclosure proceedings the objects will be to dispose of the present bond issue, leaving the property free from any fixed indebtedness, so far as a reorganization plan is concerned.

It is the opinion that the leading interests in the company, being the bondholders and those who have advanced money with bonds as security, will favor an issue of preferred stock to represent the interest now represented by bonds. Roundly this would mean a preferred stock capitalization of between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 to satisfy the debts of the company. The creditors may be divided into two principal groups—the holders of the bonds of the Chicago Subway company which were taken in exchange for Illinois Tunnel bonds, and the lenders of something like $11,500,000 secured by bonds.

No Stock Assessment.

No assessment on the stock is contemplated. For the immediate needs of the company it is probable that receiver's certificates will be issued, just as is the case with any other corporation in the hands of a receiver. There is no other method of raising funds. These receiver's certificates will stand ahead of any other lien and it is understood will be taken by the present large interests in the company. Such a course would be merely a matter of self-preservation.

To Revive Telephone Franchise.

Locally there is talk that the company's telephone franchise will be revivified, and that funds will be raised to install the instruments necessary to comply with the extension ordinance which the company was granted. It is estimated that between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will be necessary for this purpose. Further expenditures are to be entailed on account of the tunnels themselves, but the entire amount required will, it is thought, be raised easily without resort to a bond issue.

J. P. Morgan & Co.

Official announcement was made by J. P. Morgan & Co. that after Jan. 1 the London house of Morgan & Co. would become Morgan, Grenfell & Co., the partners of the New York firm and of the Philadelphia house of Drexel & Co. participating in the same manner as in the Paris firm of Morgan, Harjes & Co.

American Sugar Earnings.

Earnings of the American Sugar Refining company for the first ten months of the current fiscal year indicate profits something in excess of 7 per cent on the common stock. Sales of sugar have shown a slight increase in volume, but competition has been unusually keen. The income derived from loans is expected to make the dividend.

American Can Gossip.

From Boston comes the announcement that controlling interests in the American Can company have arrived at a basis for the disposition of the accumulated dividends on the preferred stock. According to the source indicated, it is proposed to issue bonds to the amount of the dividend, which would be approximately $12,385,000. The bonds, it is asserted, will be 5 per cent debentures. After meeting the back dividend it is proposed to change the preferred from a 7 to a 5 per cent stock.

If the foregoing plan is in contemplation it was not known in Chicago a few days ago.

Financial News Notes.

It is announced that a disagreement has arisen in the board of directors of the Westinghouse company over the conduct of the British Westinghouse Electric company. The financial interests in the board who put through the new organization are opposed to the ambitions of George Westinghouse in the case of the foreign subsidiary.

There was transferred from the New York subtreasury to San Francisco $800,000 gold.

Dividends Declared.

The Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad company declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Jan. 15 to holders of record on Dec. 31.

The Union Traction company of Philadelphia declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent, payable Jan. 1 to stock of record Dec. 10.

Chicago Securities.

Illinois Brick shares were again firm on the local exchange, making a new high price of 73⅜. The buying was of the same general character that has carried the stock up from 64.

Sears-Roebuck common sold at 151. The buying was fairly liberal. Commonwealth Edison was inclined to be weak, selling at 117. Talk of sanitary district operations is credited with influencing some small shareholders.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 6.—[Special.]—Copper shares were irregular in today's market. Lake coppers were the leaders throughout. Calumet and Hecla and Tamarack also gained substantially, but the trading in both issues was light. Butte Coalition, East Butte, Utah Consolidated, La Salle, and Miami were in fair demand throughout, and fractional advances were recorded in each of them. North Butte followed the lead of Amalgamated. Fluctuations were erratic in the general list. Telephone went off 1, while Fruit gained 2½ and Massachusetts Gas a full point. New Haven railroad advanced 2¼. Call money, 5½@6 per cent; time loans, short dates, 5@6 per cent; time loans, six months, 5@6 per cent; time loans, year, 5 per cent.

CONTROLLER UPHELD BY COURT

Supreme Body Decides Official Is Agent of Government with Power to Examine Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 6.—That the controller of the currency is an agent of the government with power to examine into the affairs of national banks was decided by the Supreme court of the United States today in the case of the United States vs. John A. Corbett and others in favor of the government.

Corbett was the cashier of the First National bank of Ladysmith, Wis., and he and others of the bank were indicted on the charge of making a false entry in a report to the controller. The United States District court for the western district of Wisconsin, in which court the indictment was found, dismissed the complaint on the ground that the controller was not an examiner as contemplated by the statute. The Supreme court failed to sustain that view.

The court decision was announced by Justice White, who said the controller is an agent of the highest character.

IN THE FOREIGN STOCK MARKET.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Money was in increased demand and discount rates were easy on the market today. On the stock exchange further good investments and continental support imparted cheerfulness and consols, colonial issues, and foreign and home rails all improved. Renewed speculative attention strengthened kaffirs and copper shares, but the latter closed below the best. American securities opened a fraction higher and later improved under Wall street and professional support. At noon prices were from ¼ to a point higher than Saturday's New York closing. Sentiment continued bullish during the early afternoon on good trade forecasts and the expectation of a favorable presidential message. Near the close New York selling caused a moderate decline and the market closed dull but steady.

REAL ESTATE—FARM LANDS.

CANADA

We are instructed to sell the LAST LARGE TRACT of Western Canada land in the celebrated WINNIPEG DISTRICT, within 20 to 25 miles of Winnipeg, the great commercial and financial center—the future CHICAGO OF CANADA.

This tract contains about 15,000 acres and is crossed by THREE RAILROADS—no land more than 4 miles from a railway.

SOME PRAIRIE, SOME TIMBER LAND.

NO IRRIGATION PROJECT.

NO CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FARMING.

JUST THE OLD FASHIONED, SURE KIND

where you raise a good crop every year, and there is a man at your gate who must have it, for WHEAT is as staple as the air we breathe or the water we drink. You never knew of a better opportunity than to buy this land at $12.50 an acre; $4.00 cash, the balance in 5 years. This is the price and terms.

WE WILL TAKE an INTEREST OURSELVES. WE WANT THREE OR FOUR TO JOIN US.

LISTEN.

Don't you hear OPPORTUNITY knocking at your door?

DAVID M. McLEAN & CO.,
153-155 La Salle-st.,
Chicago, Illinois.

Land Show

lesson is, that owing to the unprecedented cost of food and clothing, the farmer is making all the money, and more of us must become producers.

Ten acres of our Rio Grande Valley, Texas Gulf Coast, lands will produce as much as a quarter section of general farm lands, thus enabling the man of small means to become a PRODUCER on a level with the rich farmer in the North.

Double Profits.

Possible to raise high priced winter vegetables between the rows of grapes, oranges, and fig trees, while the maturing groves, like an interest bearing note, gradually bring you into comfort.

Summer crops of corn, milo maize, Kaffir corn, peanuts, sorghum cane for forage, broomcorn, and the "Great White Staple" of cotton, may be taken off the same land where you had a vegetable crop the winter previous.

Write for our liberal terms, prices, sample of soil, also payments for land on crop basis plan and free water right deeded with land.

WALTER S. AYRES,
722 Postal Telegraph Bldg.,
Chicago, Ill.

FOR SALE—

A LAND STORY BOILED DOWN.

In the middle of Michigan's Fruit Belt is a tract of over 1,200 40 acre and many 5, 10, and 20 acre farms; the largest selection of the best clover and fruit lands in the state. Near good markets; best lake and rail transportation; only 170 miles from Chicago; good rainfall, trout streams, rivers, many inland lakes, health resort climate; good schools, churches, and every advantage of a settled country. Remarkable yields of fruits, staple vegetables, and good crops of anything that grows in Ill., Ind., or Iowa. Present prices of $8 to $15 and terms as low as $10 down and $5 per month are the best bargain offered in Michigan or anywhere today. Send for large map and an illustrated booklet. Join my Special Pullman Car Excursion, leaving my Chicago Offices at 11:30 a. m., Tuesday, December 7th. Round trip fare only $6; rebated if you buy.

THE CHOICEST GARDEN LANDS IN FLORIDA, TEN MINUTES FROM CITY OF TAMPA.

This is different from any colonization opportunity ever offered in Florida; choice suburban lands, approached by hard roads, near street car transportation, in the artesian water belt, for $40 an acre, in ten acre tracts. Lands can be subdivided as lots and sold at a tremendous profit. For money crops no superior land in the country. One man on the lands now taking $1,500 an acre out of celery. TAMPA BAY LAND CO., Quincy and Dearborn-sts., Chicago.

FOR SALE—KEYSTONE PARK COLONY, FLORIDA, has been sold, but we have secured an additional two thousand acres lying within the original lines of that famous tract.

By making application at once you can secure one or more of these valuable ten acre farms for $250 on terms of $10 cash and $5 a month until paid, without interest or taxes.

This is positively the last call on this property; will you let the opportunity pass?

RELIABLE

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE.

YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women employed—business men, too—we give you the fairest terms in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may EASILY BORROW on their own name and promise. We will give any new patron the same consideration we have given a host of honorable borrowers of quick and emergency money in our twelve years of the people's banking business. We are close to State-st. stores. Our interest is 6% per year. All our charges included are within the very MINIMUM WHICH YOUR PERSONALITY FIXES and consistent with justice. Straightforward and courteously we offer money to any MAN or WOMAN of honorable intention of repayment with or without security. Tel. Central 7054 or call, private offices, [also ladies' room] connected with banking room. Seventh floor, 122 Monroe-st., s. e. cor. Clark.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from loop district] and my being the president of a large manufacturing wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges for any time are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care the Englewood Co., 1101-1103 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

FOR
SALARY LOANS.

When we began business in Chicago, one year ago, we advertised that we proposed to make this the most popular salary loan office in the city, and that we would do it simply by giving a "square deal to all." We never advertised largely nor quoted rates lower than we actually charge. We made good. We have more good customers than any other lender. Our customers give us a "square deal" and send their friends to us. When you need money come to HEADQUARTERS. Not in the Money Lenders' association.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

BANKERS AND CONSERVATIVE BUSINESS MEN ARE BUYING

the stock of the Mary Verna Mining company. Why not you? The 148 mineral claims [grouped together] with several large, true fissure veins, which show plainly on the surface and extending across these different claims for a distance 4,000 to 6,000 ft., with sufficient work on surface to prove the high values of gold, lead, copper, and silver of each.

Together with equipment of modern mining machinery and 5,000 feet of tunnel work already completed, and the immense ore bodies, which are known to be only a few hundred feet ahead of the present breast of the tunnel, with officers that will give to every stockholder [whether large or small] a square deal.

Makes its stock very attractive for conservative investors, because quick returns and great profits look exceedingly good.
